Dr. Sheppard Trial Nearing Final Phase

Accused Osteopath Concludes Testimony In Cross-Examination

CLEVELAND, Dec. 14 (AP)—Dr. Samuel Sheppard's first degree murder trial in the July 4 slaying of his wife, Marilyn, neared a windup today. The case should reach the jury later in the week.

Ending cross-examination, Asst. Prosecutor John J. Mahon called the handsome, 30-year-old osteopath the murderer of his wife and Dr. Sheppard cried back "untrue . . . unfair."

"Isn't this the fact," Mahon roared at the six-foot defendant, "that you beat your wife that morning?"

Denies Killing Wife

"No, sir," Sheppard said.

"And after you killed her you rushed down to that lake and either fell on those stairs or jumped off the platform down there out to the beach and there obtained your injuries?" Mahon continued.

"That's absolutely untrue, sir, and unfair," Dr. Sheppard retorted.

Sheppard has described a bushy-haired prowler as the murder of his pregnant, 31-year-old wife. He said the stranger twice knocked him unconscious and left him sorely injured after the slaying.

The state contends Sheppard killed his wife as a climax to affairs with other women. They included an admitted illicit romance with pretty 24-year-old Susan Hayes, a former laboratory technician in his osteopathic hospital.

Dr. Sheppard's life hangs on the outcome of the trial, now in its ninth week. A first-degree guilt verdict without a recommendation of mercy would mean the electric chair.

In the final moments of cross-examination, Mahon asked Sheppard if he told the truth at last July's inquest into Marilyn's death.

"I did not tell the truth in relation to Miss Hayes," the defendant replied. He denied in July that he had been intimate with Susan.

"You mean you deliberately lied about it, Doctor?" said Mahon, his voice rising to a shout. "You can answer that yes or no, Doctor."

"I don't think that it can be fairly answered yes or no," Dr. Sheppard replied. "I felt that Miss Hayes' reputation justified that answer, sir."

Didn't Grab Weapon

Mahon stressed earlier in his second day of cross-examination that Sheppard made no effort to grab any sort of weapon at the time he claims to have heard his wife's death screams.

"I never have gone after anyone with a weapon," Sheppard said.

Suggesting that Dr. Sheppard may have washed his wife's blood from the trousers he was wearing that morning, Mahon asked:

"Doctor, what is the best way to remove blood from clothing?"

"I couldn't tell you, sir," replied Sheppard in an even voice.

"Is cold water more effective to remove blood from clothing than hot water?" Mahon continued.

"I'm certainly no authority on that, and I have never tried to remove blood from clothing, sir," Dr. Sheppard said.

Pope's Ailing Heart Concerns His Physicians

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 14 (AP) — Medical specialists held two consultations today over Pope Pius XII, who has perceptibly weakened in the last 48 hours, and decided to give him an X-ray examination Thursday—about two weeks earlier than they first planned.

Part of the X-ray equipment is already in place in the pontiff's apartment. The rest will be moved in tomorrow. Vatican sources said that, for the examination, the Pope will take the barium solution the doctors have avoided giving him in the past because of the nausea it might induce.

The Pope has again experienced difficulty in eating, as he did immediately after his collapse Dec. 2, and there were fears the doctors might find he is facing the threat of anemia.

Gastric juices of the 78-year-old pontiff drew special attention at an examination and consultation tonight by his private physician, Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, and three men called in previously on the case. They are Prof. Antonio Gasbarrini of Bologna, an expert on stomach diseases; Prof. Raffaele Paolucci de Valmaggiore, a noted Italian surgeon; and Dr. Paul Niehans, a Swiss hormone specialist. In session nearly two hours, they issued no bulletin. But the news of their decision to use the X-rays Thursday came from a source close to the Pope.

The four-man consultation followed an earlier examination of the Roman Catholic leader by Galeazzi-Lisi and Gasbarrini.

The Vatican press office announced today "the condition of the holy father is stationary." The office, which has previously reported continued though slow improvement, put out another statement at 8:45 p.m. saying the Pope's condition "remains stationary."

Actor Gregory Peck Sued For Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14 (AP) — Gregory Peck's Finnish-born wife, Greta, sued the film star for divorce today, 23 months after they separated.

Her complaint alleged cruelty, gave her age as 42 and his as 39 and disclosed that his first name is Eldred. Mrs. Peck asked custody of their three sons, requested no alimony and said a property settlement has been agreed upon.

The couple married Oct. 4, 1942, and separated Jan. 13, 1953. Mrs. Peck alleged her husband has caused her "grievous mental suffering, great embarrassment and humiliation."

Top Officials Decline Trade For U.S. Fliers

May Grant Chinese Students Here Exit Permits And Visas

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Top American officials were reported convinced today Red China will free 11 imprisoned U.S. airmen without any deal involving a trade of 35 Chinese students detained in the United States.

However, serious consideration has been given to granting exit permits to the Chinese students so as to cut the ground out from under any Communist accusation that America is holding them as hostages.

Representatives of Canada, Britain and other allied countries supporting the U.S. effort to win release of the airmen by marshalling world moral pressure against Red China, it was understood, have urged such a course.

No Dead Involved

A State Department spokesman, Lincoln White, told newsmen today: "No deal is involved." He said there was no comparing the airmen, uniformed and imprisoned, to the students, who are civilians and at liberty. White told newsmen he wanted to make that "abundantly clear."

His comments came in response to questions prompted by a Peiping broadcast last night indicating Red China might be interested in a swap. The broadcast accused the United States of "a flagrant violation of international law" — the same charge leveled against Red China for imprisoning the Americans.

This appeared to diplomats at the United Nations and in Washington to be a counter-attack by Peiping against the moral pressure being brought to bear by the United States and its Allies.

Listen To Counsel

Moving to meet such a counter-thrust, American officials were said to have listened readily to their Allies' counsel that the moral case was strong enough without trying to strike a bargain involving the Chinese students. The U.S. contention has been that Red China, in jailing the uniformed fliers during the Korean War and holding them thereafter, violated the Korea prisoner agreement as well as international law and rules of international conduct.

Any counter-claims by Red China, it was argued, might weaken such a case in some people's eyes and any shred of truth, no matter how small, might tend to strengthen the attack. Thus, the argument went, it would be wise to wipe out the basis for any such claim by letting the Chinese go home promptly.

Military Program To Give Youths Service Choice

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—The administration's long-awaited military training program is designed to give young men a good deal of choice in when and how they will serve, officials said today.

Defense Secretary Wilson is scheduled to give details next Friday of the proposed manpower plan, to be submitted to the next Congress.

Some aspects of the frequently revised program came into the open at the Pentagon today, however, after President Eisenhower's meeting at the White House with congressional leaders.

The plan, it was learned, will include a considerably weatered down version of previous Universal Military Training proposals.

If approved by Congress it would be universal in the sense that all qualified young men could look forward to some form of military training or actual military duty. Unlike previous schemes, however, youths approaching 18 would be given considerable choice in deciding whether to "volunteer" to take about six months of military training, or to wait until they are drafted for the minimum 24 months of regular military service.

Wilson has said previously the short-term training program would take in about 100,000 young men annually. Although the short-term trainees would thus excape the draft under normal circumstances, there would be these drawbacks:

1. They would be paid only $30 a month, while the lowest rank of drafted soldier now gets $78 with an automatic raise to $83.20 after four months.

2. The short term trainee would not qualify for veteran benefits.

3. The short term man would have his total period of obligated military service in the future extended to nine years. The draftee's obligated service now extends six years beyond his two years of active duty.

Justice Douglas Weds Assistant

TALLULAH, La., Dec. 14 (AP) — Supreme Court Associate Justice William O. Douglas and Mrs. Mercedes Hester Davidson, who did research for his last three books, were married late today in a private ceremony at her parents' home here.

Mrs. Douglas, 34, is the ex-wife of former Assistant Secretary of the Interior C. Girard Davidson, now a Portland, Ore., attorney. It also was the second marriage for Douglas, 56, who was divorced from Mrs. Mildred Douglas in July, 1953.

Among the guests were Mrs. Douglas' two children by her first marriage, Michael and Joan Davidson, and Douglas' son, William Douglas Jr.

The couple planned to leave tonight for a two or three week trip to the West. Then will live in Washington.

"Open Sesame Pie" Wins $25,000 Pillsbury Prize For Washington Housewife

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP) — A Washington, D. C., housewife who jokes about her own plumpness today won $25,000 for a pie recipe which she changed at the last minute so it wouldn't be too sweet.

Pillsbury Flour Co. awarded the grand prize in its annual "bake-off" to Mrs. Bernard A. Koteen, 37.

She won the coveted kitchen award with what she calls her "open sesame pie." The name is based on sesame seeds baked into the pie crust.

Mrs. Koteen said she got the idea while traveling through the South. It became a favorite of her husband, a statistician.

The seeds give the crust a nutty flavor which blends with a date chiffon filling for a pie of unusual taste.

Mrs. Koteen is a self-taught cook who has sung at La Scala Opera in Milan, Italy, and holds a doctor's degree in archaeology.

The contest winners were announced on Art Linkletter's CBS-TV program "House Party," which was carried directly from the Waldorf Astoria Hotel luncheon.

Afterward Mrs. Koteen said she had changed her recipe with the Pillsbury company's permission during the final bake-off yesterday by the 100 contestants.

She said she took out one tablespoon of sugar and added an eighth of a teaspoon of salt to keep the open sesame pie from being too sweet.

Other winners:

Second prize, $7,500, Mrs. Richard Enloe of Atlanta, Ga., for butterscotch cake bars.

Third, $2,500, Mrs. Kenneth B. Kennedy of Mahtomedi, Minn., Swedish ripple coffee cake.

Junior division:

First, $3,000, Nancy Harden, 15, high school sophomore, of Centralia, Kan., red apple swirls.

Second, $2,000, Helen Beckman, of Beckman Barracks D-1 Mount Vernon, Iowa, carmel cream sandwich cookies.

Third, $1,000, Barbara Maley, 11 Norman Drive, Shelby, Ohio, teen bake cake.

Best-of-class prizes, $1,000 each: Main dishes—Mrs. James M. Bridges, 2620 Harmony Pl., La Crescenta, Calif.

Cookies—Mrs. Robert Fellows, Silver Spring, Md.

2 Thrill Killers Are Given Life

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP) — Two members of Brooklyn's teenage kill-for-thrills gang were convicted today of murder in the first degree. A Kings County jury recommended they spend the rest of their lives in jail.

The all-male jury returned the verdict against Jack Koslow, 18, reputed leader of the gang, and Melvin Mittman, 17.

They were found guilty of the torture-for-thrills of Willard Menter last Aug. 17 that ended with Menter's drowning in the East River.

The slender, gaunt, somewhat ascetic Koslow and the burly Mittman moaned when they heard the verdict and buried their faces in their hands.

With two friends they had been indicted in the death of the Menter whom they had found asleep on a park bench near the Brooklyn waterfront.

A first degree murder charge against Jerome Lieberman, 17, was dismissed by the court last week, and another boy, Robert Trachtenberg, 15, previously was granted a separate trial and testified for the prosecution.

Hollywood Stars To Entertain Troops

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 14 (AP)—Terry Moore, Maxie Rosenbloom and 86 other Hollywood performers will entertain military troops at bases around the world during the holidays, the Hollywood Coordinating Committee announced today.

More than 60 entertainers will leave Friday for bases in the Far East, North Africa, Alaska, Europe and the Northeast Air Command. The rest will fly out Dec. 22 for the Azores, Iceland and Scotland. All will return in early January.

Uses Hot Iron To Brand Wife For "Infidelity"

TUCUMCARI, N.M., Dec. 14 (AP) —Luis Macias, 22, pleaded guilty today to branding his wife with a red-hot poker in an effort to make her say another man was the father of one of their three children.

He was held under $750 bond for District Court trial.

Macias' wife, Adelina, also 22, testified in a preliminary hearing that her husband tied her to a chair with a belt and burned her on a leg, an arm and threatened but did not burn her face. She said he drowned out her screams by turning their radio on full force.

Both testified she denied any affairs with other men throughout the torture, which she said took place Dec. 2. Macias was arrested Sunday.

Senate Report On FHA Probe Is Toned Down

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—The forthcoming Senate report on the housing investigation was reported today to have been toned down, after Democrats on the Banking Committee raised objections.

Specifically, sources close to the committee said, these two statements were removed from the tentative report of findings:

1. That irregularities under the federal housing programs added up to the "worst scandal" in American history, outdoing the Teapot Dome oil scandal of the Harding administration and the Reconstruction Finance Corp. troubles under the Truman administration.

2. That builders and promoters of rental housing under a program that ended in 1950 pocketed a billion dollars in "windfall" profits. That was the name given to excess money a number of them received on government-insured loans that amounted to more than the actual cost of their projects.

The report was to have been issued tomorrow. It is now scheduled for next Monday.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala), a member of the Banking Committee which investigated the housing programs, said last Friday that the report as then worded "blankets in entirely too much and does not give an accurate picture of what really happened."

"I don't want to see a condemnation of the whole building industry just because it contained a few bad actors," he said. "I don't want to see wholesale condemnation of the building industry and the Federal Housing Administration. I don't think it is merited."

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), chairman of the committee, has often referred to the housing scandals as the worst in the nation's history. The "windfall" revelations were a talking point for many Republican orators during the 1954 campaign. However, reports of abuses have come out, too, with regard to the still-continuing FHA home improvement loan programs. The last Congress tightened up the rules on the improvement loans.

Safe Driving Day Is Being Observed In Nation Today

[By The Associated Press]

This is Safe Driving Day across the nation.

It is dedicated to making a big reduction in traffic accidents—and, if possible, eliminating them entirely for a 24-hour period.

Dry, cool weather is indicated for most of the country.

But it will be a day of high hazards. For December, with its short span of daylight and Christmas shopping crowds, is the most dangerous month of the year.

The National Safety Council estimates 50 million motor vehicles and a total of about 150 million drivers, riders and walkers will be on the streets and highways.

They have been alerted by newspaper stories and cartoons, verbal messages via radio, television and loudspeaker cars, posters, handbills, bumper strips, and displays of wrecked automobiles.

Police and safety leaders are marshaling their forces for the extraordinary campaign against death and injury.

In Massachusetts, for instance, 8,000 state and local policemen are being mobilized for highway law enforcement.

All traffic policemen and all available equipment will be in use in Chicago. The officers there will wear S-D arm bands.

The U.S. Post Office Department, which runs the world's largest motor fleet of about 80,000 vehicles, is cooperating in the life-saving drive.

Many firms with large vehicle fleets have given pep talks to their drivers.

Special features planned for today include:

Tolling of church bells at 9 a.m. in Tampa, Fla.; halting traffic at 11 a.m. for a minute of prayer in Norfolk, Va., and a parade at noon in San Diego, Calif.

The quickest means of gauging the degree of success or failure of S-D Day will be the number of traffic deaths.

Through the first 10 months of this year traffic deaths averaged 97 per day.

Step By Step Policy Talks Are Advocated

President To Confer With Congress Leaders On All Points Of Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP) — President Eisenhower intends to consult step by step with Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress on foreign affairs, national defense and mutual security problems, the White House said today.

This word was given out after the President and his top advisers held a long defense-foreign policy discussion with some 30 congressional leaders of both parties. The plight of 13 Americans jailed by Communist China as "spies" was one topic discussed.

Will Deliver Message

The White House also announced Eisenhower will deliver his state of the union message in person Jan. 6, the day after the new, Democratic-controlled 84th Congress convenes.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas told reporters he suggested at today's meeting that congressional leaders be consulted regularly in the drafting of any program of economic aid to Asia which the administration may develop.

Johnson said Eisenhower replied this was a good idea and would be carried out.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty then was asked if the promise of ste-by-step consultation applied only to the already controversial aid-to-Asia proposal. Hagerty replied:

"I would say that it applies to all three fields mentioned in the first paragraph of our statement."

The White House statement to which he referred said today's bipartisan meeting "dealt with the problems of foreign affairs, national defense and mutual security."

Secretary of State Dulles said earlier he briefed the congressional leaders on "that portion of foreign affairs involving congressional action."

Follows Similar Session

Asked by newsmen if there was discussion of efforts to win the release of the 11 airmen and two civilians jailed by Red China, Dulles said without elaboration:

"There was one question on that matter."

Efforts to free the 13 now are being conducted by the United Nations.

Today's White House meeting followed by one day a similar session between the President and GOP leaders of Congress. Yesterday's meeting, however, dealt chiefly with domestic affairs.

Johnson was asked if he felt today's meeting measured up to the Democrats' idea of bipartisanship in foreign and defense matters.

He said he thought it was a good start, but added that true bipartisanship still depends on the approach taken by the President.

Suit Against Kaye Dropped

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14 (AP) — Comedian Danny Kaye denied with words and actions today that he slugged a physician during an airport altercation and a prosecutor refused to issue a complaint in the case.

The physician, Dr. Roland Marks of Walnut Creek, Calif., charged Kaye and his manager, Ed Dukoff, hit him "10 or 15 times" and fractured a rib during the dispute over a parking space last Nov. 7.

Said Kaye, practically holding his own head under his arm:

"I think I held his head under my arm, like this. But I didn't do any punching. I didn't want to run the risk of getting belted, even after he called me names. In my business, the prime requisite is to keep out of trouble."

Don M. Redwine, assistant city attorney, heard both sides of the story, then decided to take no action.

So. Africa Race Policy Declared Grave Threat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly termed South Africa's race segregation policy today "a grave threat to the peaceful relations between ethnic groups in the world."

The Assembly approved a U. N. special commission's report using these terms, asked the three-member commission to keep the question under review and called upon South Africa for its cooperation—so far refused.

Students Riot On Cyprus Issue

ATHENS, Greece, Dec. 14 (AP)—Anti-American violence erupted today over Washington's stand on the Cyprus issue. More than 4,000 students smashed windows in a downtown Athens building housing five U.S. agencies.

The students shouted slogans both against the United States and Britain, which rules Cyprus as a colony.

Police supported by fire hoses made a flying charge to disperse the students, who fought back with stones and chairs snatched from sidewalk coffee houses. Sixty-five persons including some police were injured in the two-hour melee.

The outbreak occurred as the United Nations General Assembly's Political Committee in New York began debating Greece's demand that Britain quit Cyprus, strategic East Mediterranean island now headquarters for Britain's Middle East Command. The United States has made it clear to Greece that Washington will not support this demand.

The demonstrating students carrying anti-U.S. signs finally were driven from in front of the American-occupied building, which houses U.S. Army, Navy, and Air Force missions to Greece, the U.S. consulate and the U.S. Information Agency.

Young Girl's Shotgun Death In Apartment Said Accident

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP) — Authorities decided today that Sallie Wood, 23, pretty government girl, was killed accidentally by a shotgun as she wrapped Christmas presents in her tightly-locked apartment.

Her body was found last night in the middle of a Christmas packaging scene after a friend became concerned because he got no response from repeated telephone calls. The shotgun, a new 12 gauge weapon, apparently was one of the gifts the Medfield, Mass., girl was preparing to wrap in her suburban Virginia apartment.

Dr. W. C. Welburn, Arlington County coroner, said he had certified the shooting as an accident.

The coroner said he is convinced Miss Wood died "practically instantly" after receiving the shot blast in her back when she accidentally jostled the gun from a card table.

However, Capt. Dudley Rector, chief of police detectives, said he will continue to investigate the strange death.

He said he is trying to discover where Miss Wood purchased the shotgun on the chance she may have made some remark to the salesman which could explain why she had the loaded gun. Another question unanswered, Rector said, is to whom she intended to give the weapon.

Miss Wood's father, Charles Wood, told police he owns a number of guns but is "not a hunter." Police also said that Herbert B. Gallegly, who was Miss Wood's escort Sunday night and apparently was the last person to see her alive, was not an ardent hunter, either. Police said Wood told them his daughter planned to marry Gallegly shortly after Christmas.

This appeared to diplomats at the United Nations and in Washington to be a counter-attack by Peiping against the moral pressure being brought to bear by the United States and its Allies.

Listen To Counsel

Moving to meet such a counter-thrust, American officials were said to have listened readily to their Allies' counsel that the moral case was strong enough without trying to strike a bargain involving the Chinese students. The U.S. contention has been that Red China, in jailing the uniformed fliers during the Korean War and holding them thereafter, violated the Korea prisoner agreement as well as international law and rules of international conduct.

Any counter-claims by Red China, it was argued, might weaken such a case in some people's eyes and any shred of truth, no matter how small, might tend to strengthen the attack. Thus, the argument went, it would be wise to wipe out the basis for any such claim by letting the Chinese go home promptly.

Young Girl's Shotgun Death In Apartment Said Accident

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP) — Authorities decided today that Sallie Wood, 23, pretty government girl, was killed accidentally by a shotgun as she wrapped Christmas presents in her tightly-locked apartment.

Her body was found last night in the middle of a Christmas packaging scene after a friend became concerned because he got no response from repeated telephone calls. The shotgun, a new 12 gauge weapon, apparently was one of the gifts the Medfield, Mass., girl was preparing to wrap in her suburban Virginia apartment.

Dr. W. C. Welburn, Arlington County coroner, said he had certified the shooting as an accident.

The coroner said he is convinced Miss Wood died "practically instantly" after receiving the shot blast in her back when she accidentally jostled the gun from a card table.

However, Capt. Dudley Rector, chief of police detectives, said he will continue to investigate the strange death.

He said he is trying to discover where Miss Wood purchased the shotgun on the chance she may have made some remark to the salesman which could explain why she had the loaded gun. Another question unanswered, Rector said, is to whom she intended to give the weapon.

Miss Wood's father, Charles Wood, told police he owns a number of guns but is "not a hunter." Police also said that Herbert B. Gallegly, who was Miss Wood's escort Sunday night and apparently was the last person to see her alive, was not an ardent hunter, either. Police said Wood told them his daughter planned to marry Gallegly shortly after Christmas.

Sample Grand Prize Winning Pie

Military Program To Give Youths Service Choice

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—The administration's long-awaited military training program is designed to give young men a good deal of choice in when and how they will serve, officials said today.

Defense Secretary Wilson is scheduled to give details next Friday of the proposed manpower plan, to be submitted to the next Congress.

Some aspects of the frequently revised program came into the open at the Pentagon today, however, after President Eisenhower's meeting at the White House with congressional leaders.

The plan, it was learned, will include a considerably weatered down version of previous Universal Military Training proposals.

If approved by Congress it would be universal in the sense that all qualified young men could look forward to some form of military training or actual military duty. Unlike previous schemes, however, youths approaching 18 would be given considerable choice in deciding whether to "volunteer" to take about six months of military training, or to wait until they are drafted for the minimum 24 months of regular military service.

Wilson has said previously the short-term training program would take in about 100,000 young men annually. Although the short-term trainees would thus excape the draft under normal circumstances, there would be these drawbacks:

1. They would be paid only $30 a month, while the lowest rank of drafted soldier now gets $78 with an automatic raise to $83.20 after four months.

2. The short term trainee would not qualify for veteran benefits.

3. The short term man would have his total period of obligated military service in the future extended to nine years. The draftee's obligated service now extends six years beyond his two years of active duty.

Justice Douglas Weds Assistant

TALLULAH, La., Dec. 14 (AP) — Supreme Court Associate Justice William O. Douglas and Mrs. Mercedes Hester Davidson, who did research for his last three books, were married late today in a private ceremony at her parents' home here.

Mrs. Douglas, 34, is the ex-wife of former Assistant Secretary of the Interior C. Girard Davidson, now a Portland, Ore., attorney. It also was the second marriage for Douglas, 56, who was divorced from Mrs. Mildred Douglas in July, 1953.

Among the guests were Mrs. Douglas' two children by her first marriage, Michael and Joan Davidson, and Douglas' son, William Douglas Jr.

The couple planned to leave tonight for a two or three week trip to the West. Then will live in Washington.

"Open Sesame Pie" Wins $25,000 Pillsbury Prize For Washington Housewife

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP) — A Washington, D. C., housewife who jokes about her own plumpness today won $25,000 for a pie recipe which she changed at the last minute so it wouldn't be too sweet.

Pillsbury Flour Co. awarded the grand prize in its annual "bake-off" to Mrs. Bernard A. Koteen, 37.

She won the coveted kitchen award with what she calls her "open sesame pie." The name is based on sesame seeds baked into the pie crust.

Mrs. Koteen said she got the idea while traveling through the South. It became a favorite of her husband, a statistician.

The seeds give the crust a nutty flavor which blends with a date chiffon filling for a pie of unusual taste.

Mrs. Koteen is a self-taught cook who has sung at La Scala Opera in Milan, Italy, and holds a doctor's degree in archaeology.

The contest winners were announced on Art Linkletter's CBS-TV program "House Party," which was carried directly from the Waldorf Astoria Hotel luncheon.

Afterward Mrs. Koteen said she had changed her recipe with the Pillsbury company's permission during the final bake-off yesterday by the 100 contestants.

She said she took out one tablespoon of sugar and added an eighth of a teaspoon of salt to keep the open sesame pie from being too sweet.

Other winners:

Second prize, $7,500, Mrs. Richard Enloe of Atlanta, Ga., for butterscotch cake bars.

Third, $2,500, Mrs. Kenneth B. Kennedy of Mahtomedi, Minn., Swedish ripple coffee cake.

Junior division:

First, $3,000, Nancy Harden, 15, high school sophomore, of Centralia, Kan., red apple swirls.

Second, $2,000, Helen Beckman, of Beckman Barracks D-1 Mount Vernon, Iowa, carmel cream sandwich cookies.

Third, $1,000, Barbara Maley, 11 Norman Drive, Shelby, Ohio, teen bake cake.

Main dishes—Mrs. James M. Bridges, 2620 Harmony Pl., La Crescenta, Calif.

Cookies—Mrs. Robert Fellows, Silver Spring, Md.

Desserts—Mrs. J. S. Mitchell, 1461 East Pkwy., Salt Lake City.

2 Thrill Killers Are Given Life

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP) — Two members of Brooklyn's teenage kill-for-thrills gang were convicted today of murder in the first degree. A Kings County jury recommended they spend the rest of their lives in jail.

The all-male jury returned the verdict against Jack Koslow, 18, reputed leader of the gang, and Melvin Mittman, 17.

They were found guilty of the torture-for-thrills of Willard Menter last Aug. 17 that ended with Menter's drowning in the East River.

The slender, gaunt, somewhat ascetic Koslow and the burly Mittman moaned when they heard the verdict and buried their faces in their hands.

With two friends they had been indicted in the death of the Menter whom they had found asleep on a park bench near the Brooklyn waterfront.

A first degree murder charge against Jerome Lieberman, 17, was dismissed by the court last week, and another boy, Robert Trachtenberg, 15, previously was granted a separate trial and testified for the prosecution.

Hollywood Stars To Entertain Troops

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 14 (AP)—Terry Moore, Maxie Rosenbloom and 86 other Hollywood performers will entertain military troops at bases around the world during the holidays, the Hollywood Coordinating Committee announced today.

More than 60 entertainers will leave Friday for bases in the Far East, North Africa, Alaska, Europe and the Northeast Air Command. The rest will fly out Dec. 22 for the Azores, Iceland and Scotland. All will return in early January.

Senate Report On FHA Probe Is Toned Down

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—The forthcoming Senate report on the housing investigation was reported today to have been toned down, after Democrats on the Banking Committee raised objections.

Specifically, sources close to the committee said, these two statements were removed from the tentative report of findings:

1. That irregularities under the federal housing programs added up to the "worst scandal" in American history, outdoing the Teapot Dome oil scandal of the Harding administration and the Reconstruction Finance Corp. troubles under the Truman administration.

2. That builders and promoters of rental housing under a program that ended in 1950 pocketed a billion dollars in "windfall" profits. That was the name given to excess money a number of them received on government-insured loans that amounted to more than the actual cost of their projects.

The report was to have been issued tomorrow. It is now scheduled for next Monday.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala), a member of the Banking Committee which investigated the housing programs, said last Friday that the report as then worded "blankets in entirely too much and does not give an accurate picture of what really happened."

"I don't want to see a condemnation of the whole building industry just because it contained a few bad actors," he said. "I don't want to see wholesale condemnation of the building industry and the Federal Housing Administration. I don't think it is merited."

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), chairman of the committee, has often referred to the housing scandals as the worst in the nation's history. The "windfall" revelations were a talking point for many Republican orators during the 1954 campaign. However, reports of abuses have come out, too, with regard to the still-continuing FHA home improvement loan programs. The last Congress tightened up the rules on the improvement loans.

Uses Hot Iron To Brand Wife For "Infidelity"

TUCUMCARI, N.M., Dec. 14 (AP) —Luis Macias, 22, pleaded guilty today to branding his wife with a red-hot poker in an effort to make her say another man was the father of one of their three children.

He was held under $750 bond for District Court trial.

Macias' wife, Adelina, also 22, testified in a preliminary hearing that her husband tied her to a chair with a belt and burned her on a leg, an arm and threatened but did not burn her face. She said he drowned out her screams by turning their radio on full force.

Both testified she denied any affairs with other men throughout the torture, which she said took place Dec. 2. Macias was arrested Sunday.

Safe Driving Day Is Being Observed In Nation Today

[By The Associated Press]

This is Safe Driving Day across the nation.

It is dedicated to making a big reduction in traffic accidents—and, if possible, eliminating them entirely for a 24-hour period.

Dry, cool weather is indicated for most of the country.

But it will be a day of high hazards. For December, with its short span of daylight and Christmas shopping crowds, is the most dangerous month of the year.

The National Safety Council estimates 50 million motor vehicles and a total of about 150 million drivers, riders and walkers will be on the streets and highways.

They have been alerted by newspaper stories and cartoons, verbal messages via radio, television and loudspeaker cars, posters, handbills, bumper strips, and displays of wrecked automobiles.

Police and safety leaders are marshaling their forces for the extraordinary campaign against death and injury.

In Massachusetts, for instance, 8,000 state and local policemen are being mobilized for highway law enforcement.

All traffic policemen and all available equipment will be in use in Chicago. The officers there will wear S-D arm bands.

The U.S. Post Office Department, which runs the world's largest motor fleet of about 80,000 vehicles, is cooperating in the life-saving drive.

Special features planned for today include:

Tolling of church bells at 9 a.m. in Tampa, Fla.; halting traffic at 11 a.m. for a minute of prayer in Norfolk, Va., and a parade at noon in San Diego, Calif.

The quickest means of gauging the degree of success or failure of S-D Day will be the number of traffic deaths.

Through the first 10 months of this year traffic deaths averaged 97 per day.

Step By Step Policy Talks Are Advocated

President To Confer With Congress Leaders On All Points Of Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP) — President Eisenhower intends to consult step by step with Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress on foreign affairs, national defense and mutual security problems, the White House said today.

This word was given out after the President and his top advisers held a long defense-foreign policy discussion with some 30 congressional leaders of both parties. The plight of 13 Americans jailed by Communist China as "spies" was one topic discussed.

Will Deliver Message

The White House also announced Eisenhower will deliver his state of the union message in person Jan. 6, the day after the new, Democratic-controlled 84th Congress convenes.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas told reporters he suggested at today's meeting that congressional leaders be consulted regularly in the drafting of any program of economic aid to Asia which the administration may develop.

Johnson said Eisenhower replied this was a good idea and would be carried out.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty then was asked if the promise of ste-by-step consultation applied only to the already controversial aid-to-Asia proposal. Hagerty replied:

"I would say that it applies to all three fields mentioned in the first paragraph of our statement."

The White House statement to which he referred said today's bipartisan meeting "dealt with the problems of foreign affairs, national defense and mutual security."

Secretary of State Dulles said earlier he briefed the congressional leaders on "that portion of foreign affairs involving congressional action."

Follows Similar Session

Asked by newsmen if there was discussion of efforts to win the release of the 11 airmen and two civilians jailed by Red China, Dulles said without elaboration:

"There was one question on that matter."

Efforts to free the 13 now are being conducted by the United Nations.

Today's White House meeting followed by one day a similar session between the President and GOP leaders of Congress. Yesterday's meeting, however, dealt chiefly with domestic affairs.

Johnson was asked if he felt today's meeting measured up to the Democrats' idea of bipartisanship in foreign and defense matters.

He said he thought it was a good start, but added that true bipartisanship still depends on the approach taken by the President.

Suit Against Kaye Dropped

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14 (AP) — Comedian Danny Kaye denied with words and actions today that he slugged a physician during an airport altercation and a prosecutor refused to issue a complaint in the case.

The physician, Dr. Roland Marks of Walnut Creek, Calif., charged Kaye and his manager, Ed Dukoff, hit him "10 or 15 times" and fractured a rib during the dispute over a parking space last Nov. 7.

Said Kaye, practically holding his own head under his arm:

"I think I held his head under my arm, like this. But I didn't do any punching. I didn't want to run the risk of getting belted, even after he called me names. In my business, the prime requisite is to keep out of trouble."

Don M. Redwine, assistant city attorney, heard both sides of the story, then decided to take no action.

So. Africa Race Policy Declared Grave Threat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly termed South Africa's race segregation policy today "a grave threat to the peaceful relations between ethnic groups in the world."

The Assembly approved a U. N. special commission's report using these terms, asked the three-member commission to keep the question under review and called upon South Africa for its cooperation—so far refused.

Dulles Leaves For Paris And NATO Meeting

Hopes To Speed Up Germany Approval

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles flew off on another mission to Europe late today, saying the Free World will neither be intimidated nor "lulled into a false sense of security" by the Communists.

The secretary of state and other high officials left in a Military Air Transport service Constellation at 5:02 p.m. for Paris and a North Atlantic Treaty Council meeting designed to strengthen the defenses of the West.

An immediate purpose of their trip is to help speed ratification of the London and Paris agreements bringing Germany into the Western alliance as an armed and all but sovereign member.

Flying with Dulles were Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Foreign Aid Chief Harold Stassen, Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert B. Anderson and Livingston T. Merchant, assistant secretary of state for European affairs.

Dulles held a hurried conversation with French Ambassador Henri Bonnet as he prepared to board the plane.

Then, reading a prepared statement, he declared the Paris meeting which starts Friday stresses, like all such meetings, the defensive character of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"What we do at NATO need cause no alarm for any peace-loving country," Dulles said, adding:

"We would indeed be glad if the attitude of others was such that we did not have to think steadily about developing the strength of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

QUESTIONED — Mrs. Virginia Lee Ramsey, 23, eyes red-rimmed after she led police to her husband, William Oliver Ramsey, 25, accused of shooting his father-in-law, Lester Burr, 49, in Jessup, is questioned by police at Rockford, Ill.

Military Program Would Be Adequate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Texas) said today the administration's military manpower program is not universal military training but "would give us adequate reserves and save money."

Johnson made this comment after a White House meeting of congressional leaders at which this plan and other administration programs were discussed.

Johnson called it "a modified plan" with "a kind of advertising man's look on it" but did not go into details.

U.S. Captives Were Displayed

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark (Ret.) said today he had indications the Russians "displayed" some Americans captured in the Korean War.

The former United Nations supreme commander in Korea made the statement at Charleston, S. C., in commenting on a news broadcast made last night by Commentator Henry J. Taylor.

Taylor quoted Clark as saying in an interview:

"I can tell you that some of these have been exhibited in the streets of Port Arthur and Vladivostok."

Asked today to elaborate, Clark president of the Citadel Military College in Charleston, said:

"I had indications that the Russians had displayed some of our POWs. These indications came from U. N. POWs who were exchanged. Some reported that they had heard that some of our prisoners had been seen in Port Arthur and Vladivostok."

Vladivostok is in the Soviet Union. Port Arthur, on the Chinese mainland, was under direct Soviet control until recently.

British Leader Leaves The Sudan

KHARTOUM, Sudan, Dec. 14 (AP)—The last British administrator of this million-square-mile territory on the Upper Nile departed for home today, leaving the government in the hands of the Sudanese.

Under an agreement last year Britain and Egypt ended more than half a century of joint rule over the Sudan and gave the Sudanese the right to self-determination by 1956.

Adenauer Opens Paris Treaties Debating Today

BONN, Germany, Dec. 14 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer opens a fateful debate in parliament tomorrow on the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany in alliance with the free world.

Spurred by Soviet Russia's campaign to block the buildup of western military power, the 78-year-old Chancellor will plead for immediate rearmament of his people.

Parliamentary leaders said Adenauer, with a 52-page address already prepared, will be the first speaker at the start of the two-day debate in the Bundestag (lower house) on first reading of the treaties.

Even though the decisive second and third readings will not be held until the second half of January, the debate will test the strength of Adenauer's opposition as the five parties in the Bundestag take their stand on the treaties.

Adenauer normally has an overwhelming majority with the 336 deputies of four government coalition parties lined up against 151 Socialists, who are against rearmament in any form. But the three parties allied with his Christian Democrats (CDU) have threatened to bolt over one Paris treaty—his controversial agreement with French Premier Pierre Mendes-France to Europeanize the Saar under a neutral commissioner.

Except for the Saar pact, the coalition parties have endorsed the Paris treaties to return sovereignty to West Germany, create a West European military union and admit the Germans to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Dr. Sheppard

"Now, Doctor, the injuries that you received, Doctor, didn't you receive those injuries from jumping off of that platform down on the beach?" Mahon asked.

"No, sir," Sheppard replied. "I think that would be impossible sir."

Defense attorney William J. Corrigan objected.

"Do you have any proof," he demanded of Mahon, "that the injuries were self inflicted that you ask those questions, or are you just reaching in the air?"

However, Judge Edward Blythin let the answer stand.

When Mahon finished, Corrigan read into the record a letter Dr. Sheppard received last May from a fellow osteopath, Dr. Lester Hoversten. It mentioned Margaret Kauzor, a girl Dr. Sheppard once dated in Los Angeles while Marilyn was in Cleveland.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Arthur Garfield Hays, 73, one of the world's foremost fighters for civil rights, died today.

Hays, a wealthy corporation lawyer on one hand, and general counsel of the American Civil Liberties Union on the other, died in New York Hospital.

He had gone there Nov. 8 for what was described as a rest.

Priest Dissuades Viennese From 446-Foot Suicide Leap

VIENNA, Austria, Dec. 14 (AP)—A young Viennese climbed the 446-foot steeple of St. Stephan's Cathedral today and threatened for five hours to jump. Then as spectators watched from below a brave Roman Catholic priest whose hobby is mountain climbing scaled the dizzy height and persuaded the young man to come down.

The young man, identified as Hans Hofbauer, 26, is a former member of the French Foreign Legion. Thin and pale, he said he had not eaten for two days. Two stone masons working on the cathedral heard him singing in Latin and Italian, shouting "Hallelujah!" and reciting classical German drama as he began his ascent around noon.

First he climbed the scaffolding erected for repairing the famous 800-year-old church, which was damaged by Allied bombers in World War II. When the scaffolding ended, Hofbauer entered the spire, one of the tallest in Europe, and climbed an inner stairway to 315 feet. Then he went outside and climbed 131 more feet on iron rungs to the gold cross that dominates Vienna's skyline.

When firemen tried to reach him, he threatened to jump unless they got a priest. They brought Father Franz Gruber, 34. The priest got within arms' reach of Hofbauer and pleaded with him for 45 minutes not to jump. The young man said he would not if the priest brought him 3,000 schillings (about $120).

"I have had nothing to eat for two days," Hofbauer said. "My kingdom is up here."

He told the priest he served with the Foreign Legion but had been discharged because his sense of balance was disturbed.

The priest descended, got the money, and returned to the steeple.

But Hofbauer had changed his mind and refused to come down. The priest pleaded with him, finally persuading Hofbauer to hold to him as they began the steep descent. The exhausted Hofbauer nearly fell twice from the narrow iron rungs. Firemen waiting with ropes lowered him to a gallery 270 feet high, where he was put on an elevator and taken to street level.

Sailor Thieves Strike Again

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Dec. 14 (AP)—Two men wearing sailors' uniforms reportedly struck again in New Jersey today on their kidnap-robbery spree.

The latest victim was John Lutchko, 52, of West Orange, who told police he had been held prisoner more than four hours by two men in Navy seamen's uniforms who forced their way into his car while he was stopped for a traffic light in Newark.

They took three dollars from him and after driving him around while they visited taverns, finally left his car in Orange and forced their way into another vehicle, Lutchko said.

Police Lt. William Quigley said the descriptions Lutchko gave tallied with those of two men, believed masquerading in Navy uniforms, who were involved in three kidnap-robberies in New York last week.

Lives Through Story Thrills

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 14 (AP) — Detective-story thrills became real-life terrors for Harry E. Webb early today.

Webb, 64, lives on the second floor of a business building he owns. He told police he was lying in bed reading a detective story, when two masked men rushed into his room.

They tied his arms and legs, blindfolded him and warned him to keep quiet if he wanted to live.

The men demanded Webb's money and when informed all he had was in his pocket, they took his keys to business offices in the building.

While one man guarded Webb the other searched the offices and came back empty-handed, remarking disgustedly: "We ought to kill him; there's no money around the offices."

Then the man asked Webb if he could open the safe in a finance company in the building. He said "no." So the two dynamited the safe and fled with $800 in cash and checks.

Webb managed to free himself and called police.

Explosion Rips Pittsburgh Co., Nine Are Hurt

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 14 (AP)—An explosion ripped through the Standard Can Co.'s plant on Pittsburgh's north side today, injuring at least nine persons and touching off a fire.

Nearly all of the firm's 100 employes, mostly women, were at work when the blast let go. The explosion shattered 20 plate glass windows in the plant and sent flames roaring up the chimney, setting fire to the roof.

Battalion Fire Chief Joseph McCall said it apparently was caused by an overheated gas-fired oven used to bake paint on cans. The company manufactures and processes cans.

Company To Build Package A-Plant

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP) —The Atomic Energy Commission announced today it has commissioned the American Locomotive Co. to build for the Army a "package" nuclear power plant which can be transported and erected anywhere in the world.

The Army wants a mobile atomic furnace capable of producing about 2,000 kilowatts of electricity, so constructed that its component parts can be carried by air for use at the most remote bases.

Engineers estimate that 2,000 kilowatts is enough power to serve a community of between 2,000 and 2,300 persons.

Doctor Faces Abortion Charge

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Dr. Henry L. Peckham Jr., 47, under bond pending an appeal from an abortion conviction, was charged today with abortion in the case of a 26-year-old mother of two children.

Charged with Peckham as a contact man was Byard Elkins Shaw, former U. S. Park policeman.

Capt. Richard Felber said the woman's husband arranged a meeting with Peckham because he believed his wife should not have another child.

Peckham has been under $5,000 bond since June 17 pending an appeal from a District court conviction and sentence to from 20 months to 5 years for performing an abortion on a 18-year-old woman.

Dulles held a hurried conversation with French Ambassador Henri Bonnet as he prepared to board the plane.

Then, reading a prepared statement, he declared the Paris meeting which starts Friday stresses, like all such meetings, the defensive character of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"What we do at NATO need cause no alarm for any peace-loving country," Dulles said, adding:

"We would indeed be glad if the attitude of others was such that we did not have to think steadily about developing the strength of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

Military Program Would Be Adequate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Texas) said today the administration's military manpower program is not universal military training but "would give us adequate reserves and save money."

Johnson made this comment after a White House meeting of congressional leaders at which this plan and other administration programs were discussed.

Johnson called it "a modified plan" with "a kind of advertising man's look on it" but did not go into details.

U.S. Captives Were Displayed

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark (Ret.) said today he had indications the Russians "displayed" some Americans captured in the Korean War.

The former United Nations supreme commander in Korea made the statement at Charleston, S. C., in commenting on a news broadcast made last night by Commentator Henry J. Taylor.

Taylor quoted Clark as saying in an interview:

"I can tell you that some of these have been exhibited in the streets of Port Arthur and Vladivostok."

Asked today to elaborate, Clark president of the Citadel Military College in Charleston, said:

"I had indications that the Russians had displayed some of our POWs. These indications came from U. N. POWs who were exchanged. Some reported that they had heard that some of our prisoners had been seen in Port Arthur and Vladivostok."

Vladivostok is in the Soviet Union. Port Arthur, on the Chinese mainland, was under direct Soviet control until recently.

British Leader Leaves The Sudan

KHARTOUM, Sudan, Dec. 14 (AP)—The last British administrator of this million-square-mile territory on the Upper Nile departed for home today, leaving the government in the hands of the Sudanese.

Under an agreement last year Britain and Egypt ended more than half a century of joint rule over the Sudan and gave the Sudanese the right to self-determination by 1956.

Adenauer Opens Paris Treaties Debating Today

BONN, Germany, Dec. 14 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer opens a fateful debate in parliament tomorrow on the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany in alliance with the free world.

Spurred by Soviet Russia's campaign to block the buildup of western military power, the 78-year-old Chancellor will plead for immediate rearmament of his people.

Parliamentary leaders said Adenauer, with a 52-page address already prepared, will be the first speaker at the start of the two-day debate in the Bundestag (lower house) on first reading of the treaties.

Even though the decisive second and third readings will not be held until the second half of January, the debate will test the strength of Adenauer's opposition as the five parties in the Bundestag take their stand on the treaties.

Adenauer normally has an overwhelming majority with the 336 deputies of four government coalition parties lined up against 151 Socialists, who are against rearmament in any form. But the three parties allied with his Christian Democrats (CDU) have threatened to bolt over one Paris treaty—his controversial agreement with French Premier Pierre Mendes-France to Europeanize the Saar under a neutral commissioner.

Except for the Saar pact, the coalition parties have endorsed the Paris treaties to return sovereignty to West Germany, create a West European military union and admit the Germans to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Dr. Sheppard

"Now, Doctor, the injuries that you received, Doctor, didn't you receive those injuries from jumping off of that platform down on the beach?" Mahon asked.

"No, sir," Sheppard replied. "I think that would be impossible sir."

Defense attorney William J. Corrigan objected.

"Do you have any proof," he demanded of Mahon, "that the injuries were self inflicted that you ask those questions, or are you just reaching in the air?"

However, Judge Edward Blythin let the answer stand.

When Mahon finished, Corrigan read into the record a letter Dr. Sheppard received last May from a fellow osteopath, Dr. Lester Hoversten. It mentioned Margaret Kauzor, a girl Dr. Sheppard once dated in Los Angeles while Marilyn was in Cleveland.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Arthur Garfield Hays, 73, one of the world's foremost fighters for civil rights, died today.

Hays, a wealthy corporation lawyer on one hand, and general counsel of the American Civil Liberties Union on the other, died in New York Hospital.

He had gone there Nov. 8 for what was described as a rest.

Priest Dissuades Viennese From 446-Foot Suicide Leap

VIENNA, Austria, Dec. 14 (AP)—A young Viennese climbed the 446-foot steeple of St. Stephan's Cathedral today and threatened for five hours to jump. Then as spectators watched from below a brave Roman Catholic priest whose hobby is mountain climbing scaled the dizzy height and persuaded the young man to come down.

The young man, identified as Hans Hofbauer, 26, is a former member of the French Foreign Legion. Thin and pale, he said he had not eaten for two days. Two stone masons working on the cathedral heard him singing in Latin and Italian, shouting "Hallelujah!" and reciting classical German drama as he began his ascent around noon.

First he climbed the scaffolding erected for repairing the famous 800-year-old church, which was damaged by Allied bombers in World War II. When the scaffolding ended, Hofbauer entered the spire, one of the tallest in Europe, and climbed an inner stairway to 315 feet. Then he went outside and climbed 131 more feet on iron rungs to the gold cross that dominates Vienna's skyline.

When firemen tried to reach him, he threatened to jump unless they got a priest. They brought Father Franz Gruber, 34. The priest got within arms' reach of Hofbauer and pleaded with him for 45 minutes not to jump. The young man said he would not if the priest brought him 3,000 schillings (about $120).

"I have had nothing to eat for two days," Hofbauer said. "My kingdom is up here."

He told the priest he served with the Foreign Legion but had been discharged because his sense of balance was disturbed.

The priest descended, got the money, and returned to the steeple.

But Hofbauer had changed his mind and refused to come down. The priest pleaded with him, finally persuading Hofbauer to hold to him as they began the steep descent. The exhausted Hofbauer nearly fell twice from the narrow iron rungs. Firemen waiting with ropes lowered him to a gallery 270 feet high, where he was put on an elevator and taken to street level.

Sailor Thieves Strike Again

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Dec. 14 (AP)—Two men wearing sailors' uniforms reportedly struck again in New Jersey today on their kidnap-robbery spree.

The latest victim was John Lutchko, 52, of West Orange, who told police he had been held prisoner more than four hours by two men in Navy seamen's uniforms who forced their way into his car while he was stopped for a traffic light in Newark.

They took three dollars from him and after driving him around while they visited taverns, finally left his car in Orange and forced their way into another vehicle, Lutchko said.

Police Lt. William Quigley said the descriptions Lutchko gave tallied with those of two men, believed masquerading in Navy uniforms, who were involved in three kidnap-robberies in New York last week.

Lives Through Story Thrills

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 14 (AP) — Detective-story thrills became real-life terrors for Harry E. Webb early today.

Webb, 64, lives on the second floor of a business building he owns. He told police he was lying in bed reading a detective story, when two masked men rushed into his room.

They tied his arms and legs, blindfolded him and warned him to keep quiet if he wanted to live.

The men demanded Webb's money and when informed all he had was in his pocket, they took his keys to business offices in the building.

While one man guarded Webb the other searched the offices and came back empty-handed, remarking disgustedly: "We ought to kill him; there's no money around the offices."

Then the man asked Webb if he could open the safe in a finance company in the building. He said "no." So the two dynamited the safe and fled with $800 in cash and checks.

Webb managed to free himself and called police.

Explosion Rips Pittsburgh Co., Nine Are Hurt

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 14 (AP)—An explosion ripped through the Standard Can Co.'s plant on Pittsburgh's north side today, injuring at least nine persons and touching off a fire.

Nearly all of the firm's 100 employes, mostly women, were at work when the blast let go. The explosion shattered 20 plate glass windows in the plant and sent flames roaring up the chimney, setting fire to the roof.

Battalion Fire Chief Joseph McCall said it apparently was caused by an overheated gas-fired oven used to bake paint on cans. The company manufactures and processes cans.

Company To Build Package A-Plant

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP) —The Atomic Energy Commission announced today it has commissioned the American Locomotive Co. to build for the Army a "package" nuclear power plant which can be transported and erected anywhere in the world.

The Army wants a mobile atomic furnace capable of producing about 2,000 kilowatts of electricity, so constructed that its component parts can be carried by air for use at the most remote bases.

Engineers estimate that 2,000 kilowatts is enough power to serve a community of between 2,000 and 2,300 persons.

Doctor Faces Abortion Charge

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—Dr. Henry L. Peckham Jr., 47, under bond pending an appeal from an abortion conviction, was charged today with abortion in the case of a 26-year-old mother of two children.

Charged with Peckham as a contact man was Byard Elkins Shaw, former U. S. Park policeman.

Capt. Richard Felber said the woman's husband arranged a meeting with Peckham because he believed his wife should not have another child.

Peckham has been under $5,000 bond since June 17 pending an appeal from a District court conviction and sentence to from 20 months to 5 years for performing an abortion on a 18-year-old woman.

Atlantic Greyhound Bus Drivers Vote To Strike

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 14 (AP) — Drivers of the 10-state Atlantic Greyhound bus system have voted to strike at midnight Friday.

Results of the strike balloting were announced late today by Daniel V. Maroney Jr. of Charleston, president of the AFL Motor Coach Employes union's Division 1493, after an initial session of contract negotiations between the union and the company.

"We gave them an ultimatum," Maroney told The Associated Press. "We're notifying our drivers that unless they hear from us, the strike is called for midnight Dec. 17."

Maroney said the strike — which would hit bus travelers at the beginning of the holiday rush—was favored by 95 per cent of the drivers voting.

The union president said 495 drivers favored a strike, 30 were against it. The union is bargaining agent for Atlantic Greyhound's 724 drivers.

Maroney said the contract negotiations would resume at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow and added:

"We asked to meet tonight and they (the company) declined. We gained nothing, as far as we're concerned, today."

A Christmas bonus is the center of the labor — management dispute which resulted in the strike vote.

Atlantic Greyhound did not include the drivers on the list of employes who will receive a Christmas bonus this year. Company officials said earlier that drivers were left out because the union included bonuses among benefits it wanted to discuss in the contract talks which opened here today.

Forestry Head Praises Nimrods

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 14 (AP) — State Conservation Director Carl J. Johnson complimented West Virginia hunters their cooperation with the Conservation Department's forest fire control program this fall.

"The sportsman has become one of our most important allies," Johnson said. "We've had reports of hunters putting out fires single handed this fall."

The state's forest fire loss this fall amounted to 35,000 acres, which the department considered an absolute minimum. Approximately 600,000 acres were destroyed in 1952 forest fires, and losses were high last fall.

"Forest fires started by hunters who burned out trees where animals live were at a minimum. We believe this class of hunter is on the way out and that his kind is headed for oblivion," Johnson said.

When New York City's telephone directories were delivered from Chicago, 50 freight cars were required to carry them.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 14 (AP)—A lie detector on loan from the Pennsylvania State Police arrived in Baltimore today to help local police with the Wasilewski murder case—now five weeks old.

Lt. F. B. Ramer, the Pennsylvania polygraph expert, will get a free hand. Newsmen have been told that the only answer they'll get on Ramer's operations will be "No comment, no comment, no comment."

The body of 14-year-old, jazz loving Carolyn Wasilewski, brutally beaten and nearly nude, was found alongside the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks near the Pimlico section of Baltimore just five weeks ago today.

WVU Outlines Request For Budget Hike

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 14 (AP)—West Virginia University outlined for the Board of Public Works today the reasons behind its request for an increase of about one million dollars in its operating budget for the next fiscal year.

President Irvin Stewart and four members of the WVU Board of Governors were among several groups appearing before the board during the day on behalf of budget requests for the year beginning July 1.

The board is in the process of whipping into shape the budget document it will present to the 1955 Legislature which convenes Jan. 12.

The seven - member agency, made up of the state's elected officials, will reconvene at 10 a. m. tomorrow to continue the task it hopes can be completed, except for printing of the document, by at least late next week.

Dr. Stewart said that approximately 73 per cent of the increase WVU is seeking represents desired boosts in personal services, or salaries. He said the amount reflects proposed increases in existing salaries, as well as money desired for additional staff members.

WVU's appropriation for the current fiscal year for personal services, current expenses, repairs and alteration and equipment amounted to about $4,453,700.

Police Confirm West Va. SRC Fund Shortage

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 14 (AP)—The existence of a shortage in State Road Commission funds was confirmed today as State Police began lie detector tests in their investigation.

State Road Commission H. Keith Griffith said the shortage existed in the accounting division, but he did not disclose the amount.

The shortage reportedly amounted to $11,000 to $17,000 over a four-year period. This neither Griffith's office nor State Police would confirm or deny.

State Police said no charges have been filed and that no person has been arrested. Griffith's office said there had been no dismissals.

D'Alesandro Files Papers

BALTIMORE, Dec. 14 (AP)—Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro's candidacy for renomination to a third term became official today.

About 40 supporters and well wishers were on hand as the mayor filled out his filing statement and paid the $150 filing fee as a candidate in the Democratic primary March 1.

D'Alesandro announced three weeks ago that he would seek a third term.

Already in the race are State Sen. Francis X. Dippel, grocer Harry Kemper, and Attorney Kenneth E. Lee.

Others who have been mentioned as possible candidates include George Sellmayer, former city council president; Arthur B. Price, now president of the council; T. Barton Harrington, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, and Rep. Edward A. Garmatz.

Garmatz succeeded D'Alesandro as congressman from the all-Baltimore Third District when D'Alesandro abandoned that post to run for mayor. The two have been closely allied throughout their political careers but Garmatz was not among those who accompanied the mayor to the People's Court Building for the filing ceremony.

D'Alesandro has never been defeated in nine previous elections dating back to a 1927, when at 23, he was elected to the first of two terms in the Maryland House of Delegates.

What home-town institution has just set an all-time high in savings?

In 1954 Americans of all kinds—people just like those you see above—put more of their money into savings accounts than in any other year since the war.

This may surprise you. They put over 3.9 billion of these hard-earned savings account dollars into insured Savings and Loan Associations . . . more than in any previous year . . . and more than they put anywhere else. Why? Why did millions of Americans elect to save in their home-town, insured Savings and Loan Associations?

There are several very simple reasons:

One—When you put your money into an insured Savings and Loan Association, you know it's safe. Your savings are insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation—an agency of the U. S. Government.

Two—Insured Savings and Loan Associations are local, home-town organizations, managed by friendly, trustworthy people of your own community.

Three—Insured Savings and Loan Associations give excellent returns on your savings. That's because they can invest most of their funds in sound, monthly-paying home mortgages.

Four—The officers of insured Savings and Loan Associations really know their communities. The proof is that people come to them for one third of all home mortgage loans. Last year they were the nation's largest single source of mortgage loans for home building, buying and alterations! Savings and Loan Associations originated the "pay-like-rent" home mortgage.

Whether you're interested in savings or home loans, drop in at an insured Savings and Loan Association. You'll find it's a mighty good place to do business.

Garmatz succeeded D'Alesandro as congressman from the all-Baltimore Third District when D'Alesandro abandoned that post to run for mayor. The two have been closely allied throughout their political careers but Garmatz was not among those who accompanied the mayor to the People's Court Building for the filing ceremony.

D'Alesandro has never been defeated in nine previous elections dating back to a 1927, when at 23, he was elected to the first of two terms in the Maryland House of Delegates.

What home-town institution has just set an all-time high in savings?

In 1954 Americans of all kinds—people just like those you see above—put more of their money into savings accounts than in any other year since the war.

This may surprise you. They put over 3.9 billion of these hard-earned savings account dollars into insured Savings and Loan Associations . . . more than in any previous year . . . and more than they put anywhere else. Why? Why did millions of Americans elect to save in their home-town, insured Savings and Loan Associations?

There are several very simple reasons:

One—When you put your money into an insured Savings and Loan Association, you know it's safe. Your savings are insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation—an agency of the U. S. Government.

Two—Insured Savings and Loan Associations are local, home-town organizations, managed by friendly, trustworthy people of your own community.

Three—Insured Savings and Loan Associations give excellent returns on your savings. That's because they can invest most of their funds in sound, monthly-paying home mortgages.

Four—The officers of insured Savings and Loan Associations really know their communities. The proof is that people come to them for one third of all home mortgage loans. Last year they were the nation's largest single source of mortgage loans for home building, buying and alterations! Savings and Loan Associations originated the "pay-like-rent" home mortgage.

Whether you're interested in savings or home loans, drop in at an insured Savings and Loan Association. You'll find it's a mighty good place to do business.

New Viet Nam General Wants Army Size Kept

SAIGON, Viet Nam, Dec. 14 (AP)—Gen. Nguyen Van Vy, new inspector general of Viet Nam's young national army, said that he personally is opposed to reducing the army's size.

President Eisenhower's special ambassador, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, is reliably reported to favor slashing the army from its present strength, which Vy placed at 220,000, to a streamlined, hard-hitting force of 90,000.

"Personally—and I emphasize that this is a personal opinion until the government has given its official views—I am against reducing the size of the army," Vy said in an interview. "We should maintain it at its present level, and make it more efficient."

The general's remarks were made a few minutes after he and Gen. Le Van Ty had taken over as inspector general and chief of staff, respectively, in a simple ceremony at military headquarters. Ty was present at the conversation and nodded agreement.

"The decision to increase or decrease the army should be made by Viet Nam as a sovereign state without outside influence," continued Vy, who had been acting chief of staff for several weeks.

The 38-year-old parachute trooper declared the Communist-dominated Vietminh, who hold the North, are strengthening their army. He said the Vietminh have three new divisions, one of which is being motorized and equipped with heavy artillery. A French source said last week the new divisions were created by reorganizing existing Red forces.

Veteran Diplomat, John Davies Jr., Who Was Fired Month Ago, Says There Is No Job Security In Foreign Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—John Paton Davies Jr., veteran diplomat fired a month ago, said that there is practically no job security in the U.S. Foreign Service and a candidate for a diplomatic career would be prudent to "know another trade."

Davies made this observation during a television interview on NBC's "Background" program. In painting a grim future of prospects in the Foreign Service, he nevertheless expressed hope young men would continue to join the Foreign Service.

The American Civil Liberties Union said today the dismissal of Davies might produce "a conformity of thought" and "impair our foreign policy."

Interviewed also during the filmed show with Davies were Henry M. Wriston, who headed a committee which recently surveyed the Foreign Service; Patrick M. Hurley, former ambassador to China and a critic of Davies' work in that country, and Davies' wife.

Davies was fired Nov. 5 by Secretary of State Dulles after a five-member hearing board unanimously recommended his dismissal as a security risk. No question of loyalty was involved. Dulles upheld the board's findings that Davies showed a lack of judgment, discretion and reliability. He had been cleared in eight previous loyalty-security investigations.

Davies, 46, and a veteran of 23 years in the Foreign Service, repeated two points which figured in his dismissal. He said he was convinced the decision to fire him was wrong but, he said, he could make no proper defense without taking days to detail his full life since "the judgment was on me as a person."

He repeated his suggestion that the whole record of his case be made public. Dulles has said it would not serve the national interests at this time to comply with this suggestion. Involved are some documents classified as secret.

The other point Davies repeated was the loss of his full retirement benefits. His lawyer is now studying ways of seeking this payment. In the meantime, the department is holding up Davies' final paycheck, estimated at about $14,000, including salary, pay for unused leave and pension contributions plus interests.

Chief holdup in the paycheck is Davies' refusal to sign a statement which the department calls a normal checkout form but which Davies says may "gag" him from ever discussing his case. The form, in use since 1949, pledges the outgoing employe not to make use of data in his possession without prior approval of the department.

Davies told his interviewer that personal security could not longer be counted upon in the Foreign Service. He gave three reasons:

1. Frequent reorganizations of the Foreign Service and State Department so that an employe is "never sure whether he is in or out."

2. The use of subversion problems, which he called "desperately" real, as a political football.

3. To meet the real threat of subversion, some persons have embraced practices and measures which are "dubiously grounded in American tradition."

For one thing, Davies said, a man may now find it necessary to prove he is innocent after being presumed possibly guilty—just the reverse of the American way. For another thing, he said, a man's conduct may be subject to "retroactive judgment."

Former Junk Dealer In Pennsylvania Is Now Regarded Foremost Grower Of Plantation Christmas Trees In U.S.

By WILLIAM A. SWARTWORTH

INDIANA, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—A former auto junk dealer who 26 years ago began turning barren land into evergreen forests today is the nation's biggest grower of plantation Christmas trees.

Frederick Musser, a forward-looking businessman with a flair for selling, expects to ship more than 100,000 first rate trees to retailers in several dozen states this season.

"That's the only kind we sell," says Musser, "just the best."

By selling "just the best," Musser has outstripped all other plantation-type Christmas tree growers in the nation, according to the Pennsylvania Tree Growers Assn. Plantation trees are those grown on farms, as contrasted with those that grow wild in the forests.

The bespectacled, 50-year-old Musser has 11,000 acres covered with some 25 million trees in varying stages of growth.

In addition, he maintains three nursery beds covering 270 acres from which he sells about 40 million seedlings annually.

Musser gets $15 a thousand for seedlings, which adds up to a gross 1954 take of about $600,000.

From the sale of Christmas trees—priced at $1.50 each wholesale—he will gross about $150,000 more this year.

Musser's 1954 output of trees is only half of what he shipped last year. He explains that a cutback in planting in 1947-48 is responsible for the decline. Next year sales again are expected to top the 200,000 mark.

Musser was the first big Christmas tree operator in Indiana County, Pennsylvania, the largest producer of Christmas trees for its size in the United States.

His plantations sprawl mostly over abandoned farm lands. He also makes use of land which had been scarred by strip coal mining, the other major industry of this town of 12,000 some 50 miles northeast of Pittsburgh.

Musser is intensely interested in conservation and combines business with reclamation. About half the trees planted don't come up to Musser's standards for Christmas trees and are left standing as timber.

Musser Forests, Inc., owned almost wholly by Musser and his wife, deals mainly in pines—Scotch, American red, Austrian and white.

"We feel that we opened up the market for pines in the United States," Musser says. "Before we started, the pine was practically unheard of as a Christmas tree."

He admits that the long-needled pines are harder to decorate than the short-needled spruces and balsam firs. But he says cut pines will retain their needles for months, whereas spruces and firs begin shedding almost the instant they are cut.

The trees Musser sells range generally from 5 to 7 feet. It takes at least six years—and usually seven—to raise a 7-foot pine from a seedling which has been nursed for up to three years.

Musser's primary markets are Pittsburgh, Buffalo, N.Y., Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and St. Louis. The traditional spruces and balsams hold sway in the big Eastern centers of New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Born in Indiana, Pa., Musser left Temple University after one year to enter business. At the age of 19, he started an auto wrecking concern with $2,000 given him by his father.

For the next seven years, until forced out of business by the depression, he was moderately successful.

It was during this period that Musser saw the possibilities in growing Christmas trees.

Young Musser figured he could turn a neat profit by buying up abandoned farms in the area and planting quick-growing pines for Christmas trees. He knew pines thrived in the area.

In 1928 Musser planted 400 acres with about 600,000 trees.

Shipping on a consignment basis two years later, Musser's sales totaled less than $2,000.

By 1938 his trees had gained wide acceptance and he had built a reputation as one of the outstanding Christmas tree growers.

Some 50,000 passengers arrive and depart from the Washington Union station on an average weekday.

Sedans are the most popular model of auto among doctors, with hard-top convertibles second.

New Hampshire Man Answers All Calls For Santa

By RICHARD J. SINNOTT

WEST LEBANON, N. H. Dec. 14 (AP)—From now until Christmas Eve, Joseph Schanbier's telephone may be one of the busiest in the nation.

Any night from 6 until 9 p.m., when any youngster in any part of the country picks up a telephone and says, "I want to talk to Santa Claus at West Lebanon, N.H.," the operator will connect him with Schanbier, providing the parents pay the toll charge.

Beginning tomorrow this will be the sixth consecutive year that Schanbier has played the role of St. Nick for the little tots.

He started imitating Santa over the telephone when the nearby White River Junction, Vt., VFW post decided every child should have an opportunity to phone requests directly to Kris Kringle. The post initiated the program.

Schanbier, who has just the voice you'd expect Santa to have, volunteered, and ever since he and his wife, Frances, 44, have been "Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus."

The first year 10 tots called the 37-year-old Schanbier. The next year the calls were in the hundreds. Last year 3,500 calls were received from all parts of the country.

This year Schanbier believes the volume may be doubled. The telephone company has installed a special switchboard and local operators have been instructed to channel all phone calls for Santa to Schanbier.

Some of this year's calls will be repeaters and Santa is ready for them. He has catalogued any bad habits parents told him about in previous calls, and many tots will receive admonishments before they make their pleas to the jolly gentleman.

Others have been model youngsters, and Santa is anxious to congratulate them. He knows they've been good because their folks have written to advise him of their excellent behavior.

Schanbier, a 5 foot 6, 125-pound publications clerk at the White River Junction Veterans Administration, receives a variety of request—and also some unique invitations.

He still laughs about the tot who promised him "a sandwich and a bottle of beer" if he delivered a supersonic ray gun.

Youngsters calling Schanbier receive the full North Pole treatment. Santa's cheery voice greets them; reindeer bells tinkle, a music box plays, and a 100-year-old bell peals.

In the background santa's four helpers—Maypo, Maltex, Igo and Ope—all neighborhood children—can be heard answering Santa's orders.

Add half a cup of grated cheddar cheese to a package of pie mix; use sliced fresh apples or canned [illegible] for the filling. This combination is usually a favorite [illegible].

Former Junk Dealer In Pennsylvania Is Now Regarded Foremost Grower Of Plantation Christmas Trees In U.S.

By WILLIAM A. SWARTWORTH

INDIANA, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—A former auto junk dealer who 26 years ago began turning barren land into evergreen forests today is the nation's biggest grower of plantation Christmas trees.

Frederick Musser, a forward-looking businessman with a flair for selling, expects to ship more than 100,000 first rate trees to retailers in several dozen states this season.

"That's the only kind we sell," says Musser, "just the best."

By selling "just the best," Musser has outstripped all other plantation-type Christmas tree growers in the nation, according to the Pennsylvania Tree Growers Assn. Plantation trees are those grown on farms, as contrasted with those that grow wild in the forests.

The bespectacled, 50-year-old Musser has 11,000 acres covered with some 25 million trees in varying stages of growth.

In addition, he maintains three nursery beds covering 270 acres from which he sells about 40 million seedlings annually.

Musser gets $15 a thousand for seedlings, which adds up to a gross 1954 take of about $600,000.

From the sale of Christmas trees—priced at $1.50 each wholesale—he will gross about $150,000 more this year.

Musser's 1954 output of trees is only half of what he shipped last year. He explains that a cutback in planting in 1947-48 is responsible for the decline. Next year sales again are expected to top the 200,000 mark.

Musser was the first big Christmas tree operator in Indiana County, Pennsylvania, the largest producer of Christmas trees for its size in the United States.

His plantations sprawl mostly over abandoned farm lands. He also makes use of land which had been scarred by strip coal mining, the other major industry of this town of 12,000 some 50 miles northeast of Pittsburgh.

Musser is intensely interested in conservation and combines business with reclamation. About half the trees planted don't come up to Musser's standards for Christmas trees and are left standing as timber.

Musser Forests, Inc., owned almost wholly by Musser and his wife, deals mainly in pines—Scotch, American red, Austrian and white.

"We feel that we opened up the market for pines in the United States," Musser says. "Before we started, the pine was practically unheard of as a Christmas tree."

He admits that the long-needled pines are harder to decorate than the short-needled spruces and balsam firs. But he says cut pines will retain their needles for months, whereas spruces and firs begin shedding almost the instant they are cut.

The trees Musser sells range generally from 5 to 7 feet. It takes at least six years—and usually seven—to raise a 7-foot pine from a seedling which has been nursed for up to three years.

Musser's primary markets are Pittsburgh, Buffalo, N.Y., Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and St. Louis. The traditional spruces and balsams hold sway in the big Eastern centers of New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Born in Indiana, Pa., Musser left Temple University after one year to enter business. At the age of 19, he started an auto wrecking concern with $2,000 given him by his father.

For the next seven years, until forced out of business by the depression, he was moderately successful.

It was during this period that Musser saw the possibilities in growing Christmas trees.

Young Musser figured he could turn a neat profit by buying up abandoned farms in the area and planting quick-growing pines for Christmas trees. He knew pines thrived in the area.

In 1928 Musser planted 400 acres with about 600,000 trees.

Shipping on a consignment basis two years later, Musser's sales totaled less than $2,000.

By 1938 his trees had gained wide acceptance and he had built a reputation as one of the outstanding Christmas tree growers.

New Hampshire Man Answers All Calls For Santa

By RICHARD J. SINNOTT

WEST LEBANON, N. H. Dec. 14 (AP)—From now until Christmas Eve, Joseph Schanbier's telephone may be one of the busiest in the nation.

Any night from 6 until 9 p.m., when any youngster in any part of the country picks up a telephone and says, "I want to talk to Santa Claus at West Lebanon, N.H.," the operator will connect him with Schanbier, providing the parents pay the toll charge.

Beginning tomorrow this will be the sixth consecutive year that Schanbier has played the role of St. Nick for the little tots.

He started imitating Santa over the telephone when the nearby White River Junction, Vt., VFW post decided every child should have an opportunity to phone requests directly to Kris Kringle. The post initiated the program.

Schanbier, who has just the voice you'd expect Santa to have, volunteered, and ever since he and his wife, Frances, 44, have been "Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus."

The first year 10 tots called the 37-year-old Schanbier. The next year the calls were in the hundreds. Last year 3,500 calls were received from all parts of the country.

This year Schanbier believes the volume may be doubled. The telephone company has installed a special switchboard and local operators have been instructed to channel all phone calls for Santa to Schanbier.

Some of this year's calls will be repeaters and Santa is ready for them. He has catalogued any bad habits parents told him about in previous calls, and many tots will receive admonishments before they make their pleas to the jolly gentleman.

Others have been model youngsters, and Santa is anxious to congratulate them. He knows they've been good because their folks have written to advise him of their excellent behavior.

Schanbier, a 5 foot 6, 125-pound publications clerk at the White River Junction Veterans Administration, receives a variety of request—and also some unique invitations.

He still laughs about the tot who promised him "a sandwich and a bottle of beer" if he delivered a supersonic ray gun.

Youngsters calling Schanbier receive the full North Pole treatment. Santa's cheery voice greets them; reindeer bells tinkle, a music box plays, and a 100-year-old bell peals.

In the background santa's four helpers—Maypo, Maltex, Igo and Ope—all neighborhood children—can be heard answering Santa's orders.

Add half a cup of grated cheddar cheese to a package of pie mix; use sliced fresh apples or canned slices for the filling. This combination is usually a favorite with men.

Beauticians Give Christmas Toys, Plan Activities

Unit chairmen for the 1955 convention were selected and announcement of meetings was made at the annual Christmas party of the Allegany County Hairdressers and Cosmetologist Association Monday evening. It was in the form of a dinner at Central YMCA. Mrs. Esther Smith presided.

Mrs. Eloise Ack was named chairman with Mrs. Catherine Welton, co-chairman to represent the unit at the convention in Baltimore early in November. They are being assisted by Mrs. Lenora Young, Miss Catherine Meyers, Miss Elsie Henry, Miss Ethel Henry and Mrs. LeOra Lewis.

Announcement was made of the state meeting January 16 in Silver Spring and the installation of 1955 officers at the unit meeting January 10. Miss Martha Kaiser of the Nestle company is to give a coloring demonstration February 7 at the Tri-State Academy of Beauty Culture, Virginia Avenue, beginning at 7:30.

Reports were given by Mrs. Virginia Sunderlin, Miss Edith Crabtree, Mrs. Pauline Smith, Sunshine chairman and Mrs. Alberta Lindner, representative to the special meeting in Frederick last month. Mrs. Smith appointed Mrs. Welton, Miss Elsie Henry and Miss Ethel Henry members of an Auditing committee.

On behalf of the unit Mrs. Lindner presented a gold bracelet to Mrs. Smith, retiring president. At the Christmas party members exchanged jingle gifts and brought toys for distribution by the Salvation Army.

Rawlings Christmas Meeting, Party Is Sat.

All women of the Rawlings Methodist Church are invited to attend the December meeting and party of the WSCS Saturday. It will be held at 7:30 Saturday at the church.

Jingles will be exchanged, secret sisters will be revealed and a program of worship and fellowship will be conducted by Mrs. Raymond Crowe.

The committee of arrangements consists of Mrs. Lillian Psimer, Miss Velmer Psimer, Mrs. Mabel White, Mrs. Elizabeth Duckworth, Mrs. Eleanor Kemp and Mrs. Lola Kemp.

Association To Have Tea

A Christmas tea will be held in conjunction with the meeting of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church today from 2 until 4 o'clock. It will be held in the Templar Bible Class room. Mrs. Gaither Martin will preside.

Entitled "The Festival of Lights," the program portrays a traditional Indian Christmas celebration in song, dance, poetry and music. Under the direction of Mrs. Gilbert Miller, Mrs. William Wendt, Mrs. Herman Koegel, Mrs. John Lower, Mrs. Ernest White and Marlene Brings will take part.

Flintstone Club Has Yule Program

A collection of "Pennies for Friendship" was taken at the December meeting of the Flintstone Homemakers Club held at the home of Mrs. B. C. Robinette and Miss Pearl Wilson. Instead of members bringing jingles to exchange, they made donations to be given to the Flintstone Health Clinic.

Mrs. R. T. Gilson presided at the short business session and appointed Mrs. Katie Oster, Mrs. Leslie Wigfield, and Mrs. Russell Dolly to a committee to nominate a vice president and secretary.

The background of the hymn of the month, "All this Night My Heart Rejoices," and the German composer, Paul Gearhart, were given by Mrs. Gilson. After which she led the group singing of it.

A program of Christmas readings was given. Selections include "The Christmas Story from the Bible," "The Meaning of Christmas and the Beginning of Midnight Eucharist," by Mrs. Guy Thompson; "The Legend of the Skimpiest Christmas Tree," "The Legend of the Smallest Camel," Mrs. Dolly; "Christmas Morning," Mrs. Arthur Howard; "The Gift of the Three Wise Men," Mrs. Harry Bender after which the group sang the traditional Christmas hymns.

Miss Mary Wise, county home demonstration agent, told of the cooperation and participation of all clubs of the county in making the Open House such a success. The group discussed ideas for Christmas foods and decorations seen there. Miss Justine Miller gave the highlights of the national convention and told of the people she met there and of Allegany County's participation in the program.

The holiday theme was carried out in the refreshments and the table, decorated with Christmas balls, evergreen and candles.

Mrs. Guy Thompson will be hostess for the meeting January 14 at her home, Baltimore Pike.

WIFE PRESERVERS

After painted walls have been washed, a thin coat of ordinary laundry starch may be applied with a paint brush. The next time the walls need washing, the job is done more easily, as the dirt washes off with the starch.

Yule Cantata To Be Given Sunday

A Christmas cantata, "The Music of Christmas," will be presented at 7:30 December 19 at the Potomac Park EUB Church. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Melvin Woolford, choir director, with Mr. Woolford as pianist.

Soloists will be Mrs. Mildred Thomas, James Householder, Mrs. Woolford, Mrs. Martha Young and Rev. L. G. Bridgers.

Potomac Park Society Has Christmas Program

The Ladies Aid Society of Potomac Park EUB Church held its first annual Christmas party recently in the social hall of the church. Mrs. Eloise Shaffer led the devotions. The group sang, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and Mrs. Estella Shoemaker led in prayer. The Scripture was read by Mrs. Dorothy Heese.

A poem, "Christmas," was read by Mrs. Alta DeWitt and Mrs. Virginia Newcomer gave a reading, "What Does Christmas Mean To You?" Mrs. Thea Crowe gave, "A Christmas Wish;" Mrs. Mamie Bridges, Peter Marshall's "Let's Keep Christmas;" and Michael Shaffer played a medley of Christmas carols on his accordion; after which Mrs. Mary Long read a poem, "Christmas Morning," and the program closed with the group singing "Silent Night."

Mrs. Crowe presided at the business session. Reports were made on the annual Christmas candy and card projects. The group made plans to distribute food baskets to the needy of the community.

The social hall was decorated with the traditional Christmas tree, decorated with gifts of money, which later was presented to Mrs. Bessie Keller. Gifts were displayed beneath the tree. Pine and candles decorated the tables. Secret sisters were revealed and new ones were chosen.

There were 35 members attending. Mrs. Jeannette Paxton, Mrs. Mamie Bridgers, Mrs. Ray Simpson, Mrs. Esterla Shoemaker, Mrs. Velma Haines and Mrs. Harry Troutman were in charge of refreshments and decorations.

St. Mary's Alumni Gives High School Scholarships

Alumni ranging from 1921 to the class of 1955, who were honor guests, attended the St. Mary's Alumni tea earlier in the week at the Haven. Miss Betty Stegmaier presided.

A check for $60 was presented to the high school faculty, to be used for scholarships for needy girls.

Prizes were awarded to the oldest class present and the class with the largest number attending. The latter was the class of 1945. Condensed minutes for the past year were read and the financial report given by Mrs. Margaret Boggs.

It was announced that the alumni will hold its monthly games party December 19 at 8 p. m.

A silver tea service was purchased for all future alumni teas of the group, and was used for the first time Sunday.

The Christmas theme was carried out in the decorations with two oversize red candles banked with poinsettias and pine as a centerpiece for the serving table.

Mrs. Ann Newnam played varied selections of Christmas music on the organ and solovox. Fifty-eight members attended.

The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of Miss Stegmaier, Mrs. Clay Ingram, Miss Margaret King, Miss Shirley Green, Miss Rosemary Green and Mrs. Boggs.

Circle Holds Yule Party

The Ann Judson Mission Circle of First Baptist Church held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Marian Miller with Mrs. Harold Ritter hostess. After the meeting a Christmas party was held and Circle Sisters were revealed.

Attending the meeting were Gertrude Moreland, Kathleen Markwood, Genevieve Sewell, Emma G. Young, Dorothy Lucas, Audrey Leasure, Evelyn Hamner, Lorraine Miller, Dorothy Shaner, and Susan Graham

Retired Marine General Believes Soviet Now Has The World's Finest Sharpshooters

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Russians now have the world's finest sharpshooters, and a retired Marine general said that he thinks this is as disturbing as their possession of the atom or hydrogen bomb.

For Maj. Gen. Merritt A. Edson, who won the Medal of Honor at Guadalcanal, is convinced that wars — including the next one — finally are won by men who know how to handle a rifle.

The general, who is executive director of the National Rifle Assn., has just returned from the 36th firing of the International Shooting Union's world championships in Caracas, Venezuela.

There the Russians were competing for the first time, and—

"They won almost everything in sight," Edson said glumly. "Oh, we did all right in skeetshooting, but that's primarily an American game. I wouldn't be surprised if the Russians won that, too, when the next international comes around."

Edson said the Russians did so well because once they go in for something, they go whole hog.

"They have been pointing toward this since 1951," he said. And to help them point, they came up with 500 full-time teachers of marksmanship. "Strictly speaking," he said, "I don't suppose we have a full-time teacher in the whole country."

From this pool of well-trained shooters the Russians drew out a team, Edson said, and for four months they did nothing but shoot.

They sent a squad of 53 to Venezuela, including 35 shooters and assorted coaches and trainers. Every time a Russian shot, his coach was at his side.

By comparison, the United States had 21 shooters and three officials.

As a result, the Marine marksman said, "it was really wonderful to see those Russians shoot."

Edson concedes that in itself winning an international shooting match doesn't mean much. What counts, he said, is this:

The Russians are paying more and more attention to marksmanship at a time when this country has a tendency to pay less and less.

And Edson is convinced of the value of straight shooting. "It's as important as any bomb," he said.

Edson thinks the Soviets learned the value of marksmanship the hard way, in their war with Finland, a country where most every man is taught to shoot. He said the Finns, by using white parkas against the snow and by employing old Indian tactics, relied on accurate shooting to get the job done. The Russians quickly got the point.

Freer Trade, Rising Imports Vital To Nation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 (AP) — William S. Paley said today freer trade and rising imports are vital to feed a swiftly-growing American economy that may reach "a whopping 700 billion dollars" of annual production by 1975.

Paley, board chairman of the Columbia Broadcasting System made his appraisal in a speech prepared for a dinner meeting of the National Planning Assn. The meeting was held to give him and Jean Monnet of France the association's Gold Medal awards.

The medals for "outstanding contribution through planning to the betterment of human life" went to Monnet for his efforts in 1953 in creating the European Coal and Steel Community whose high authority he now heads, and to Paley for his work as chairman of the President's Materials Policy Commission in 1952.

Paley said the commission's report, which foresaw a national output of 566 billion dollars by 1975 and a growing dependence on foreign materials, already is out of date.

Because of the faster rise of population and productivity now indicated, he said, another 134 billion dollars must be added to the estimate—a sum greater than the entire national output in 1935.

The United States already is a "raw material deficit nation" consuming 10 per cent more materials than it produces, Paley said.

"The leadership of America, in slowly knocking down the barriers to freer and freer trade, is an essential to future peace, happiness and prosperity," the CBS executive said.

Soviet Writers Congress Opens In Moscow Today

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON, Dec. 14 (AP)—The long-awaited second congress of Soviet writers—the first to be held in 20 years—is now scheduled to open in the great Kremlin Palace Wednesday.

Announcing the news, Moscow radio said the board of the Soviet Writers Union had called the congress. It will probably run for several days and may be one of the most interesting meetings since the death of Joseph Stalin in March 1953. It has already been postponed twice.

Leonid Lenov, a well-known novelist and member of the Communist party, is secretary of the board of the union, the organization that controls all writers in the U.S.S.R.

Western students of the Soviet Union expect the Congress will see the Communist party formally reimpose its strict supervision over Russia's writers, a censorship that was somewhat relaxed between the time of Stalin's demise and Jan. 30 of this year.

It was a strange honeymoon, during which Soviet writers wrote some daringly—for them—frank things, things that could not have gone unpunished in the days of Stalin's literary freezeup.

V. Pomerantsev last December commented that Shakespeare wrote well without belonging to a trade union. Another author denounced a party hack who turned out a story in which a miner complained how he longed for his vacation to be over so he could get back to his blasting charge.

Then Boris Pasternak penned a poem in which he said:

"Life is only an instant. Only a song. Only a dream. Only a grey dove."

This was too much. Pravda opened up on the poet and told him in no uncertain terms that life certainly was neither a song, dream nor grey dove in the Soviet Union.

That was in late January and ever since things have gotten tougher for the Russian Writer.

Police Say Yule Celebrants Should Leave Cars At Home

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn yesterday offered some advice to local residents planning to attend Christmas or New Year parties.

"Leave your cars at home if you don't want to run the risk of becoming a highway statistic," he said.

"Wherever possible go to and from festivities, especially from, by bus or taxi. The few cents it will cost is cheap life insurance."

National Safety Council figures show that more than 530 people were killed in automobile accidents over the Christmas holidays last year, and 317 lost their lives over New Year's. A similar number of deaths are expected this year, according to the Automobile Club of America.

"If you must drive home from holiday parties, take coffee instead of some stronger beverage when it's time for your one-for-the-road drink," Chief Flynn suggested.

He also warned celebrators who insist on driving to keep speeds down to 20 miles per hour in the city and 35 on the highway, and gave this additional advice to party-givers:

"Ask guests for their car keys when they arrive, and don't let them start for home until they're sober, even if it means keeping them all night. If they insist on driving, don't give up their keys until they've downed a cup or two of strong black coffee."

Automobile Of B&O Policeman Ransacked

A B&O policeman fell prey to skulduggery early yesterday after his automobile slipped off Oldtown Road.

Officer Elmer Hollar told local authorities he abandoned the car near Evitts Creek after the incident and continued on his way to work.

Returning to the auto later, he found that a tire, wheel, dark blue overcoat and red hunting cap were missing. Hollar said he assumed the car had been locked.

Former Area Man Nabbed In Entry

Captured Monday night in a suburban Baltimore home, Melvin R. McKenzie, alias Robert Elliott, 25, formerly of Frostburg, was charged with breaking and entering.

A Johns Hopkins University student, Leroy Morrow, whose studies were interrupted by a strange noise, nabbed the intruder.

Morrow called police when he heard a window being raised. Then he dashed downstairs and held the suspect until a squad car arrived. The arrest followed.

Auxiliary Gives $300 For Mortgage

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Bedford Road Fire Company combined with the firemen for a family Christmas party, in the form of a covered dish dinner. It was held Monday evening at the fire hall, with 66 attending.

At a brief business session Mrs. Helen Wilson presided and approximately $300 is to be given to the firemen for the mortgage. It was decided to send Christmas cards to shut-ins of the vicinity. Mrs. Mary Koontz became a member. Miss Violet McElfish installed the officers.

Mrs. Catherine Purnell was inducted as president; Miss Maxine Sweitzer, vice president; Mrs. Joann Rice, secretary and Mrs. Anna Lee Roberts, treasurer.

Handkerchief showers were held for Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Roberts and a gift was presented to Miss Sweitzer, retiring secretary. Jingle gifts were exchanged.

The program for the family party consisted of group singing of "Silent Night," and a reading, "Recipe for Christmas Cakes" by Miss Sweitzer. A sextet composed of Robert Gillum, Norman Gillum, Joyce White, Edris Gillum, Doris Gillum and Richard Heavner sang "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas," "Winter Wonderland," and "Little Town of Bethlehem," with Mrs. William Lawyer at the piano. A Christmas reading was given by Mrs. Calvin Growden and Wayne Thompson sang "Ring the Bells of Christmas."

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Wilson, retiring president of the auxiliary, by Mrs. Roberts; and to Fred Roberts, past president of the firemen, by Douglas Heavner.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. Catherine Purnell. The tables were decorated in pine boughs, candles and crinoline Christmas trees, favors were individual dishes of candies wrapped in colored papers and trimmed in crows foot.

Hostesses for the January meeting of the auxiliary are Miss Sweitzer, Mrs. Inex Sweitzer, Mrs. Lora Twigg and Mrs. Rice.

Program Planned For Community Tree Lighting

The program for the Community Christmas Tree Lighting ceremony, which will be held Sunday at 9:15 p. m. on the Emmanuel Episcopal Church grounds, was announced yesterday.

With Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, as master of ceremonies the program will open with the invocation by Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

The Municipal Concert Band, directed by W. Valgene Routch, will play "Christmas Parade March" and "O Holy Night."

Three selections by the Cumberland Civic Club Choral Group, directed by Mrs. William H. Buchholtz, will follow. They are "O Christmas Tree," "Away In A Manger," and "We Wish You A Merry Christmas."

Mayor Roy W. Eves will officiate at the lighting of the tree.

Community singing of three traditional Christmas Carols, "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Joy To The World," and "Silent Night," will follow.

Rev. H. Maunsell Richardson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, will pronounce the benediction.

To Hold Yule Party

The Young Business Women's Club will hold its Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Beatrice Haywood, Bowling Green, tonight at 8 o'clock.

Md. Poultry Show Entries Sought Here

Event Scheduled For Mid-January

The County Agent's office has been busy mailing out notices to egg producers and hatcherymen concerning the 23d annual Maryland Poultry Products Show.

This year's show, scheduled for January 11-15 at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in Baltimore, is being sponsored by the Maryland State Poultry Council, Inc., and is open to all Maryland producers and hatcherymen.

The county agent's office is seeking information on various entries from county residents. A number of awards will be given.

The deadline for entries will be noon on Saturday, January 8, and at 6 p. m. Monday, January 10, exhibits will be received.

The deadline for receiving exhibits will be 1 p. m. the following day and the judging of exhibits will be conducted at that time. At 6 p. m. that day a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Maryland State Poultry Council, Inc., will be held.

On Wednesday, January 12, at 9:30 a. m. the annual winter business meeting of the council will commence. The following day Farm Bureau sponsored meetings will be held with Friday, January 14, being set aside as Farm Bureau Day.

The annual show will come to a close at 6 p. m. on that day.

City Returns Bonds To All But Three Bidders On Plant

The City of Cumberland has returned bonds posted in connection with the contract for the city's sewage treatment system to all but the three lowest bidders.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said bonds were forwarded to four of the firms as required under the terms set fourth in advertising for bids on the contract.

Bonds posted by the other three companies will be held until the contract is awarded, within 60 days of December 6.

These include Moyer Brothers, Altoona, Pa., which submitted the low bid of $1,531,006; Thompson-Starrett Company, Chicago, $1,543,596, and McIlwee-Courbis Company, Camden, N. J., $1,556,575.

Two out of three of the world's radio hams are Americans. Only about one in 50 is a woman.

Figure Omitted

The account in last Saturday's News concerning the meeting between a committee from the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and the Board of County Commissioners inadvertently omitted one figure.

The omission was in a paragraph concerning loss of assessable basis as a result of tax exemptions. C. William Gilchris., committee chairman, reported that the loss of assessable basis estimated as a result of Chapter 592, Acts of 1953, providing that 40 per cent of merchandise inventories are exempt from county taxes is $8,743,630. He also added that the loss of assessable basis, previously on the books, as a result of retroactive feature of Chapter 18, Acts of 1953, providing tax relief for expansion of existing industry was $4,119,671. This second loss was omitted.

We're far from convinced that real estate is a two-bit business though an Effingham, Ill., house has just been sold at auction for 25 cents.

Auxiliary Gives $300 For Mortgage

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Bedford Road Fire Company combined with the firemen for a family Christmas party, in the form of a covered dish dinner. It was held Monday evening at the fire hall, with 66 attending.

At a brief business session Mrs. Helen Wilson presided and approximately $300 is to be given to the firemen for the mortgage. It was decided to send Christmas cards to shut-ins of the vicinity. Mrs. Mary Koontz became a member. Miss Violet McElfish installed the officers.

Mrs. Catherine Purnell was inducted as president; Miss Maxine Sweitzer, vice president; Mrs. Joann Rice, secretary and Mrs. Anna Lee Roberts, treasurer.

Handkerchief showers were held for Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Roberts and a gift was presented to Miss Sweitzer, retiring secretary. Jingle gifts were exchanged.

The program for the family party consisted of group singing of "Silent Night," and a reading, "Recipe for Christmas Cakes" by Miss Sweitzer. A sextet composed of Robert Gillum, Norman Gillum, Joyce White, Edris Gillum, Doris Gillum and Richard Heavner sang "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas," "Winter Wonderland," and "Little Town of Bethlehem," with Mrs. William Lawyer at the piano. A Christmas reading was given by Mrs. Calvin Growden and Wayne Thompson sang "Ring the Bells of Christmas."

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Wilson, retiring president of the auxiliary, by Mrs. Roberts; and to Fred Roberts, past president of the firemen, by Douglas Heavner.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. Catherine Purnell. The tables were decorated in pine boughs, candles and crinoline Christmas trees, favors were individual dishes of candies wrapped in colored papers and trimmed in crows foot.

Hostesses for the January meeting of the auxiliary are Miss Sweitzer, Mrs. Inex Sweitzer, Mrs. Lora Twigg and Mrs. Rice.

Program Planned For Community Tree Lighting

The program for the Community Christmas Tree Lighting ceremony, which will be held Sunday at 9:15 p. m. on the Emmanuel Episcopal Church grounds, was announced yesterday.

With Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, as master of ceremonies the program will open with the invocation by Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

The Municipal Concert Band, directed by W. Valgene Routch, will play "Christmas Parade March" and "O Holy Night."

Three selections by the Cumberland Civic Club Choral Group, directed by Mrs. William H. Buchholtz, will follow. They are "O Christmas Tree," "Away In A Manger," and "We Wish You A Merry Christmas."

Mayor Roy W. Eves will officiate at the lighting of the tree.

Community singing of three traditional Christmas Carols, "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Joy To The World," and "Silent Night," will follow.

Rev. H. Maunsell Richardson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, will pronounce the benediction.

To Hold Yule Party

The Young Business Women's Club will hold its Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Beatrice Haywood, Bowling Green, tonight at 8 o'clock.

Md. Poultry Show Entries Sought Here

Event Scheduled For Mid-January

The County Agent's office has been busy mailing out notices to egg producers and hatcherymen concerning the 23d annual Maryland Poultry Products Show.

This year's show, scheduled for January 11-15 at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in Baltimore, is being sponsored by the Maryland State Poultry Council, Inc., and is open to all Maryland producers and hatcherymen.

The county agent's office is seeking information on various entries from county residents. A number of awards will be given.

The deadline for entries will be noon on Saturday, January 8, and at 6 p. m. Monday, January 10, exhibits will be received.

The deadline for receiving exhibits will be 1 p. m. the following day and the judging of exhibits will be conducted at that time. At 6 p. m. that day a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Maryland State Poultry Council, Inc., will be held.

On Wednesday, January 12, at 9:30 a. m. the annual winter business meeting of the council will commence. The following day Farm Bureau sponsored meetings will be held with Friday, January 14, being set aside as Farm Bureau Day.

The annual show will come to a close at 6 p. m. on that day.

City Returns Bonds To All But Three Bidders On Plant

The City of Cumberland has returned bonds posted in connection with the contract for the city's sewage treatment system to all but the three lowest bidders.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said bonds were forwarded to four of the firms as required under the terms set fourth in advertising for bids on the contract.

Bonds posted by the other three companies will be held until the contract is awarded, within 60 days of December 6.

These include Moyer Brothers, Altoona, Pa., which submitted the low bid of $1,531,006; Thompson-Starrett Company, Chicago, $1,543,596, and McIlwee-Courbis Company, Camden, N. J., $1,556,575.

Figure Omitted

The account in last Saturday's News concerning the meeting between a committee from the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and the Board of County Commissioners inadvertently omitted one figure.

The omission was in a paragraph concerning loss of assessable basis as a result of tax exemptions. C. William Gilchris., committee chairman, reported that the loss of assessable basis estimated as a result of Chapter 592, Acts of 1953, providing that 40 per cent of merchandise inventories are exempt from county taxes is $8,743,630. He also added that the loss of assessable basis, previously on the books, as a result of retroactive fecture of Chapter 18, Acts of 1953, providing tax relief for expansion of existing industry was $4,119,671. This second loss was omitted.

Local Firm Is Low Bidder On Route 135 Road Work

The George F. Hazelwood Company of this city was low bidder on a 2.85-mile State Roads Commission project on State Route 135 in the Swanton section.

Hazelwood's bid was $74,415 lower than the No. 2 bidder, and $179,492 lower than the highest bid.

Hazelwood, $508,492.80; E. B. Plummer Company, Chambersburg, Pa., $582,907.45; T. Edgy Russell Company, Frederick, $586,086.75; Kelley Construction Company, Clarksburg, W. Va., $606,195.30; Richard S. Kline, Frederick, $607,207.65; Cumberland Contracting Company, $661,910.70, and Vern Sherwin, Somerset, Pa., $687,913.70.

The contract calls for the straightening, widening and relocation of much of the road leading from the intersection of the Deer Park Road and the Mountain Lake Park road northwesterly to the intersection of the Swanton Road with the Oakland-Kitzmiller Road.

The 2.85 miles of new highway will bypass most of Deer Park.

Two stretches of the Route 135 from Bloomington have been completed and a third project to the section up Savage Mountain to Swanton has been halted because of bad weather.

Bids for the improvement of Route 135 into Bloomington that call for an overhead bridge over the B&O Railroad at Bloomington will probably be asked this spring, the State Roads Commission reports.

When the Westernport-McCoole section of Route 135 is completed, along with the Swanton-Bloomington stretch, there will be a modern highway connecting Cumberland and Oakland by way of Route 220, McCoole, Westernport, Bloomington and Swanton.

This link between the county seats of Allegany and Garrett will be about nine miles shorter than the Route 40-Route 219 connection by way of Frostburg and Keyser's Ridge.

James, Lonaconing; Albert J. Avery, Bowling Green; Kilgore Izzett, Mt. Savage; Leona H. Ravenscrift, McCoole; Margaret Kaiser, Luke, and Jeannette G. Davis, Oldtown.

Learn the rules about "who goes first," so you won't ever have to hesitate.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

It's the little things that count most in beauty, in dress, in personality—and in manners. You can go through life ignoring the niceties of etiquette, but you'll be a more gracious lady if you know what to do when.

There is the matter of who goes first—you or your escort—through doors, in and out of taxis, down the theater aisle. A man may not always know such things, and you may be helpful—guilding, if necessary, in a subtle way.

There is one basic principle governing what may seem bewildering practices. (Bewildering, since the order of precedence varies.) Basically, a man allows a woman to go first, unless he can do her some service by reversing the order.

Going And Coming

When leaving (or returning) home led the male lead, to open the door. You exit or enter first, however. When getting into a car, bus, or taxi, let your escort open the door for you. But he gets out first, and helps you out.

The rule is "ladies first" when you enter a restaurant, although the man opens the door for you if there is no doorman. After he has checked hat and coat, he walks behind as the headwaiter shows you to a table. As you reach the table, he moves ahead to pull out your chair—unless the waiter does so.

After you have studied the menu, tell your escort what you wish so he can relay your order, and his, to the waiter. Here is an instance where prompting may be necessary, since men sometimes fall into the habit of letting a lady order directly for herself. You might say, casually, "Will you order the roast beef for me, please?" From that, the average male will take his cue, and ask what else you'd like to eat. After dinner, you rise first (the waiter will usually pull out your chair) and let your escort help you with your coat. Then you precede him to the door.

At The Theater

Theater etiquette follows this procedure: After a man opens the door for you, you precede him down the aisle—led by the usher. (No usher? Let the man lead.) You enter the row first, and he leaves first, waiting for you at the aisle. If it is easier to go out the opposite direction, you leave your seat first to avoid annoying others in the row, then walk with, or ahead of your escort up the aisle.

Motorist Is Fined $125 In Accident

Arthur Vernon Meeks, 245 Williams Street, was fined $125 and costs yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court after he pleaded guilty to two state motor charges resulting from an accident Monday at Henderson Avenue and Bedford Street.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick also imposed a suspended sentence of six months in the Maryland House of Correction.

Police said Meeks car crashed against railing along Henderson Avenue. Officer Louis Downey investigated.

William Carl Wolfe, 27 Ridgeway Terrace, forfeited $23.45 bond for having an overload of 1,100 pounds on a truck registration. He was arrested November 30 on Route 135 near Luke by Richard F. Boyle, agent for the State Roads Commission.

Added Data Being Sought By Wilkinson

An argument ensued at the meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday when a request was made by Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson that Mrs. Jonathan N. Sills, county auditor, furnish him with a breakdown of salaries, cost of equipment and materials used by the Roads Department and the car mileage expenses of J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, during the past four years.

Wilkinson also asked for similar data concerning Sylvan Retreat, the county's mental institution.

At this point Mrs. Sills interjected that such a task would interfere with her regular duties and said, "I am not saying that as a good alibi." Mrs. Sills said compiling such financial data would take quite a long time.

Commissioner William H. Lemmert, board president, then told Mrs. Sills "You do your regular work and compile the information requested at your convenience."

Wilkinson countered with the assertion that "any information I seek I'll get." He also said that "I expect the same consideration as the other two commissioners." Mrs. Sills replied: "You have received it."

Board Rejects Library Plan

A proposed county-wide public library program using state aid funds was rejected yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The action followed reading of a letter from Dr. David W. Zimmerman, assistant state superintendent for the State Department of Education, in which he inquired if the country desired to participate in the program.

He said he had a report from Miss Helen Clark, director of the Division of Library Extension for the State Department of Education, that during a recent visit to Allegany County she obtained the impression that there was much support for such a program.

Commissioner James Orr moved that the letter and matter be tabled and the board unanimously agreed to do that. Orr said the financial condition of the county prevents any participation in such a program, even though it is a worthy one. Commissioner William H. Lemmert said it would be necessary to curtail expenses of the county in all departments during the coming year due to the tax revenue situation.

State aid would have amounted to $14,328.96 and the county's share would have been two cents added to the tax rate, according to Dr. Zimmerman's letter. Commissioner Lemmert said under the program the cost to the county would actually be five cents additional on the tax rate.

Toll Highway Seen Benefit To Western Maryland Area

State Senator Robert B. Kimble, because of a Legislative Council assignment that may prove important to Western Maryland, will be unable to attend several meetings in Cumberland that he arranged this week.

Yesterday, the senator expressed his regrets at being unable to attend the scheduled hearings with the Friends Aware of Handicapped Children Thursday night, and with the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and others.

He said that, being one of the leaders for toll highways, both as a senator and as a member of the Legislative Council, and desirous of doing every thing possible to expedite the reconstruction of Route 40 from Hancock west, he should continue his efforts for the toll road.

Named To Committee

A Legislative Council committee comprised of Senator Kimble, Republican floor leader; Sen. Louis L. Goldstein, Democratic floor leader; John C. Luber, speaker of the House of Delegates; Dr. Carl N. Everstine, director of the Department of Legislative Reference, and Joseph B. Buscher, assistant attorney general assigned to the State Roads Commission.

This group's purpose in going to New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania is to confer with toll road authorities of these states, the senator pointed out to get the best approach to such a proposition for this state.

The idea being backed by Senator Kimble and others is the construction of a toll highway from Baltimore City to the Pennsylvania and Delaware state lines, instead of constructing under the 12-year State Roads Commission program the work provided for Route 40 and the Pulaski Highway.

Would Release Funds

If this work is done under a toll highway project, the Senator pointed out, it would release the following amounts for allocation for road construction in other parts of the state:

Baltimore County, first four years, $1,500,000; second four years, $2,700,000; third four years, $2,300,000.

Harford County, first four years, $2,400,000; second four years, $4,100,000; third four years, $3,600,000.

Cecil County, first four years, $500,000; second four years, $2,000,000; third four years, $1,500,000.

The program for Route 40 and Pulaski Highway therefore would take $20,200,000.

If a toll highway were constructed, he said, this amount would be released for other sections of the state, especially $4,400,000 the first four years.

Should Be Of Help

"We should receive a substantial amount for Western Maryland. With contracts already planned for early in 1955 for two of the mountains, the additional money would be available for the reconstruction of these and the other two mountains between Cumberland and Sideling Hill Mountain.

"I hope the people of this section will agree that my work on the council and this very important committee will justify my absence at the meetings here this week," the senator concluded.

Senator Kimble stated he has arranged for Dr. David W. Zimmerman, assistant state superintendent of schools, and Dr. Geneva Flickinger, state supervisor of special education, to be at the meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

Local Check Taken In Chicago Theft

A check a local woman had sent to a Chicago firm in payment for a doll for her daughter for Christmas was among those taken when the company's safe was burglarized.

The firm, Niresk Industries Inc., wrote Mrs. Ruth Morgan, 138 Springdale Street, secretary in the City Smoke Abatement Department, to explain what had happened and asking that she stop payment on the check.

Mrs. Morgan said a local bank re-issued the check and the Niresk company guaranteed delivery of the doll for her daughter, Carol, in time for Christmas. Cash was also taken in the robbery, the company said.

LaVale School To Be Ready Next Spring

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County public schools, informed the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday the contractor has notified the Board of Education that the new elementary school on Parkside Boulevard in LaVale will be completed in April.

Webster said this will include all grading and seeding of the grounds adjacent to the new school. He asked that J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, inspect the road leading from U. S. Route 40 to the school to determine what work would be needed to place it in good condition.

Webster said the roadway is not in such good shape and he hopes the county can include it in the program next spring. If this is done then next September, when the school is placed in use, it will be suitable for school buses and other vehicles.

The matter will be turned over to Chapman for a report back to the board.

The board also received letters from four constables who were not reappointed to office.

The constables, Charles L. Albright, Mt. Savage; Homer Brooks, this city; Eilbeck Moses, Lonaconing, and William Twigg, Frostburg, stated that their commissions from the governor's office listed the expiration of their offices as December 31, 1954.

The board had sent notice several days ago that their terms of office were up. It had been decided to pay the constables until December 15, but a new order was passed today calling for payment of the complete month.

The successors to the four constables have not yet qualified and furnished the required bond.

'Hidden Village' Sale Scheduled Dec. 31

Hidden Village off Brant Road in the Cresaptown area will be sold in a sheriff's sale to the highest bidder Friday, December 31, under an Allegany County Circuit Court order.

The sale will be conducted at 11 a. m. on that day in front of the office of Sheriff Edward R. Muir on Prospect Square.

The property consists of one large frame building, together with four cottages, bath houses, and other buildings constructed in the form of Indian wigwams, and a concrete swimming pool.

The buildings and pool will be offered separately and then as a whole. The highest combination of the various bids will be accepted.

Paul Fazenbaker To Head K Of P Lodge No. 60

Paul G. Fazenbaker has been elected chancellor commander of Cumberland Lodge 60, Knights of Pythias.

Britten O. Shaffer, vice chancellor; J. Walter McKee, prelate; Carl W. Martin Jr., master of work; Harold E. Fishell, secretary.

Robert M. Llewellyn, financial secretary; David E. Smith, treasurer; J. Hilleary Hayden, master of arms, and O. M. Brotemarkle, rank master and trustee for three years.

McKee and George H. Keifer were elected delegates to the Grand Lodge convention in Frederick next September. Shaffer and James Phillips were named alternates.

The new officers will be installed February 17 at 7:30 p. m. in the Knights of Malta Hall. A social hour will follow.

At the election session, William Freyman, Westminster, grand inner guard, discussed the activities of the K of P's Uniform Rank, and plans were completed for 1955 activities.

Upole Is

and has a spare one supplied by the Veterans Administration.

He was able to return to work on November 6, 1944. After reinstatement at Amcelle, it is necessary for the company and the Textile Workers Union to set aside seniority rules to make possible his transfer to the Central Formula Department.

His work for the past 10 years in Central Formula includes many jobs that would be beyond the strength and agility of an ordinary man. He regularly handles 55-gallon drums of various chemicals (which weigh 465 pounds). He moves the drums around and lays them on their sides with the assurance of the most fit.

He easily up-ends a 55-gallon drum when that operation is necessary. Smaller drums containing over 60 pounds of oils are regularly lifted, weighed and poured into a vessel as required. Walking up and down several flights of steel stairs, also a part of the work, is accomplished easily and safely.

"What you have left is more important than what you have lost," he declared recently. At the same time his supervisors indicated that the job of chemical operator has not been modified in any way because of Upole's handicap. He can do everything required safely, quickly and with all the skill of those without a handicap.

Work, Reliability Praised

His supervisors have praised his work, and say his dependability, reliability and punctuality are equal to that of any employe in the department. For over 10 years his record for safety and accidents has been unblemished. It is apparent that his fellow-workers do not regard him as a man with a handicap, because he can do any job they can do.

To accompany him and his wife to Baltimore for the award and the television appearance, Upole selected his foreman, George E. Hartman and Mrs. Hartman. At 6:30 p. m. yesterday he appeared in a program entitled "Comeback."

Also attending the presentation ceremonies were Edward R. Allan, vice president of industrial relations for Celanese from the New York office, and Robert W. Brown, personnel Manager at Amcelle from Cumberland. Allan was personnel manager at Amcelle in 1944 and handled the negotiations necessary to provide the setting aside of seniority rules so that disabled veterans might be transferred to work they could do despite their handicaps.

Company officials said Upole, has by courage and determination overcome the handicap of the total loss of one leg. By making the best use of what he has left, and an artificial leg, he is no longer handicapped.

New Drug May End Facial Tic Pain

Two doctors at Maryland hospitals have reported success in treatment of tic douloureux — described as the "worst pain in the world"—with a fairly new drug called stilbamidine.

Dr. George W. Smith, neurosurgeon at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, and Dr. Joseph M. Miller of the Veterans Administration Hospital, Fort Howard, Md., said stilbamidine seems to paralyze the facial nerve which causes the pain, and seems to act only on that nerve.

The condition, fairly common after 40, comes in attacks which can last from two to three weeks without interruption. Victims can't eat or shave, and some even commit suicide because of the pain.

Dr. Smith said the drug has completely ended pain in 15 of his first 16 patients. The first patient treated has been free of pain for 25 months. The one patient whose relief was not complete has an 80 per cent improvement, but may have other trouble than tic douloureux, said Dr. Smith.

Circles To Meet

Four circles of First Presbyterian Church will meet today at the church. At 1 p. m., the Kellough-Martin group meets in the Men's Bible class room; the List-Tosh group in the fellowship room; the Pierce-Clauson group in the fellowship room, and the Cavey-Smith group in the Scout room.

Burke Reported 'Fair'

Charles J. Burke, 148 North Mechanic Street, a patient in Memorial Hospital, was reported in "fair" condition last night.

Palmer Howsare Named Constable

Palmer W. Howsare was appointed constable for Flintstone yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners but not until some parliamentary maneuvering had been undertaken.

Early in the meeting Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson moved for Howsare's appointment. It died for want of a second.

"Let's check into the matter first," Commissioner William H. Lemmert said. Before the two-hour meeting was over Commissioner James Orr moved for Howsare's appointment. Lemmert seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

Another constable was appointed for Mt. Savage when Carl J. Neder submitted a letter declining the appointment given him at the board's organizational meeting. Orr and Lemmert then combined to name Andrew Lennox to the post as Wilkinson voted for the current constable, Charles L. Albright.

Class Will Meet

The Philathea Class of Centre Street Methodist Church will have its Christmas party at 7:45 o'clock tomorrow evening in the church parlor.

Skit To Be Given

B'er Chayim Sisterhood will have a Chanukah skit at the meeting at 1 o'clock this afternoon, being held at the home of Mrs. S. G. Weisman, 516 Washington Street.

Man Injured In Fall

Sylvester Twigg, 50, of Cresaptown, was admitted Monday night to Sacred Heart Hospital with an injury to his right foot, suffered when he fell from a scaffold while working in Moorefield, W. Va. Attaches, who reported him in "good" condition, said Twigg also complained of a back injury.

Other officers of the lodge which meets at the Knights of Malta Hall, are:

Britten O. Shaffer, vice chancellor; J. Walter McKee, prelate; Carl W. Martin Jr., master of work; Harold E. Fishell, secretary.

Robert M. Llewellyn, financial secretary; David E. Smith, treasurer; J. Hilleary Hayden, master of arms, and O. M. Brotemarkle, rank master and trustee for three years.

McKee and George H. Keifer were elected delegates to the Grand Lodge convention in Frederick next September. Shaffer and James Phillips were named alternates.

The new officers will be installed February 17 at 7:30 p. m. in the Knights of Malta Hall. A social hour will follow.

At the election session, William Freyman, Westminster, grand inner guard, discussed the activities of the K of P's Uniform Rank, and plans were completed for 1955 activities.

and has a spare one supplied by the Veterans Administration.

He was able to return to work on November 6, 1944. After reinstatement at Amcelle, it is necessary for the company and the Textile Workers Union to set aside seniority rules to make possible his transfer to the Central Formula Department.

His work for the past 10 years in Central Formula includes many jobs that would be beyond the strength and agility of an ordinary man. He regularly handles 55-gallon drums of various chemicals (which weigh 465 pounds). He moves the drums around and lays them on their sides with the assurance of the most fit.

He easily up-ends a 55-gallon drum when that operation is necessary. Smaller drums containing over 60 pounds of oils are regularly lifted, weighed and poured into a vessel as required. Walking up and down several flights of steel stairs, also a part of the work, is accomplished easily and safely.

"What you have left is more important than what you have lost," he declared recently. At the same time his supervisors indicated that the job of chemical operator has not been modified in any way because of Upole's handicap. He can do everything required safely, quickly and with all the skill of those without a handicap.

Work, Reliability Praised

His supervisors have praised his work, and say his dependability, reliability and punctuality are equal to that of any employe in the department. For over 10 years his record for safety and accidents has been unblemished. It is apparent that his fellow-workers do not regard him as a man with a handicap, because he can do any job they can do.

To accompany him and his wife to Baltimore for the award and the television appearance, Upole selected his foreman, George E. Hartman and Mrs. Hartman. At 6:30 p. m. yesterday he appeared in a program entitled "Comeback."

Also attending the presentation ceremonies were Edward R. Allan, vice president of industrial relations for Celanese from the New York office, and Robert W. Brown, personnel Manager at Amcelle from Cumberland. Allan was personnel manager at Amcelle in 1944 and handled the negotiations necessary to provide the setting aside of seniority rules so that disabled veterans might be transferred to work they could do despite their handicaps.

Company officials said Upole, has by courage and determination overcome the handicap of the total loss of one leg. By making the best use of what he has left, and an artificial leg, he is no longer handicapped.

New Drug May End Facial Tic Pain

Two doctors at Maryland hospitals have reported success in treatment of tic douloureux — described as the "worst pain in the world"—with a fairly new drug called stilbamidine.

Dr. George W. Smith, neurosurgeon at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, and Dr. Joseph M. Miller of the Veterans Administration Hospital, Fort Howard, Md., said stilbamidine seems to paralyze the facial nerve which causes the pain, and seems to act only on that nerve.

The condition, fairly common after 40, comes in attacks which can last from two to three weeks without interruption. Victims can't eat or shave, and some even commit suicide because of the pain.

Dr. Smith said the drug has completely ended pain in 15 of his first 16 patients. The first patient treated has been free of pain for 25 months. The one patient whose relief was not complete has an 80 per cent improvement, but may have other trouble than tic douloureux, said Dr. Smith.

Circles To Meet

Burke Reported 'Fair'

Palmer Howsare Named Constable

Palmer W. Howsare was appointed constable for Flintstone yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners but not until some parliamentary maneuvering had been undertaken.

Early in the meeting Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson moved for Howsare's appointment. It died for want of a second.

"Let's check into the matter first," Commissioner William H. Lemmert said. Before the two-hour meeting was over Commissioner James Orr moved for Howsare's appointment. Lemmert seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

Another constable was appointed for Mt. Savage when Carl J. Neder submitted a letter declining the appointment given him at the board's organizational meeting. Orr and Lemmert then combined to name Andrew Lennox to the post as Wilkinson voted for the current constable, Charles L. Albright.

Class Will Meet

The Philathea Class of Centre Street Methodist Church will have its Christmas party at 7:45 o'clock tomorrow evening in the church parlor.

Skit To Be Given

B'er Chayim Sisterhood will have a Chanukah skit at the meeting at 1 o'clock this afternoon, being held at the home of Mrs. S. G. Weisman, 516 Washington Street.

Man Injured In Fall

Sylvester Twigg, 50, of Cresaptown, was admitted Monday night to Sacred Heart Hospital with an injury to his right foot, suffered when he fell from a scaffold while working in Moorefield, W. Va. Attaches, who reported him in "good" condition, said Twigg also complained of a back injury.

Safe-Driving Day Needs Your Help

Newspapers in Cumberland as well as those throughout the country have carried story after story in the past few weeks leading up to S-D Day or Safe-Driving Day, which is being observed today.

The primary purpose of all the news stories has been to make the public, especially the motorist, safety conscious. S-D Day is one giant, concentrated effort to wipe death and injury off the streets and highways of America to show dramatically that it can be done.

In 1953, a total of 38,300 men, women and children were killed in traffic accidents. The economic loss, including property damage, hospital and medical expenses and other costs, was placed at 4 billion dollars.

One of those accidents of last year involved a safety expert and it was his mishap that led somewhat directly to the setting up of S-D Day. Plans and effort have been in the works for months, with President Eisenhower himself taking an active part in this war to save both lives and money.

Today, December 15, was designated as S-D Day somewhat by chance by the President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety which is the sponsor and also the coordinator of the nation-wide effort. As in Cumberland and Allegany County, various city, state and national organizations throughout America are lending a willing, helping hand.,

S-D Day arrives as this section is plagued by bad weather—fog, snow and rain—which means that the safe-driving problem very likely will be complicated by the elements.

Reducing the nation-wide traffic toll is no easy chore, but it can be done. And if it can be done today, there is no reason it cannot be done every day.

Most of the fatalities charged to traffic accidents and much of the property damage and other economic losses could have been prevented in the past if drivers and pedestrians alike would have realized their personal responsibility for their own safety as pedestrians, and safety of themselves and others as drivers. Traffic actually is a personal responsibility.

If you, and every other driver and pedestrian, will realize your personal responsibility and exercise plain old common sense today, S-D Day will be a success. Then it will be time on that same basis to make every day a day for safe driving.

These Days

The Young Too Old

Since I wrote a piece on those who are unemployed because they have passed 45, I have received a large number of letters on the subject which disclose a social condition that needs study. I want to quote a few comments from them:

"Never hire a man who has been up near the top to fill a lower rated job, because he will be unhappy with his surroundings and make an unsatisfactory employe, possibly a trouble maker."

The following paragraph is very interesting:

"Unfortunately, your age makes it difficult for us to give consideration to your employment. I know that this may seem strange to you but I am afraid you will just have to take my word for it. This is particularly difficult for me, because of the unusual background and experience which your history indicates, and I only wish it were possible for my decision to have been a favorable one. I trust you will understand."

One man found a way of beating the game, and set himself up as a consultant. He defines the term:

". . . A consultant is an experienced, competent executive that can't get a job . . ."

He describes his work:

". . . As a consultant your earnings are determined by your ability to get work and the length of time required to complete the job. Since my forced elevation to the status of a consultant, I have earned enough to pay about one half of the cost of maintaining my family; the other half has come from savings that my wife and I were building for our retirement. It's not a pretty picture and the sad part of it is that there are thousands of others in the same boat."

No one questions the ability of this man. He was just too old at 48 to be re-employed. He is now only 56. He got a job for a time, an especially created job. He writes me:

". . . I was assured that it was to be a full-time, permanent job and on the strength of this assurance, I accepted it at a salary equal to about one third of what my charge would have been as a consultant. The work I took over represented a part of the duties of the president and the executive vice president.

"The immediate urgent problem to be solved was briefly as follows:

"Management and the union were at loggerheads, a work slowdown was in progress and the company was losing money. Eight months after I took over, the union problem was smoothed out and the slowdown had been eliminated. At the end of ten months everything was normal, including profits. At the end of twelve months I was advised by the president that he was taking over my duties, that my job was to be abolished, but that I could remain with the company until I had made a suitable connection. At the end of thirteen months I was given two months pay and brushed out the front door to resume my consulting . . ."

I have selected this letter from a large number because it tells the story so well.

Some of the letters are very sad. I know one head of a company who was very anxious to get a man in his sixties, who is extraordinarily competent. This man asked for a guarantee for a period that would protect him and his family. The company accountants thought the best way would be an annuity which would guarantee him $20,000 a year over the period. The amount that had to be paid in a single payment for such an annuity is prohibitive.

So what do we do about these able human beings who cannot be employed because in the middle years, they are kept from their work by insurance rates, by pension fund costs, by all sorts of impediments which throw their competence into the discard? Are we to become so bureaucratically automatic in private enterprise that we need no wisdom, no experience, no mellowness? And is it equality of opportunity? And what is to become of those who pass 45 and for one of a thousand reasons lose their jobs? A man might even have been in business for himself and had to quit for any number of good reasons. What is to become of such men? Are they to become public charges?

How Are Things Going With The Old Aerial Team

Red China Government Has U. N. Fate In Its Hands

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Fantastic things are happening nowadays—for who would have thought that the head of the Red China government, which itself is not admitted to the United Nations, would today hold in his hands the fate of the United Nations?

By offering to send its secretary general to Peiping to negotiate the release of the 11 American airmen sentenced as "spies" by the same Chinese government, the United Nations has satisfied the pacifist and peace-at-any-price sentiment in various countries of the world but at the same time has taken a chance on the future of the U. N. This organization could, as a result of this latest incident, come to the end of its usefulness as an instrument for the enforcement of peace—the objective to which the U. N. charter so nobly aspired.

Humiliating Procedure

What has occurred is unprecedented in the history of international law and custom. The same organization which from 1950 to 1953 sent hundreds of thousands of men into battle in Korea to "repel aggression" and which itself adopted a resolution formally declaring Red China to be an "aggressor" now sends an envoy 8,000 miles to beg that same government to be merciful.

In all the history of international affairs there has been no step more humiliating to free nations. Their casualties, including 140,000 Americans, were incurred for the avowed purpose of humbling the aggressor.

If Mao agrees to confer with the secretary general of the U. N. at Peiping, a prolonged negotiation might develop in which Red China would demand admission to the United Nations as the ransom price for the release of the 11 airmen. This would mean a "loss of face" in Asia for the free nations and so strengthen the hands of the Communist imperialists, that the episode might be the forerunner of further defections to the Communists by the countries in Asia now wavering.

If, on the other hand, Mao rejects the offer or puts up conditions that are impossible for the U. N. countries to accept, the United Nations will be saved, provided it adopts a course firm enough to earn the respect of the free world. It is conceivable that the U. N. will be prompted to adopt stern measures, including a naval blockade as provided by the charter. Certainly nobody wants a resumption of hostilities and furthermore such a step can be avoided. A naval blockade does not necessarily mean war. In fact, the word "naval" is superfluous. For a modern blockade is accomplished primarily not by naval action at all.

Shut Off Trade

To make a blockade effective today, it is necessary only to shut off trade at the source and to refuse to grant licenses to export goods. Also, ships flying the flags of countries willing to participate in the embargo would agree not to carry the goods of any other country that wanted to export. If a naval search is necessary, it can be conducted outside European or Asiatic ports far away from China itself.

While the naval blockade was important in the first World War, it was less so in the second World War when laws and decrees governing "trading with the enemy" were adopted on the Allied side. This means, of course, a loss in money to some producers, but there is a way to make up such a loss by an indemnity fund. It would be a relatively insignificant expenditure compared to the horrors of another war and the expense of armament in such a war.

The American government was right, therefore, in submitting the issue to the United Nations assembly instead of adopting a unilateral course. Nobody — neither Senator Knowland nor any other leader—has really advocated that the United States "go it alone." The preoccupation here has been that the U.N. might desert the 11 American airmen and fail to make effective the resolutions, once adopted, which call upon all members to help to repel the aggressor.

For, strictly speaking, the detention of the 11 airmen is part of the act of aggression in Korea by the Communists. The armistice agreement signed by the Communists provided for the return of all U.N. prisoners of war. To break that agreement is to re-emphasize the action of the Reds in invading Korea in the first instance.

The United Nations on paper has enough authority to take collective action to assure the defeat of the aggressor.

Unless the U.N. majority is committed to peace at any price, the organization will take economic action by way of reprisal. Otherwise, the United States will be in the position of having forfeited its sovereignty and of havjng delegated the duty of protecting the lives of its own citizens to a foreign body which disdains the task. It is a critical moment for the U.N. and for American foreign policy.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Seeing ex-Prexy Hoover back in Germany is like waiting for the second show.

Just about 30 consecutive years ago Mr. Hoover was in Germany unloading the cornucopia of plenty unto all the inhabitants thereof.

Which benevolent largesse was based on the theory of being kind to thine enemy that thy days in the land may seem long.

Mr. Hoover and myself are old roomies. We went to different schools together. My diploma was leather in the shape of a boot.

At the time we write a prophetic paragraph, "Mr. Hoover is fattening Europe up for the next war." It only required 20 years for that stencil to incubate.

We didn't write that experience-based squib because we were at logger-noggins with Mr. Hoover, because we detested Europe or because we had reached that stage in numbness where we were using barbed wire for dental floss.

Europe was rebuilt by Anne Morgan, fed by Mr. Hoover and lulled into complacent belligerence by the dulcet strains of Krupp's yo-yo factory. Proof that long-range thinking also includes hiring rowboats by the hour.

Just about the time this stack of ever-blooming storm signals deponed, "When we spot a Japanese tourist with machine gun and bayonet we are not fooled by his dollar camera."

There is but one solution to our benevolent coddling of former sparring partners. We have to make the fences on the play-pens higher.

Impact Of Sen. McCarthy's Tactics Will Affect America For Long Time

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—This week happens to be the 22nd birthday of this column; also it's been four years since Joe McCarthy delivered an hour-long diatribe on the Senate floor demanding that this column be banned by editors, that Adam hats be boycotted; and when he first employed Indian Charlie's below-the-belt tactics in the men's cloakroom of the Sulgrave Club.

The latter two incidents were among the most painful of my life, in more ways that one, and it is with no pleasure that I recall them today.

I do not even get any satisfaction from the fact that Harry Truman, who was quite gleeful over these two incidents, has now changed his mind; nor that Senator Watkins of Utah has changed his. Senator Watkins, meeting Joe McCarthy the next day, remarked: "Joe, the newspapers differ as to where you hit him, but I hope both accounts were right."

A lot of people besides Senator Watkins have changed their minds since then. They realize that, far more important than anything that happened to me, the country has suffered and a lot of people have suffered — innocent people who couldn't defend themselves. I was able to defend myself. Most of my editors stuck by me loyally, and though I did lose my radio sponsor, a lot of other radio stations and sponsors have come to my support.

So, other than some painful and humiliating memories, I have no complaints to make.

What Happened To Others

But I do want to record some of the things that have happened to other people, little people who have been forgotten and pushed aside in Joe's rush for bigger and better headlines.

One of the first men he listed as a Communist in the State Department was Val Lorwin, then a labor adviser. McCarthy cited his name in February 1950 when he first charged, in Wheeling, W. Va., that there were "205 card-carrying Communists known to the secretary of state." Next day he changed the figure to 57, and the day after to 81.

And though General Bedell Smith, Republican undersecretary of state, swore under oath last year that not one Communist had been found in the State Department, Val Lorwin was indicted for perjury when he denied he was a Communist.

That was approximately four years ago. And for four years Lorwin lived under a cloud, unable to clear his name, unable to make much of a living. He had no money, but he borrowed some. A lot of friends helped him, and Jiggs Donohue, former commissioner of the District of Columbia, generously defended his case for cost.

Finally, the Justice Department went into court and asked that the case be dismissed. There was no evidence on which to base a prosecution.

I talked to Lorwin afterwards. He was not bitter. He had been through four years of hell, but said the experience had showed him how many fine people there were who believed in him and were willing to help him.

Joe's Defenders

Some people claim: "Joe McCarthy did a good job of cleaning up Communists, so he should be forgiven some of his mistakes."

Unfortunately they forget that Joe didn't start on communism until 1950, by which time the Justice Department had already indicted the top Communist leaders of the nation. I had exposed the Soviet spy ring in Canada in February 1946, the year McCarthy was elected to the Senate. I had warned the State Department about Alger Hiss, also in 1946; and exposed the Russian blueprint laboratory in a Silver Spring, Md., basement in September 1947.

Joe was four years late waking up to this danger, but when he did wake up, he made so many accusations that he started a wave of terroristic tactics in government that sometimes out - McCarthied McCarthy. That is one of the worst results of McCarthyism: those who are afraid they will be exposed by Joe if they don't outdo Joe.

For instance, in July 1953, the Navy Department suspended Abraham Chasanow, after 20 years' service. No charge was placed against him. For one whole year he couldn't even find out what the suspicion was. Finally the Washington newspapers took up his case, and the Navy belatedly restored Chasanow with a formal and public apology.

Again, take the case of a professional witness for the Justice Department, Paul Crouch. Mr. Crouch has been going around the country testifying against all sorts of people and making a good living from Uncle Sam—$9,000 a year—as a professional witness. But when he testified against Jacob Burck, Pulitzer prize winning cartoonist for the Chicago Sun-Times, that paper turned round and investigated him.

It found that, whereas Crouch testified he had been an editor of the Miami Herald, Editor George Beebe of the Herald gave an affidavit that he had only been a typesetter for three months.

Whereas Crouch testified he had been Florida state director of the CIO, the CIO gave an affidavit flatly to the contrary. In all, 29 misstatements of fact were found in Crouch's sworn testimony. Yet this was the man the Justice Department was using to out-McCarthy McCarthy.

McCarthy's Impact

It will take a long time for the government to get over its present Gestapo-NKVD tactics toward its own public servants.

Even more important, it will take State Department diplomats a long time to get away from the tactic of writing reports that they think would read well before a McCarthy committee rather than reporting on what they consider to be the truth.

If a diplomat knows that a future Senate committee may demand his dismissal because he wrote his considered judgment about China as he saw it, rather than writing what the politicians at home want him to write, then preventive war is a lot more likely.

For the diplomats of today know that John Paton Davies, John Carter Vincent, and John Service were all discharged because they reported what they thought in 1945 rather than what the politicians advocated nine years later.

Joe McCarthy has now differed with almost everyone in Washington; beginning with me and ending with President Eisenhower. And while those personal differences are not important, it is important and unfortunate that it will take the country a long time to get over the impact of his tactics.

Christmas Trees

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK —(INS)— Haven't had much chance to do any Christmas shopping of late, but I notice that the synthetic Christmas tree is continuing to make strides against civilization and tradition.

You know the so-called "tree" I mean. It is generally as thin and gaunt as an El Greco and spray-painted in glacial blue, or dead white, or almost any other color than the one which the Almighty thought was a pretty good color for trees—green.

I think they're made of plastic. Though they generally have the shape of real trees they singularly resemble overly-clipped and dyed French poodles.

The only glazed tree we ever had, when I was a kid, wasn't permanently disfigured. Once, while the whole family huddled happily for warmth in the dining room, a water pipe broke in our sub-Arctic living room and sprayed water all over our tree. Winters must have been more severe then, or coal less abundant. Anyway, the water froze and when we braved our way into the living room for one last look at the tree before turning in, lo and behold!—it was silvered with ice and a'glitter with tiny icicles. But as soon as we breathed on it, it returned to its fine normal state of greenness and regained its fine aroma—hailing, perhaps, the birth of the chlorophyll age.

No "Bad Side"

I suppose the modernistic Christmas tree comes in all scents—Chanel No. 5, Shocking, Tabu, sortilege and Aqua Velva. Naturally, the natural scent of a Christmas tree from the fields wouldn't do, any more than would the falling needles.

These new-fangled trees don't even have a "bad side." I remember as a kid that all of our trees always had a side that was to be politely deplored. My brothers and I would spend some time shopping around for the best tree available at 25 cents. But no matter how well we searched, my mother usually could find a "bad side." I can still hear her voice, as I lay under the tree enfolded by its tangy lower branches, saying, "Turn it just a little . . . just a little more . . . so the bad side is to the wall."

When the job was done we'd all feel a surge of accomplishment; that we had presented the tree in its best possible light, its "bad side" thoroughly concealed from the eyes of the prying.

Cats Would Complain

I wonder what my mother's cats would have thought about these new plastic trees, coated as they are with old match-heads, or blue cheese, or whatever it is? The cats would have complained bitterly, I suspect. They loved our trees, and climbed them ever so carefully. Our cats became additional ornaments on our trees, and we liked them up there, though casual acquaintances visiting my mother were sometimes startled to see a family of felines roaming about the limbs, holy pictures and tinsel.

There was something else about my mother's Christmas trees. I think I've mentioned it before. She had a horror (still does) about taking them down.

Along about the end of January, we'd bring into the house only such friends as understood that Christmas around our house was something different—not a thing to switch on and off like an electric light . . . if we had electric lights at that time.

About mid-February, my mother would say, was the real time to begin enjoying the tree. It would be pretty sparse by then, having shed a majority of its needles, but its beauty daily increased in my mother's mind. Sometimes there was a hint of spring in the air before she'd reluctantly pack away the treasured old ornaments and let us take out the tree and burn it.

There was never any trouble burning it. It was the driest wood in town . . . and the best beloved.

Can you imagine burning these fancy new-type Christmas trees? Well. I can . . . and I think a good time for the bonfire would be before Christmas.

Silicones May Solve Dishpan Hands Problems

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Housewife's eczema, or dishpan hands, is the bane of existence to many women. But it need not be, as many remedies are available including the new silicone ointments which coat the hands like invisible gloves and repel moisture and other common irritants used in the home.

The blue-eyed, thin skinned woman with a light complexion is the most likely candidate for this type of eczema because her skin is so sensitive. In addition, there is a close relationship between the nervous system and the skin and many housewives whose hands break out in this fashion are preoccupied with the spick and span routine. Stress encourages susceptibility of the skin to allergy and dermatitis.

Emotional tension also increases the output of the sweat glands, which in turn creates a condition analogous to prickly heat. Persons with this background are most likely to suffer when the hands come in contact with water, soap, and detergents.

The principal ingredients of household cleansing agents are alkalis and fatty acids which remove nature's protective oils from the skin. This leads to swelling of the cells of the outer layers which is followed by redness, thickening, dryness, and cracking.

The syndrome is indistinguishable from chapping, which is prone to occur in cold weather when a person goes out of doors after washing the hands, before enough time has elapsed for a protective covering of oil to re-form. Once the damage is done, a variety of physical, bacterial, and chemical irritants may keep eczema alive.

Dr. Henry M. Lewis advises victims of dishpan hands to buy several pairs of men's thin, white cotton gloves similar to the kind worn by pallbearers. They are turned inside out so that the seams face outward and the smooth surface lies against the skin. Rubber gloves are worn over the cotton mitts when doing the dishes, washing the clothes, and scrubbing the kitchen floor.

Dr. Lewis also recommends placing on the irritated hands several compresses saturated with a solution containing Burow's solution or potassium permanganate, followed by the application of a soothing ointment. ACTH or cortisone may be needed to help the patient over the hump but these hormones are not advised unless absolutely necessary.

Silicone preparations are making a bid as a modern remedy. They protect the skin against the irritating agents in soap and other cleansing substances. Several layers may be applied daily. Since these ointments are water and oil repellent, housework can be done without rubbing or washing off the cream.

Safe-Driving Day Needs Your Help

Newspapers in Cumberland as well as those throughout the country have carried story after story in the past few weeks leading up to S-D Day or Safe-Driving Day, which is being observed today.

The primary purpose of all the news stories has been to make the public, especially the motorist, safety conscious. S-D Day is one giant, concentrated effort to wipe death and injury off the streets and highways of America to show dramatically that it can be done.

In 1953, a total of 38,300 men, women and children were killed in traffic accidents. The economic loss, including property damage, hospital and medical expenses and other costs, was placed at 4 billion dollars.

One of those accidents of last year involved a safety expert and it was his mishap that led somewhat directly to the setting up of S-D Day. Plans and effort have been in the works for months, with President Eisenhower himself taking an active part in this war to save both lives and money.

Today, December 15, was designated as S-D Day somewhat by chance by the President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety which is the sponsor and also the coordinator of the nation-wide effort. As in Cumberland and Allegany County, various city, state and national organizations throughout America are lending a willing, helping hand.,

S-D Day arrives as this section is plagued by bad weather—fog, snow and rain—which means that the safe-driving problem very likely will be complicated by the elements.

Reducing the nation-wide traffic toll is no easy chore, but it can be done. And if it can be done today, there is no reason it cannot be done every day.

Most of the fatalities charged to traffic accidents and much of the property damage and other economic losses could have been prevented in the past if drivers and pedestrians alike would have realized their personal responsibility for their own safety as pedestrians, and safety of themselves and others as drivers. Traffic actually is a personal responsibility.

If you, and every other driver and pedestrian, will realize your personal responsibility and exercise plain old common sense today, S-D Day will be a success. Then it will be time on that same basis to make every day a day for safe driving.

These Days

The Young Too Old

Since I wrote a piece on those who are unemployed because they have passed 45, I have received a large number of letters on the subject which disclose a social condition that needs study. I want to quote a few comments from them:

"Never hire a man who has been up near the top to fill a lower rated job, because he will be unhappy with his surroundings and make an unsatisfactory employe, possibly a trouble maker."

The following paragraph is very interesting:

"Unfortunately, your age makes it difficult for us to give consideration to your employment. I know that this may seem strange to you but I am afraid you will just have to take my word for it. This is particularly difficult for me, because of the unusual background and experience which your history indicates, and I only wish it were possible for my decision to have been a favorable one. I trust you will understand."

One man found a way of beating the game, and set himself up as a consultant. He defines the term:

". . . A consultant is an experienced, competent executive that can't get a job . . ."

He describes his work:

". . . As a consultant your earnings are determined by your ability to get work and the length of time required to complete the job. Since my forced elevation to the status of a consultant, I have earned enough to pay about one half of the cost of maintaining my family; the other half has come from savings that my wife and I were building for our retirement. It's not a pretty picture and the sad part of it is that there are thousands of others in the same boat."

No one questions the ability of this man. He was just too old at 48 to be re-employed. He is now only 56. He got a job for a time, an especially created job. He writes me:

". . . I was assured that it was to be a full-time, permanent job and on the strength of this assurance, I accepted it at a salary equal to about one third of what my charge would have been as a consultant. The work I took over represented a part of the duties of the president and the executive vice president.

"The immediate urgent problem to be solved was briefly as follows:

"Management and the union were at loggerheads, a work slowdown was in progress and the company was losing money. Eight months after I took over, the union problem was smoothed out and the slowdown had been eliminated. At the end of ten months everything was normal, including profits. At the end of twelve months I was advised by the president that he was taking over my duties, that my job was to be abolished, but that I could remain with the company until I had made a suitable connection. At the end of thirteen months I was given two months pay and brushed out the front door to resume my consulting . . ."

I have selected this letter from a large number because it tells the story so well.

Some of the letters are very sad. I know one head of a company who was very anxious to get a man in his sixties, who is extraordinarily competent. This man asked for a guarantee for a period that would protect him and his family. The company accountants thought the best way would be an annuity which would guarantee him $20,000 a year over the period. The amount that had to be paid in a single payment for such an annuity is prohibitive.

So what do we do about these able human beings who cannot be employed because in the middle years, they are kept from their work by insurance rates, by pension fund costs, by all sorts of impediments which throw their competence into the discard? Are we to become so bureaucratically automatic in private enterprise that we need no wisdom, no experience, no mellowness? And is it equality of opportunity? And what is to become of those who pass 45 and for one of a thousand reasons lose their jobs? A man might even have been in business for himself and had to quit for any number of good reasons. What is to become of such men? Are they to become public charges?

How Are Things Going With The Old Aerial Team

Red China Government Has U. N. Fate In Its Hands

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Fantastic things are happening nowadays—for who would have thought that the head of the Red China government, which itself is not admitted to the United Nations, would today hold in his hands the fate of the United Nations?

By offering to send its secretary general to Peiping to negotiate the release of the 11 American airmen sentenced as "spies" by the same Chinese government, the United Nations has satisfied the pacifist and peace-at-any-price sentiment in various countries of the world but at the same time has taken a chance on the future of the U. N. This organization could, as a result of this latest incident, come to the end of its usefulness as an instrument for the enforcement of peace—the objective to which the U. N. charter so nobly aspired.

Humiliating Procedure

What has occurred is unprecedented in the history of international law and custom. The same organization which from 1950 to 1953 sent hundreds of thousands of men into battle in Korea to "repel aggression" and which itself adopted a resolution formally declaring Red China to be an "aggressor" now sends an envoy 8,000 miles to beg that same government to be merciful.

In all the history of international affairs there has been no step more humiliating to free nations. Their casualties, including 140,000 Americans, were incurred for the avowed purpose of humbling the aggressor.

If Mao agrees to confer with the secretary general of the U. N. at Peiping, a prolonged negotiation might develop in which Red China would demand admission to the United Nations as the ransom price for the release of the 11 airmen. This would mean a "loss of face" in Asia for the free nations and so strengthen the hands of the Communist imperialists, that the episode might be the forerunner of further defections to the Communists by the countries in Asia now wavering.

If, on the other hand, Mao rejects the offer or puts up conditions that are impossible for the U. N. countries to accept, the United Nations will be saved, provided it adopts a course firm enough to earn the respect of the free world. It is conceivable that the U. N. will be prompted to adopt stern measures, including a naval blockade as provided by the charter. Certainly nobody wants a resumption of hostilities and furthermore such a step can be avoided. A naval blockade does not necessarily mean war. In fact, the word "naval" is superfluous. For a modern blockade is accomplished primarily not by naval action at all.

Shut Off Trade

To make a blockade effective today, it is necessary only to shut off trade at the source and to refuse to grant licenses to export goods. Also, ships flying the flags of countries willing to participate in the embargo would agree not to carry the goods of any other country that wanted to export. If a naval search is necessary, it can be conducted outside European or Asiatic ports far away from China itself.

While the naval blockade was important in the first World War, it was less so in the second World War when laws and decrees governing "trading with the enemy" were adopted on the Allied side. This means, of course, a loss in money to some producers, but there is a way to make up such a loss by an indemnity fund. It would be a relatively insignificant expenditure compared to the horrors of another war and the expense of armament in such a war.

The American government was right, therefore, in submitting the issue to the United Nations assembly instead of adopting a unilateral course. Nobody — neither Senator Knowland nor any other leader—has really advocated that the United States "go it alone." The preoccupation here has been that the U.N. might desert the 11 American airmen and fail to make effective the resolutions, once adopted, which call upon all members to help to repel the aggressor.

For, strictly speaking, the detention of the 11 airmen is part of the act of aggression in Korea by the Communists. The armistice agreement signed by the Communists provided for the return of all U.N. prisoners of war. To break that agreement is to re-emphasize the action of the Reds in invading Korea in the first instance.

The United Nations on paper has enough authority to take collective action to assure the defeat of the aggressor.

Unless the U.N. majority is committed to peace at any price, the organization will take economic action by way of reprisal. Otherwise, the United States will be in the position of having forfeited its sovereignty and of having delegated the duty of protecting the lives of its own citizens to a foreign body which disdains the task. It is a critical moment for the U.N. and for American foreign policy.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Seeing ex-Prexy Hoover back in Germany is like waiting for the second show.

Just about 30 consecutive years ago Mr. Hoover was in Germany unloading the cornucopia of plenty unto all the inhabitants thereof.

Which benevolent largesse was based on the theory of being kind to thine enemy that thy days in the land may seem long.

Mr. Hoover and myself are old roomies. We went to different schools together. My diploma was leather in the shape of a boot.

At the time we write a prophetic paragraph, "Mr. Hoover is fattening Europe up for the next war." It only required 20 years for that stencil to incubate.

We didn't write that experience-based squib because we were at logger-noggins with Mr. Hoover, because we detested Europe or because we had reached that stage in numbness where we were using barbed wire for dental floss.

Europe was rebuilt by Anne Morgan, fed by Mr. Hoover and lulled into complacent belligerence by the dulcet strains of Krupp's yo-yo factory. Proof that long-range thinking also includes hiring rowboats by the hour,

Just about the time this stack of ever-blooming storm signals deponed, "When we spot a Japanese tourist with machine gun and bayonet we are not fooled by his dollar camera."

There is but one solution to our benevolent coddling of former sparring partners. We have to make the fences on the play-pens higher.

Impact Of Sen. McCarthy's Tactics Will Affect America For Long Time

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—This week happens to be the 22nd birthday of this column; also it's been four years since Joe McCarthy delivered an hour-long diatribe on the Senate floor demanding that this column be banned by editors, that Adam hats be boycotted; and when he first employed Indian Charlie's below-the-belt tactics in the men's cloakroom of the Sulgrave Club.

The latter two incidents were among the most painful of my life, in more ways that one, and it is with no pleasure that I recall them today.

I do not even get any satisfaction from the fact that Harry Truman, who was quite gleeful over these two incidents, has now changed his mind; nor that Senator Watkins of Utah has changed his. Senator Watkins, meeting Joe McCarthy the next day, remarked: "Joe, the newspapers differ as to where you hit him, but I hope both accounts were right."

A lot of people besides Senator Watkins have changed their minds since then. They realize that, far more important than anything that happened to me, the country has suffered and a lot of people have suffered — innocent people who couldn't defend themselves. I was able to defend myself. Most of my editors stuck by me loyally, and though I did lose my radio sponsor, a lot of other radio stations and sponsors have come to my support.

So, other than some painful and humiliating memories, I have no complaints to make.

What Happened To Others

But I do want to record some of the things that have happened to other people, little people who have been forgotten and pushed aside in Joe's rush for bigger and better headlines.

One of the first men he listed as a Communist in the State Department was Val Lorwin, then a labor adviser. McCarthy cited his name in February 1950 when he first charged, in Wheeling, W. Va., that there were "205 card-carrying Communists known to the secretary of state." Next day he changed the figure to 57, and the day after to 81.

And though General Bedell Smith, Republican undersecretary of state, swore under oath last year that not one Communist had been found in the State Department, Val Lorwin was indicted for perjury when he denied he was a Communist.

That was approximately four years ago. And for four years Lorwin lived under a cloud, unable to clear his name, unable to make much of a living. He had no money, but he borrowed some. A lot of friends helped him, and Jiggs Donohue, former commissioner of the District of Columbia, generously defended his case for cost.

Finally, the Justice Department went into court and asked that the case be dismissed. There was no evidence on which to base a prosecution.

I talked to Lorwin afterwards. He was not bitter. He had been through four years of hell, but said the experience had showed him how many fine people there were who believed in him and were willing to help him.

Joe's Defenders

Some people claim: "Joe McCarthy did a good job of cleaning up Communists, so he should be forgiven some of his mistakes."

Unfortunately they forget that Joe didn't start on communism until 1950, by which time the Justice Department had already indicted the top Communist leaders of the nation. I had exposed the Soviet spy ring in Canada in February 1946, the year McCarthy was elected to the Senate. I had warned the State Department about Alger Hiss, also in 1946; and exposed the Russian blueprint laboratory in a Silver Spring, Md., basement in September 1947.

Joe was four years late waking up to this danger, but when he did wake up, he made so many accusations that he started a wave of terroristic tactics in government that sometimes out-McCarthied McCarthy. That is one of the worst results of McCarthyism: those who are afraid they will be exposed by Joe if they don't outdo Joe.

For instance, in July 1953, the Navy Department suspended Abraham Chasanow, after 20 years' service. No charge was placed against him. For one whole year he couldn't even find out what the suspicion was. Finally the Washington newspapers took up his case, and the Navy belatedly restored Chasanow with a formal and public apology.

Again, take the case of a professional witness for the Justice Department, Paul Crouch. Mr. Crouch has been going around the country testifying against all sorts of people and making a good living from Uncle Sam—$9,000 a year—as a professional witness. But when he testified against Jacob Burck, Pulitzer prize winning cartoonist for the Chicago Sun-Times, that paper turned round and investigated him.

It found that, whereas Crouch testified he had been an editor of the Miami Herald, Editor George Beebe of the Herald gave an affidavit that he had only been a typesetter for three months.

Whereas Crouch testified he had been Florida state director of the CIO, the CIO gave an affidavit flatly to the contrary. In all, 29 misstatements of fact were found in Crouch's sworn testimony. Yet this was the man the Justice Department was using to out-McCarthy McCarthy.

McCarthy's Impact

It will take a long time for the government to get over its present Gestapo-NKVD tactics toward its own public servants.

Even more important, it will take State Department diplomats a long time to get away from the tactic of writing reports that they think would read well before a McCarthy committee rather than reporting on what they consider to be the truth.

If a diplomat knows that a future Senate committee may demand his dismissal because he wrote his considered judgment about China as he saw it, rather than writing what the politicians at home want him to write, then preventive war is a lot more likely.

For the diplomats of today know that John Paton Davies, John Carter Vincent, and John Service were all discharged because they reported what they thought in 1945 rather than what the politicians advocated nine years later.

Joe McCarthy has now differed with almost everyone in Washington: beginning with me and ending with President Eisenhower. And while those personal differences are not important, it is important and unfortunate that it will take the country a long time to get over the impact of his tactics.

Christmas Trees

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK —(INS)— Haven't had much chance to do any Christmas shopping of late, but I notice that the synthetic Christmas tree is continuing to make strides against civilization and tradition.

You know the so-called "tree" I mean. It is generally as thin and gaunt as an El Greco and spray-painted in glacial blue, or dead white, or almost any other color than the one which the Almighty thought was a pretty good color for trees—green.

I think they're made of plastic. Though they generally have the shape of real trees they singularly resemble overly-clipped and dyed French poodles.

The only glazed tree we ever had, when I was a kid, wasn't permanently disfigured. Once, while the whole family huddled happily for warmth in the dining room, a water pipe broke in our sub-Arctic living room and sprayed water all over our tree. Winters must have been more severe then, or coal less abundant. Anyway, the water froze and when we braved our way into the living room for one last look at the tree before turning in, lo and behold!—it was silvered with ice and a'glitter with tiny icicles. But as soon as we breathed on it, it returned to its fine normal state of greenness and regained its fine aroma—hailing, perhaps, the birth of the chlorophyll age.

No "Bad Side"

I suppose the modernistic Christmas tree comes in all scents—Chanel No. 5, Shocking, Tabu, sortilege and Aqua Velva. Naturally, the natural scent of a Christmas tree from the fields wouldn't do, any more than would the falling needles.

These new-fangled trees don't even have a "bad side." I remember as a kid that all of our trees always had a side that was to be politely deplored. My brothers and I would spend some time shopping around for the best tree available at 25 cents. But no matter how well we searched, my mother usually could find a "bad side." I can still hear her voice, as I lay under the tree enfolded by its tangy lower branches, saying, "Turn it just a little . . . just a little more . . . so the bad side is to the wall."

When the job was done we'd all feel a surge of accomplishment; that we had presented the tree in its best possible light, its "bad side" thoroughly concealed from the eyes of the prying.

Cats Would Complain

I wonder what my mother's cats would have thought about these new plastic trees, coated as they are with old match-heads, or blue cheese, or whatever it is? The cats would have complained bitterly, I suspect. They loved our trees, and climbed them ever so carefully. Our cats became additional ornaments on our trees, and we liked them up there, though casual acquaintances visiting my mother were sometimes startled to see a family of felines roaming about the limbs, holy pictures and tinsel.

There was something else about my mother's Christmas trees. I think I've mentioned it before. She had a horror (still does) about taking them down.

Along about the end of January, we'd bring into the house only such friends as understood that Christmas around our house was something different—not a thing to switch on and off like an electric light . . . if we had electric lights at that time.

About mid-February, my mother would say, was the real time to begin enjoying the tree. It would be pretty sparse by then, having shed a majority of its needles, but its beauty daily increased in my mother's mind. Sometimes there was a hint of spring in the air before she'd reluctantly pack away the treasured old ornaments and let us take out the tree and burn it.

There was never any trouble burning it. It was the driest wood in town . . . and the best beloved.

Can you imagine burning these fancy new-type Christmas trees? Well, I can . . . and I think a good time for the bonfire would be before Christmas.

Silicones May Solve Dishpan Hands Problems

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Housewife's eczema, or dishpan hands, is the bane of existence to many women. But it need not be, as many remedies are available including the new silicone ointments which coat the hands like invisible gloves and repel moisture and other common irritants used in the home.

The blue-eyed, thin skinned woman with a light complexion is the most likely candidate for this type of eczema because her skin is so sensitive. In addition, there is a close relationship between the nervous system and the skin and many housewives whose hands break out in this fashion are preoccupied with the spick and span routine. Stress encourages susceptibility of the skin to allergy and dermatitis.

Emotional tension also increases the output of the sweat glands, which in turn creates a condition analogous to prickly heat. Persons with this background are most likely to suffer when the hands come in contact with water, soap, and detergents.

The principal ingredients of household cleansing agents are alkalis and fatty acids which remove nature's protective oils from the skin. This leads to swelling of the cells of the outer layers which is followed by redness, thickening, dryness, and cracking.

The syndrome is indistinguishable from chapping, which is prone to occur in cold weather when a person goes out of doors after washing the hands, before enough time has elapsed for a protective covering of oil to re-form. Once the damage is done, a variety of physical, bacterial, and chemical irritants may keep eczema alive.

Dr. Henry M. Lewis advises victims of dishpan hands to buy several pairs of men's thin, white cotton gloves similar to the kind worn by pallbearers. They are turned inside out so that the seams face outward and the smooth surface lies against the skin. Rubber gloves are worn over the cotton mitts when doing the dishes, washing the clothes, and scrubbing the kitchen floor.

Dr. Lewis also recommends placing on the irritated hands several compresses saturated with a solution containing Burow's solution or potassium permanganate, followed by the application of a soothing ointment. ACTH or cortisone may be needed to help the patient over the hump but these hormones are not advised unless absolutely necessary.

Silicone preparations are making a bid as a modern remedy. They protect the skin against the irritating agents in soap and other cleansing substances. Several layers may be applied daily. Since these ointments are water and oil repellent, housework can be done without rubbing or washing off the cream.

Franklin Judge Paroles Two

Three young men who were involved in the breaking and entering of a service station in Pendleton county on October 12 have been placed on probation for five years.

Sentencing of the trio took place before Judge Harlan M. Calhoun at Franklin. They are Russell David Van Meter, Charles Faulkenburg Jr., and Leslie Robert Cockerham, all of Akron, Ohio.

The trio broke into the Midway Service Station at Brushy Run and the residence of Robert Lee Swick at Upper Tract.

One of the young men, Cockerham, was shot in the leg during the course of his arrest.

Probation officers said the trio had no previous record and because of their youth were paroled by Judge Calhoun.

Three young men who were involved in the breaking and entering of a service station in Pendleton county on October 12 have been placed on probation for five years.

Sentencing of the trio took place before Judge Harlan M. Calhoun at Franklin. They are Russell David Van Meter, Charles Faulkenburg Jr., and Leslie Robert Cockerham, all of Akron, Ohio.

The trio broke into the Midway Service Station at Brushy Run and the residence of Robert Lee Swick at Upper Tract.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 14 (INS) — Goethe's immortal "Faust" is coming to life as a Warner Brothers motion picture. Not only will the Goethe classic story be used, but Gounod's beautiful music. Both are in public domain.

Jack Warner says that he will explore the Metropolitan Opera to try to get his Marguerite and his Mephistopheles. If that isn't feasible, he'll cast Jack Palance as the Devil. Why not Mario Lanza for "Faust" who sold his soul to the Devil? Mario could play it, not have to diet, and his voice wouldn't have to be dubbed.

Wealthy, redhaired, fabulous Hope Hampton, widow of Jules Brulatour, arrives in Hollywood tomorrow. With her is her agent, William Taub, and they are headed for MGM to make a test.

This is how it happened: Hope was in the play "Hello Paree," and when Charles Trenet failed to appear, it closed.

Taub, who produced "Paree," said "Nicholas Schenck is sending Hope west to make the test, and it's possible 'Hello Paree' will wind up on the screen."

Born Bridget Kennedy, Hope has appeared in both movies and opera. A perennial first nighter, she hasn't missed a Broadway opening in years. Arrayed in ermine and diamonds, she is as much a regular as are the critics.

The bride's two sisters, Joan Connolly, who looks like Sheila, and Mrs. Maureen Lynch, whose husband is in Korea, and Guy's brother, Wayne Mosley (who brought Lori Nelson) represented the families of the bride and groom.

Spencer Tracy is again getting the urge to act on Broadway. All good actors do sooner or later. He was to have come right to Hollywood after arriving in New York from his vacation in Rome, but he stayed behind to read scripts.

Spence's only unreleased picture is "Bad Day At Black Rock," in which he is very good. He starts "Banion" for MGM just after the first of the year, so if he considers any of the many offers made him he couldn't do a Broadway play before spring.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Zasu Pitts, I am sorry to say, is back in St. John's Hospital. She went home after surgery, but suffered a relapse.

At the City of Hope party Ann Blyth laughed at the rumor that she is expecting a baby. "But someday," she said, "there will be other children, of course."

At Pep de Lucia's, Anna Magnani and Tennessee Williams had dinner and sat directly next to Marisa Pavan and her mother. Never once did Anna look at or speak to the little girl who is in "Rose Tattoo" with her, but Tennessee went over and sat down with Marisa and Mrs. Pierangeli.

Yvonne De Carlo isn't carrying a torch for Carlos Thompson, who's finding German actress Hannah Rucker very attractive. Yvonne is having a romance herself with Parisian writer Claud Boisell. Yvonne is headed for home and will be here any day.

Kitty Potter, very pretty waitress at Larry Finley's, has been signed by John Forbes for one of the leads in "Female Jesse James."

Benita Colman's mother, Mrs. Hume, was here just four days from London. Most of the time she spent at the studio with Benita, who was working with Ronnie on their TV show "Halls Of Ivy."

Dick English is writing a story on Paul Gregory for one of the big national magazines — and Dick is the boy who can do it.

Nice money if you can get it. Albert Dekker, who has a bit part in "Kiss Me Deadly," flew to location for one days' work and was paid $1500.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Valley Is Victor, 60-55; LaSalle Wins, Fort Hill Loses

Black Knights Top Piedmont, Sweep Series

'Coney Quint Wins 4th; Waddell Gets 19 And Mundeno 16

PIEDMONT, Dec. 14 — Before a packed house, Valley High School's Black Knights from Lonaconing made a sweep of its season series with Piedmont High School by defeating the Lions here tonight by the score of 60-55.

Coach John Meyers' aggregation had won the series opener on its home floor by the score of 54-53 in overtime last Tuesday.

Tonight's game was another seesaw battle and Valley had to come from behind to sew it up in the final quarter. Piedmont was in front at the quarter, 11-10, trailed at halftime, 26-23, and held a 5-point advantage at one time in the third period. Valley, however, reduced the margin to two points as the quarter ended, moved to the fore in the final heat and stayed there.

Richard "Dick" Waddell, 200-pound, 6-foot-5 center, led the Valley offensive by chucking in seven shots from the field and added five free throws for 19 markers. Bobby Mundeno grabbed runner-up honors with 16 points on five baskets and 6-8 fouls.

Clay Smith with 15, Bobby Niland 13 and Eddie Orndorff 11 garnered 39 of Piedmont's 55 tallies.

Piedmont lost Paul Amtower and Blake Baughman on personal fouls late in the game.

Valley had a 22-19 edge in field goals, hooped 16 of 27 foul shots compared to Piedmont's 17 out of 29.

Valley Junior High defeated Piedmont in the preliminary game, 33-32. Lineups:

Strike May Affect Telecast Of Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14 (AP)—Station KPIX, the CBS television outlet here, was struck today by the CIO National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians.

This raised the question of whether the fight could be relayed to CBS TV network facilities if the wage and jurisdiction dispute isn't settled by tomorrow night.

Late today, however, Nate Perlstein, advertising director for the sponsor of the fight telecast, Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer, said the fight definitely would be televised over 108 CBS stations.

He said arrangements are being made for a camera crew to come from Los Angeles with a TV truck and send the picture through KNX-TV there as the outlet, with the commercials "dubbed in."

But officials of the striking CIO local, the National Assn. of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians, raised immediate objection.

Strike May Affect Telecast Of Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14 (AP)—Station KPIX, the CBS television outlet here, was struck today by the CIO National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians.

This raised the question of whether the fight could be relayed to CBS TV network facilities if the wage and jurisdiction dispute isn't settled by tomorrow night.

Late today, however, Nate Perlstein, advertising director for the sponsor of the fight telecast, Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer, said the fight definitely would be televised over 108 CBS stations.

He said arrangements are being made for a camera crew to come from Los Angeles with a TV truck and send the picture through KNX-TV there as the outlet, with the commercials "dubbed in."

But officials of the striking CIO local, the National Assn. of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians, raised immediate objection.

Baltimore Orioles Purchase Cox And Roe From Dodgers

Brooklyn Gets $55,000, Minor League Players

Dodgers Will Send Jancse, Schwegman To Fort Worth Club

BROOKLYN, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers today sold third baseman Billy Cox and lefthanded pitcher Preacher Roe to Baltimore of the American League for cash, reported to be about $55,000.

Both veteran players had to be waived out of the National League before the deal could be completed.

Cox Classy Fielder

Cox, 35, is one of the best fielding third baseman in baseball. He batted .235 in 77 games last season, filling in at both shortstop and second base in addition to third.

Roe, 36-year-old former Dodger pitching ace, had a poor 3-4 record last season, appearing in only 15 games. The slim lefty from Arkansas started 10 games and finished only one, compiling a 5.00 earned run average for 63 innings.

In addition to the cash, Brooklyn gets two minor league players who will go to the Dodgers' Fort Worth farm in the Texas League. Both played with San Antonio in the same league last year. They are John Jancse, a 23-year-old righthanded pitcher who had a 13-4 record and a 3.02 earned run average and second baseman Harry Schwegman, 26, who hit .253 at San Antonio.

Waived Out Of National

Sale of Cox and Roe did not come as much of a surprise for it had been reported 10 days ago that the Dodgers had secured National League waivers on Cox. Both Cox and Roe came together from Pittsburgh to the Dodgers, along with infielder Gene Mauch in 1947 when Dixie Walker, Hal Gregg and Vic Lombardi went to the Pirates.

SOLD AMERICAN—Brooklyn Dodgers' left-handed pitcher Preacher Roe, left, and third baseman Billy Cox, right, were sold yesterday to Baltimore of the American League for cash, reported to be about $55,000. Both of the veterans had to be waived out of the National League before the deal could be consummated. In addition to the cash Brooklyn will get two minor league players who will go to the Dodgers' Fort Worth farm team.

Kiner's Salary Cut 40 Per Cent

To Get $26,000 Less Than Cubs Paid Him

CLEVELAND, Dec. 14—(INS)—Slugger Ralph Kiner, in an unprecedented move, today asked for and signed a contract calling for a 40 percent salary cut while negotiating with his new boss, General Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians.

RALPH KINER

The slash, 15 percent above the maximum allowed by the major leagues, was approved by American League president William Harridge in a telephone conversation from Cleveland Stadium.

Kiner told Tribe officials that he wanted the cut because he felt that he "did not earn last year's huge salary" and that he "wants a fresh start in the American League."

The ex-National Leaguer told newsmen he also asked for the smaller salary so that there "wouldn't be any resentment" toward him by his lesser paid teammates. He reported that while a member of the Chicago Cubs, some team members resented him because of his large salary.

Tribe officials said that the contract contained no attendance clause or "any gimmicks" of any kind.

His salary with the American League champions Indians is slightly less $40,000—almost $26,000 less than the reported $65,000 he received as a member of the Cubs.

Kiner, who reportedly was purchased for between $50,000 and $75,000 last month, hit more than 350 home runs in his nine-year National League career.

500 Midshipmen Plan Trip To Sugar Bowl

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 14 (AP)—About 550 midshipmen have volunteered to go to New Orleans to cheer their Navy football team against Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 1.

Capt. Elliott Loughlin said today that many had indicated their intentions of going to the game from their homes during Christmas leave.

Bobo Olson Defends Title Against Langlois Tonight

Champion Favorite In Bout On Coast

By BOB MYERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14 (AP)—Champion Carl (Bobo) Olson today remained the choice to continue his reign over the world middleweight division in his 15-round title contest with Pierre Langlois of France tomorrow night.

Few, if any of the boxing critics think that Olson figures to lose to the amiable challenger from France.

Most believe it will be close, this third defense of the title by balding Bobo, and many think it might develop into an entertaining engagement for a national television audience.

The fight goes on in San Francisco's Cow Palace at 10 p.m. (EST) over the Columbia Broadcasting System network.

The joint promotion agencies, San Francisco's Bennie Ford and the International Boxing Club, predict that some 11,000 fans will pay around $100,000 to sit in on the encounter.

Neither fighter, it may be pointed out, is a noted knockout artist. Both seem to like to fight in close. They are undeniably rough, mean and inflict serious damage in close. Olson particularly. But often times this style of mayhem isn't appreciated by any one sitting more than six rows back of the ring.

Langlois' record in 1954 is spotty. He lost decision to Gil Turner and Carmen Basilio. But he beat the No. 1 contender, Joey Giardello, in 10 rounds last May.

Olson has the more impressive record for 1954. His good wins include such as Kid Gavilan and Rocky Castellani in defense of the title he won from Randy Turpin in October 1953.

Hank Thompson Signs, Two Giants Sold

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Third baseman Hank Thompson today signed a reported $20,000 contract with the New York Giants for the 1955 season and pitchers Charley Fowler and Alex Konikowski were sold by the world champions to their Minneapolis farm club of the American Association.

Thompson was a star in the Giants' World Series sweep over Cleveland and a .263 hitter during the regular season with 26 home runs and 86 runs batted in.

Ridgeley Seeks Third PVC Win

Hosts Elks Tonight, Kingwood At Parsons

Victorious in their first two outings, Coach Chet Payne's Ridgeley High Blackhawks will play their first game of the season at home tonight when they meet Elk Garden High's Elks at 8 o'clock.

The Hawks will be going for their third win of the P.V.C. campaign after having knocked off West Virginia School for the Deaf, 68-36, and Romney High School, 51-22.

Elk Garden lost its first three starts and was scheduled to play in Keyser last night.

Friday night Ridgeley will play host to Fort Hill's Sentinels.

Parsons High's Panthers, who opened their season with a 47-43 win over Fort Hill here last week, will launch their home campaign with the Kingwood High Stags tonight.

Defeated in their last four starts, the Shepherd Rams will try to regain winning form when they tackle Wilson Teachers College of Washington at Shepherdstown tonight.

Saddler's Manager Puts Blast On NBA

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Sandy Saddler's manager today blasted the National Boxing Association for withdrawing title recognition from the featherweight champion.

"The only people I know who can give or take away titles are kings and queens," said Charlie Johnston, Saddler's manager. "I never heard of the NBA being king of anything.

"Sandy will defend his title when he's ready and that will be in February. He needs one more fight. I won't let him put the title on the line until I'm sure he's right.

"All my champions always have fought before their time was up, six months rule or not. Sandy was in the Army for two years and it has taken him a little longer to get back in stride."

Sandy hasn't defended since Sept. 26, 1951. He went into the Army early in 1952. During 1954, Saddler has fought nine times, two or three of them on leave before he was discharged from the Army. He has won eight, seven by knockouts, and lost one to Hoacine Khalfi of Algeria, May 17.

Navy Loses, 77-65

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 14 (AP)—Bart Leach and Joe Sturgis led the way today as Penn handed Navy its third straight home defeat of the basketball season, 77-65. Leach had 26 points and Sturgis 22.

Cincinnati Redlegs Show $68,065 Profit

CINCINNATI, Dec. 14 (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs, who have been in the red for every National League baseball season since 1949, wound up 1954 with a net profit of $68,065.62.

That was the report given to stockholders today by General Manager Gabe Paul for a season in which home attendance showed an increase of 156,081 and in which the team finished fifth—higher than it had been since a similar finish in 1947. Cincinnati hasn't been able to land in the first division since 1944.

On the subject of the Redlegs, Paul reported the home attendance in 1954 was 704,167 as compared with 548,086 in 1953 and the road attendance increased from 665,447 to 677,012.

The net profit compared with a net loss of $35,042.43 in 1953.

Shuffle Loop Idle

Teams of the Allegany County Ladies' Shuffleboard League will be idle tonight, December 22 and 29. Play will be resumed on Wednesday, January 5.

Frankie Albert Will Quit Forty Niners

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13 (AP)—Frankie Albert, Stanford All-America quarterback who starred from 1948 to 1952 for the San Francisco 49ers, said today he will sever relations with the National Football League club Jan. 1.

His announcement followed by a day the firing of Head Coach L.T. (Buck) Shaw who was Albert's mentor while he played for the 49ers. But Albert said he turned in his notice before yesterday's firing.

Yanks Sign Coleman

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—The New York Yankees, continuing to line up their athletes at a brisk pace, today announced the signing of Jerry Coleman, veteran infielder, to a 1955 contract. Coleman is the seventh Yankee to come to terms.

The former marine captain, who experienced some difficulty rounding into playing shape last year after his second hitch with the Marines, was given the same salary as last season despite a subpar .217 batting average.

Baltimore Orioles Purchase Cox And Roe From Dodgers

Brooklyn Gets $55,000, Minor League Players

Dodgers Will Send Jancse, Schwegman To Fort Worth Club

BROOKLYN, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers today sold third baseman Billy Cox and lefthanded pitcher Preacher Roe to Baltimore of the American League for cash, reported to be about $55,000.

Both veteran players had to be waived out of the National League before the deal could be completed.

Cox Classy Fielder

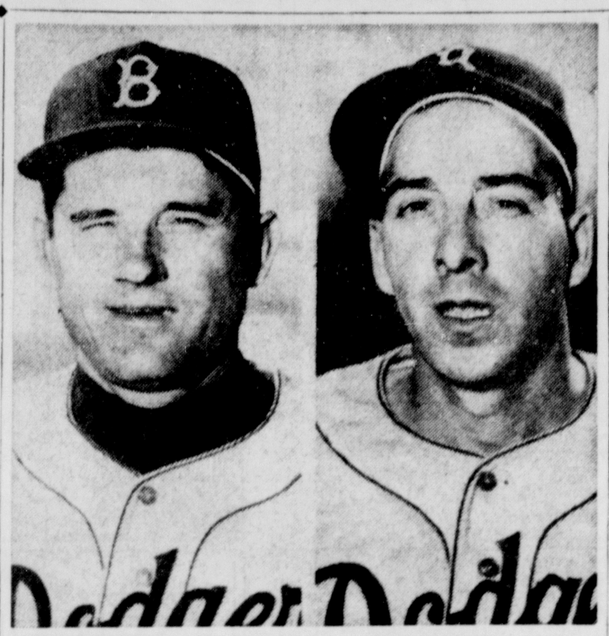

Cox, 35, is one of the best fielding third baseman in baseball. He batted .235 in 77 games last season, filling in at both shortstop and second base in addition to third.

Roe, 36-year-old former Dodger pitching ace, had a poor 3-4 record last season, appearing in only 15 games. The slim lefty from Arkansas started 10 games and finished only one, compiling a 5.00 earned run average for 63 innings.

In addition to the cash, Brooklyn gets two minor league players who will go to the Dodgers' Fort Worth farm in the Texas League. Both played with San Antonio in the same league last year. They are John Jancse, a 23-year-old righthanded pitcher who had a 13-4 record and a 3.02 earned run average and second baseman Harry Schwegman, 26, who hit .253 at San Antonio.

Waived Out Of National

Sale of Cox and Roe did not come as much of a surprise for it had been reported 10 days ago that the Dodgers had secured National League waivers on Cox. Both Cox and Roe came together from Pittsburgh to the Dodgers, along with infielder Gene Mauch in 1947 when Dixie Walker, Hal Gregg and Vic Lombardi went to the Pirates.

SOLD AMERICAN—Brooklyn Dodgers' left-handed pitcher Preacher Roe, left, and third baseman Billy Cox, right, were sold yesterday to Baltimore of the American League for cash, reported to be about $55,000. Both of the veterans had to be waived out of the National League before the deal could be consummated. In addition to the cash Brooklyn will get two minor league players who will go to the Dodgers' Fort Worth farm team.

Kiner's Salary Cut 40 Per Cent

To Get $26,000 Less Than Cubs Paid Him

CLEVELAND, Dec. 14—(INS)—Slugger Ralph Kiner, in an unprecedented move, today asked for and signed a contract calling for a 40 percent salary cut while negotiating with his new boss, General Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians.

RALPH KINER

The slash, 15 percent above the maximum allowed by the major leagues, was approved by American League president William Harridge in a telephone conversation from Cleveland Stadium.

Kiner told Tribe officials that he wanted the cut because he felt that he "did not earn last year's huge salary" and that he "wants a fresh start in the American League."

The ex-National Leaguer told newsmen he also asked for the smaller salary so that there "wouldn't be any resentment" toward him by his lesser paid teammates. He reported that while a member of the Chicago Cubs, some team members resented him because of his large salary.

Tribe officials said that the contract contained no attendance clause or "any gimmicks" of any kind.

His salary with the American League champions Indians is slightly less $40,000—almost $26,000 less than the reported $65,000 he received as a member of the Cubs.

Kiner, who reportedly was purchased for between $50,000 and $75,000 last month, hit more than 350 home runs in his nine-year National League career.

500 Midshipmen Plan Trip To Sugar Bowl

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 14 (AP)—About 550 midshipmen have volunteered to go to New Orleans to cheer their Navy football team against Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 1.

Capt. Elliott Loughlin said today that many had indicated their intentions of going to the game from their homes during Christmas leave.

Bobo Olson Defends Title Against Langlois Tonight

Champion Favorite In Bout On Coast

By BOB MYERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14 (AP)—Champion Carl (Bobo) Olson today remained the choice to continue his reign over the world middleweight division in his 15-round title contest with Pierre Langlois of France tomorrow night.

Few, if any of the boxing critics think that Olson figures to lose to the amiable challenger from France.

x—Official weights will be announced after weigh-in Wednesday.

Most believe it will be close, this third defense of the title by balding Bobo, and many think it might develop into an entertaining engagement for a national television audience.

The fight goes on in San Francisco's Cow Palace at 10 p.m. (EST) over the Columbia Broadcasting System network.

The joint promotion agencies, San Francisco's Bennie Ford and the International Boxing Club, predict that some 11,000 fans will pay around $100,000 to sit in on the encounter.

Neither fighter, it may be pointed out, is a noted knockout artist. Both seem to like to fight in close. They are undeniably rough, mean and inflict serious damage in close. Olson particularly. But often times this style of mayhem isn't appreciated by any one sitting more than six rows back of the ring.

Langlois' record in 1954 is spotty. He lost decision to Gil Turner and Carmen Basilio. But he beat the No. 1 contender, Joey Giardello, in 10 rounds last May.

Olson has the more impressive record for 1954. His good wins include such as Kid Gavilan and Rocky Castellani in defense of the title he won from Randy Turpin in October 1953.

Hank Thompson Signs, Two Giants Sold

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Third baseman Hank Thompson today signed a reported $20,000 contract with the New York Giants for the 1955 season and pitchers Charley Fowler and Alex Konikowski were sold by the world champions to their Minneapolis farm club of the American Association.

Thompson was a star in the Giants' World Series sweep over Cleveland and a .263 hitter during the regular season with 26 home runs and 86 runs batted in.

Ridgeley Seeks Third PVC Win

Hosts Elks Tonight, Kingwood At Parsons

Victorious in their first two outings, Coach Chet Payne's Ridgeley High Blackhawks will play their first game of the season at home tonight when they meet Elk Garden High's Elks at 8 o'clock.

The Hawks will be going for their third win of the P.V.C. campaign after having knocked off West Virginia School for the Deaf, 68-36, and Romney High School, 51-22.

Elk Garden lost its first three starts and was scheduled to play in Keyser last night.

Friday night Ridgeley will play host to Fort Hill's Sentinels.

Parsons High's Panthers, who opened their season with a 47-43 win over Fort Hill here last week, will launch their home campaign with the Kingwood High Stags tonight.

Defeated in their last four starts, the Shepherd Rams will try to regain winning form when they tackle Wilson Teachers College of Washington at Shepherdstown tonight.

Saddler's Manager Puts Blast On NBA

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—Sandy Saddler's manager today blasted the National Boxing Association for withdrawing title recognition from the featherweight champion.

"The only people I know who can give or take away titles are kings and queens," said Charlie Johnston, Saddler's manager. "I never heard of the NBA being king of anything.

"Sandy will defend his title when he's ready and that will be in February. He needs one more fight. I won't let him put the title on the line until I'm sure he's right.

"All my champions always have fought before their time was up, six months rule or not. Sandy was in the Army for two years and it has taken him a little longer to get back in stride."

Sandy hasn't defended since Sept. 26, 1951. He went into the Army early in 1952. During 1954, Saddler has fought nine times, two or three of them on leave before he was discharged from the Army. He has won eight, seven by knockouts, and lost one to Hoacine Khalfi of Algeria, May 17.

Navy Loses, 77-65

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 14 (AP)—Bart Leach and Joe Sturgis led the way today as Penn handed Navy its third straight home defeat of the basketball season, 77-65. Leach had 26 points and Sturgis 22.

Cincinnati Redlegs Show $68,065 Profit

CINCINNATI, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs, who have been in the red for every National League baseball season since 1949, wound up 1954 with a net profit of $68,065.62.

That was the report given to stockholders today by General Manager Gabe Paul for a season in which home attendance showed an increase of 156,081 and in which the team finished fifth—higher than it had been since a similar finish in 1947. Cincinnati hasn't been able to land in the first division since 1944.

On the subject of the Redlegs, Paul reported the home attendance in 1954 was 704,167 as compared with 548,086 in 1953 and the road attendance increased from 665,447 to 677,012.

The net profit compared with a net loss of $35,042.43 in 1953.

Shuffle Loop Idle

Teams of the Allegany County Ladies' Shuffleboard League will be idle tonight, December 22 and 29. Play will be resumed on Wednesday, January 5.

Frankie Albert Will Quit Forty Niners

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 13 (AP)—Frankie Albert, Stanford All-America quarterback who starred from 1948 to 1952 for the San Francisco 49ers, said today he will sever relations with the National Football League club Jan. 1.

His announcement followed by a day the firing of Head Coach L.T. (Buck) Shaw who was Albert's mentor while he played for the 49ers. But Albert said he turned in his notice before yesterday's firing.

Yanks Sign Coleman

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—The New York Yankees, continuing to line up their athletes at a brisk pace, today announced the signing of Jerry Coleman, veteran infielder, to a 1955 contract. Coleman is the seventh Yankee to come to terms.

The former marine captain, who experienced some difficulty rounding into playing shape last year after his second hitch with the Marines, was given the same salary as last season despite a subpar .217 batting average.

Disk Jockey Chatter

Mr. Richard Pack, one of the most profound scholars of the genus disk jockey—he has studied all kinds of them from coast to coast—has written a little sketch impaling the more terrible species of that profession on some very sharp satire, some of which I though I'd pass along.

We'll start with type number one—the jivester, who talks like this: "All right, gates—we're in thee groove and I want you to dig this crazy riff tune coming up rete now. It's solid, malerooney and what I mean real gone—but gone. Did I say gone? Man—this is cool! It's the most!" Comment Mr. Pack: "This type speaks only jive, man, and actually nobody understands him—not even the teenagers.

And then there is type number two—the inside story or name dropper, whose patter goes like this: "I got a new platter here now on the Smerl label—the boys in the business think this is real sensational. Manny thinks it will be way up there in a couple of weeks and Mitch told me the other night it'll be the biggest thing since 'Stardust.' I was sitting around talking platters the other night with Dinah, Mindy, Frank, Eddy, Rosemary and Arturo and they claim . . ."

Besides name-dropping, another characteristic of this species, says Pack, is an aversion to any recognized label like RCA Victor or Columbia or Decca. "He likes offbeat, strange, esoteric labels—small companies who press a few records in some converted garage by the light of the moon. You know—labels like Gonzaga, Halvah, Erotic and Grotnick."

Type number three is the vocus profundus who has been unduly influenced by Marlon Brando. "Got . . . gotta new . . . little number here, friends . . . A new number . . . on Decca . . . Decca, that is . . . Cute little tune . . . Let's say we give it a spin, huh . . . shall we . . . a spin, huh." The voice almost dying away at the end.

Then there's the record Romeo who crawls right out of the loudspeaker into the ladies' laps: "Hi, honey. Hiya today, dreamboat. Hmmmm? What say we cuddle up t'gether with a couple of nice platters. Turn the lights down low and spin a few, huh. Let's dream together, huh, sugar."

"Type 4," says Mr. Pack, "is a higher type or at least his music is. This is the classical music announcer. Actually he doesn't like music. He much prefers to listen to his own voice."

He goes on like this: "Good evening. This evening we are privileged to hear Mozart's Quartet in C sharp Minor—Kirschel—listing K-45675—that's K-45675. This work with its interesting and thematic tendencies varies ausmotically with the esthetic values of the theme which is invariably teneric. Now this piece was written in Mozart's early or East-Weimer period when the composer, then a boy of thirteen, was living in a suburb of Potsdam, Ima-Uma-Bubba, on the Rhine. The musicologist, Welschmerz tells us an interesting anecdote of this period in the young Mozart's life . . ." and on and on.

Mr. Pack winds up his sketch with an interview with what he

Mrs. Mary Moran and Family

We take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation to friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful following the death of my husband. In Memoriam

STEWART—In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Mary Rosella Stewart, who died 2 years ago, December 15, 1952.

Oh, mother dear, when you were here,
We had your tender care:
And none can ever take your place,
Or fill that vacant chair.
You were the sunlight of our home,
Till God took you away;
But we never will forget you
And we'll meet you in Heaven, we pray.

Sadly missed by
Father, son & daughters

In memory of our loving Son and Brother, Charles "Lou" Fleegle, killed in battle 10 years ago, Dec. 15th, 1944.

Your face, your smile and tender care,
From now until Eternity.

Sadly missed by:
Father, Mother, Sister and Brother

Card of Thanks

We are taking this means to thank our relatives and friends for the kindness extended to us during the illness and following the death of our husband and brother, Joseph A. Moran, Westernport.

Wish to thank Rev. George Pugh and Rev. Charles Quinn, assistant pastors of St. Peter's Catholic Church also those who sent floral offerings and donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

Mrs. Mary Moran and Family

We take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation to friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful following the death of my husband. We are grateful for the use of cars, those who sent floral tributes. We especially wish to thank the pallbearers and Father Lyness of the St. Patrick's Rectory.

Wife, Lena Perry

In Memoriam

STEWART—In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Mary Rosella Stewart, who died 2 years ago, December 15, 1952.

Oh, mother dear, when you were here,
We had your tender care;
And none can ever take your place,
Or fill that vacant chair.
You were the sunlight of our home,
Till God took you away;
But we never will forget you
And we'll meet you in Heaven, we pray.

Sadly missed by
Father, son & daughters

In memory of our loving Son and Brother, Charles "Lou" Fleegle, killed in battle 10 years ago, Dec. 15th, 1944.

Your face, your smile and tender care,
Your place with us, your vacant chair,
Our memories of you will always be...
From now until Eternity.

Sadly missed by:
Father, Mother, Sister and Brother

On The Line
by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—(INS)—The neophyte dumped into the vortex of a TV color extravaganza such as "Dateline," which saluted the opening of New York's Memorial Press Center, can comprehend the dismay of "Bugs" Baer's chicken which was hatched in an egg-beater.

Once he landed on stage, the bit player, in this case a reporter wandering farther afield than Taegu, looked around for an exit. There are no exits. Let him start for a likely hole in the wall and he was sternly warned, via a menacing hiss, to stand still—or he'd walk in front of a player or camera.

Let him try to flee in the direction whence he came and he found himself ensnafled in Tony Charmoli's razzle-dazzle ballet, depicting a scene from the life and times of Milt Caniff's rugged lightcolonel, Steve Canyon. Extricated, he was back in dead center, flush in the great snake-pit of the fat, black writhing camera cables,

Finally, a man with an ear-piece, receiving secret instructions from men in a control room some place far and remote, yet as over-poweringly in charge, as "big brother" took the wanderer in hand, led him to a dim blood-like mark on the incredibly cluttered studio floor and said, ""stand there until I give you the signal; then move over to that other mark, count ten if you can under your breath, and say your word."

The poor soul stood there, beached in nightmareland. Voices sounded around him. Voices that had not a care in the world. Voices that were fresh and clean and crisp though the owners had rehearsed these words and deeds for days . . . and nights.

John Daly, an incomparably deft man at this business, kept the show moving along. And on the wings of Richard Rodgers' music there entered and left such people as Bob Hope, Martha Raye, Sid Caesar, Perry Como, Eddie Fisher (by some miraculous leap to California), Marian Anderson, Carl Sandburg, Robert E. Shewood, Carl Reiner, the aforementioned Caniff, war ace Col. Philip Cochran, Fleur Cowles, H. V. Kaltenborn, Inez Robb, Elsa Maxwell, Hal Boyle, Lawrence Spivak, and other gifted people bent upon putting on a show worthy of a Memorial Press Center dedicated to war correspondents who fell in the line of duty.

Have there ever been two finer performances on television than those of Ray Walston, who played Ernie Pyle, and Philip Abbott, who played the dying sergeant in Bob Sherwood's great little play?

Numerically, though they were in great abundance, the artists were far outnumbered. Two dozen men were on and behind the four huge color cameras. A greater number attended the kleig lights and the lightning shifting of scenes. There were costume people, makeup, a small brigade of writers, swarms of "representatives" and agents, and hosts of masterminds. These included the brilliant producer Fred Coe, executive producer for NBC; Jack Rayel, director Alan Handley, who flew in from Hollywood, associate producer Bill Nichols, scenery boss Theodore Cooper, costumer Rose Bogdanoff, and Harry Sosnick in charge of a 90-piece orchestra.

The President of the United States worked on this one, too. When Edward R. Murrow and a few others at the Overseas Press Club first suggested the possibility of a huge TV show built around the formal opening, we felt it proper that the President—who knew so many of the correspondents we honor—say something. The request finally reached Mr. Eisenhower in the midst of his cold war with Red China, his hot one with Sen. McCarthy, and a thousand other chores. But he found 15 minutes one day, was given the theme by John Daly, and turned in a memorable job. So did Henry Ford II.

For long weeks it did not seem possible that there could be a show. Then Toots Shor was appealed to. He got Bob Hope . . . and the floodgates of talent swung open. A lot of hardworking people around the Overseas Press Club, spit on their hands and, to quote member Herbert Bayard Swope, fact emerged from fantasy. Among these were Patricia Lockridge Hartwell, Mrs. Cowles, Eileen Lange and some gents.

It was a lot to compress upon your TV screen. You saw it through the broad (or wrong) end of a mighty telescope.

Aged Keyser Man Is Hospitalized

KEYSER—L. O. Mott, resident of South Main Street, who has been a patient in Potomac Valley Hospital for the past several weeks, is reported in serious condition. He was taken to the hospital following a fall in which one leg was injured but not broken, and has been a patient since.

Mr. Mott is getting close to his 91st birthday, is believed to be the oldest man in the city. It has been his custom to walk from his home down town, visit with friends along the way and call on others in places of business. In the past year or year and a half, he has commented on the fact that the "Main Street Hill is becoming steeper," but he continued his daily walks, most times twice in a day.

Daily Bridge Lesson — by Barclay

INFLUENCE OF A DOUBLE

WHAT influence will a business double by you have on the play of the hand? That is a question of telling import in many a case. With most players, since the doubling of a voluntarily-bid slam is meant as a lead-director, generally causing the opener to pick the first suit bid by the dummy, it is well to think a few moments about whether or not that may help the declarer. If you decide in the affirmative, it is sound to pass and hope your partner will pick the more hopeful lead.

	♠ None ♥ J 3 2 ♦ A J 4 3 ♣ A J 10 9 5 3
♠ A 6 5 3 ♥ K 10 8 5 ♦ 8 ♣ Q 8 6 2	N W E S	♠ 10 8 7 4 ♥ A Q 7 4 ♦ 10 7 ♣ K 7 4
	♠ K Q J 9 2 ♥ 9 6 ♦ K Q 9 6 5 2 ♣ None

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	6 ♦	Dbl.

Did you ever see a man try harder to prevent the lead of a particular suit than North did with his bid and rebid hearts on this tournament deal, thereby taking quite a bit of a chance. It was a calculated risk, however. After South's bid of his second suit, spades, there was slight likelihood that he would support even rebid hearts.

It happened that East, with his double, aided the nefarious plan of the tricky North operative, Jay T. Feigus, one of New York's best, playing with one of his favorite partners, Raymond P. Duggan. West felt that the double compelled a lead of the first suit bid in the dummy, clubs, so he opened the Q. The A took it for a heart discard, the J was covered by the K and ruffed, the diamond K was scored and the 5 was led to the A, the club 10 brought a heart discard and the 9 another.

Since the spade A was where it got trapped by a ruff when it covered the K, clubs disposed of the last two losers, in spades. That gave the declarer all thirteen tricks. Wouldn't you think that would give this pair the North-South top on the deal? It didn't. Why? Because one East-West pair got into the unthinkable sacrifice contract of 7-Spades doubled, which went down a bushel full of tricks.

If South bids and rebids clubs, North hearts and diamonds and South then 3-No Trumps, what defense would you put up?

Late Selling Flurry Puts Prices Down At The Close

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP) — A late flurry of selling knocked the stock market out of a narrow rut of irregularity today, and prices were down all around at the close.

All divisions of the market were down, although some firmness was found in oils. The railroad section was boosted as a group by a rise of 6¼ at 153¼ in Atlantic Coast Line. It was up 8⅞ yesterday on investment demand in a thin market.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 70 cents at $148.70. It was up 20 cents yesterday. The industrial component of the average dropped $1.60 and utilities were off 20 cents while the railroads, because of Atlantic Coast Line, were up 10 cents at a new high of $116.00.

Volume was the lowest in a month and a half at 2,650,000 shares.

At the top of the most active list was Texas Pacific Land Trust up ⅝ at 14 on 67,400 shares. It is selling ex-distribution four shares of TXL Oil Corp., which was the second most active issue up 2¼ at 34⅞.

Electric & Musical Industries, traded in blocks as large as 10,000 shares, was third most active up ⅜ at 3⅝.

ARBUTHNOT: Not an announcer, Bud! Don't ever call me that! I'm a personality.

PACK: What else?

ARBUTHNOT: A disk jockey. A dee-jay. A jockey.

PACK: Is that all?

ARBUTHNOT: Also a platter spinner. A platter turner. A record rider.

PACK: I see. And where do you get these—uh—platters?

ARBUTHNOT: From the waxworks, naturally. I always tell my listeners: "Here it is, folks, hot off the waxworks."

PACK: And do you have any other convenient similes for recordings?

ARBUTHNOT: I got a million of 'em—a million. Dig this: biscuits, discs, pressings . . .

PACK: Now, tell me, do you distinguish between various kinds of platters?

ARBUTHNOT: New release—latest release.

PACK: What about it?

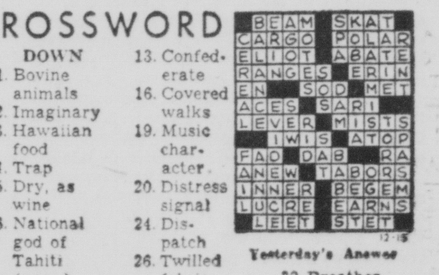

ARBUTHNOT: Here it is—the latest release by Franky, Messenger just brought it here a few seconds ago. And you're going to hear it for the first time on any program in this town right here.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

On The Line
by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—(INS)—The neophyte dumped into the vortex of a TV color extravaganza such as "Dateline," which saluted the opening of New York's Memorial Press Center, can comprehend the dismay of "Bugs" Baer's chicken which was hatched in an egg-beater.

Once he landed on stage, the bit player, in this case a reporter wandering farther afield than Taegu, looked around for an exit. There are no exits. Let him start for a likely hole in the wall and he was sternly warned, via a menacing hiss, to stand still—or he'd walk in front of a player or camera.

Let him try to flee in the direction whence he came and he found himself ensnafled in Tony Charmoli's razzle-dazzle ballet, depicting a scene from the life and times of Milt Caniff's rugged light-colonel, Steve Canyon. Extricated, he was back in dead center, flush in the great snake-pit of the fat, black writhing camera cables,

Finally, a man with an ear-piece, receiving secret instructions from men in a control room some place far and remote, yet as over-poweringly in charge, as "big brother" took the wanderer in hand, led him to a dim blood-like mark on the incredibly cluttered studio floor and said, ""'stand there until I give you the signal; then move over to that other mark, count ten if you can under your breath, and say your word."

The poor soul stood there, beached in nightmareland. Voices sounded around him. Voices that had not a care in the world. Voices that were fresh and clean and crisp though the owners had rehearsed these words and deeds for days . . . and nights.

John Daly, an incomparably deft man at this business, kept the show moving along. And on the wings of Richard Rodgers' music there entered and left such people as Bob Hope, Martha Raye, Sid Caesar, Perry Como, Eddie Fisher (by some miraculous leap to California), Marian Anderson, Carl Sandburg, Robert E. Shewood, Carl Reiner, the aforementioned Caniff, war ace Col. Philip Cochran, Fleur Cowles, H. V. Kaltenborn, Inez Robb, Elsa Maxwell, Hal Boyle, Lawrence Spivak, and other gifted people bent upon putting on a show worthy of a Memorial Press Center dedicated to war correspondents who fell in the line of duty.

Have there ever been two finer performances on television than those of Ray Walston, who played Ernie Pyle, and Philip Abbott, who played the dying sergeant in Bob Sherwood's great little play?

Numerically, though they were in great abundance, the artists were far outnumbered. Two dozen men were on and behind the four huge color cameras. A greater number attended the kleig lights and the lightning shifting of scenes. There were costume people, make-up, a small brigade of writers, swarms of "representatives" and agents, and hosts of masterminds. These included the brilliant producer Fred Coe," executive producer for NBC; Jack Rayel, director Alan Handley, who flew in from Hollywood, associate producer Bill Nichols, scenery boss Theodore Cooper, costumer Rose Bogdanoff, and Harry Sosnick in charge of a 90-piece orchestra.

The President of the United States worked on this one, too. When Edward R. Murrow and a few others at the Overseas Press Club first suggested the possibility of a huge TV show built around the formal opening, we felt it proper that the President—who knew so many of the correspondents we honor—say something. The request finally reached Mr. Eisenhower in the midst of his cold war with Red China, his hot one with Sen. McCarthy, and a thousand other chores. But he found 15 minutes one day, was given the theme by John Daly, and turned in a memorable job. So did Henry Ford II.

For long weeks it did not seem possible that there could be a show. Then Toots Shor was appealed to. He got Bob Hope . . . and the floodgates of talent swung open. A lot of hardworking people around the Overseas Press Club, spit on their hands and, to quote member Herbert Bayard Swope, fact emerged from fantasy. Among these were Patricia Lockridge Hartwell, Mrs. Cowles, Eileen Lange and some gents.

It was a lot to compress upon your TV screen. You saw it through the broad (or wrong) end of a mighty telescope.

Aged Keyser Man Is Hospitalized

KEYSER—L. O. Mott, resident of South Main Street, who has been a patient in Potomac Valley Hospital for the past several weeks, is reported in serious condition. He was taken to the hospital following a fall in which one leg was injured but not broken, and has been a patient since.

Mr. Mott is getting close to his 91st birthday, is believed to be the oldest man in the city. It has been his custom to walk from his home down town, visit with friends along the way and call on others in places of business. In the past year or year and a half, he has commented on the fact that the "Main Street Hill is becoming steeper," but he continued his daily walks, most times twice in a day.

Card Party Planned

PIEDMONT — A public card party will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at the Italian Lodge Hall, West Hampshire Street. Setback and 500 will be played.

INFLUENCE OF A DOUBLE

WHAT influence will a business double by you have on the play of the hand? That is a question of telling import in many a case. With most players, since the doubling of a voluntarily-bid slam is meant as a lead-director, generally causing the opener to pick the first suit bid by the dummy, it is well to think a few moments about whether or not that may help the declarer. If you decide in the affirmative, it is sound to pass and hope your partner will pick the more hopeful lead.

	♠ None ♥ J 3 2 ♦ A J 4 3 ♣ A J 10 9 5 3
♠ A 6 5 3 ♥ K 10 8 5 ♦ 8 ♣ Q 8 6 2	N W E S	♠ 10 8 7 4 ♥ A Q 7 4 ♦ 10 7 ♣ K 7 4

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♦	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	6 ♦	Dbl.

Did you ever see a man try harder to prevent the lead of a particular suit than North did with his bid and rebid hearts on this tournament deal, thereby taking quite a bit of a chance. It was a calculated risk, however. After South's bid of his second suit, spades, there was slight likelihood that he would support even rebid hearts.

It happened that East, with his double, aided the nefarious plan of the tricky North operative, Jay T. Feigus, one of New York's best, playing with one of his favorite partners, Raymond P. Duggan. West felt that the double compelled a lead of the first suit bid in the dummy, clubs, so he opened the Q. The A took it for a heart discard, the J was covered by the K and ruffed, the diamond K was scored and the 5 was led to the A, the club 10 brought a heart discard and the 9 another.

Since the spade A was where it got trapped by a ruff when it covered the K, clubs disposed of the last two losers, in spades. That gave the declarer all thirteen tricks. Wouldn't you think that would give this pair the North-South top on the deal? It didn't. Why? Because one East-West pair got into the unthinkable sacrifice contract of 7-Spades doubled, which went down a bushel full of tricks.

RIU Asks Action Against Carrier And Brotherhood

Charges Violation Of Bargaining Rights

The Railroad Industrial Union yesterday asked the U. S. District Attorney in Baltimore to institute action against the Western Maryland Railway and the Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen for alleged interference with the rights of the RIU, according to Elmer E. Davis, this city, RIU president.

He said the charges and supporting exhibits were filed by registered mail with U. S. District Attorney George Cochran Doub.

The RIU pointed out that it was designated by the National Mediation Board in 1947, 1949 and 1951 as the bargaining representative for engineers, hostlers and firemen employed by the Western Maryland Railway.

The RIU said that since it was designated as representative of the employes, the carrier has dealt with committees set up by the brotherhood to handle disputes, and has paid penalty claims for additional pay on alleged violation of the RIU-Western Maryland contract.

Charges Coercion

Davis said the RIU position on payment of penalty claims through bargaining with Brotherhood committees is that the carrier " is donating this cash to employes to encourage them to become members of the B. of L. F. and E."

The B. of L. F. and E., the RIU continued, is not trying to organize employes represented by the RIU, as provided in the U. S. Code, but is acting "as Certified Representative in cooperation with management for a minority group of employes."

Davis said the government should authorize proceedings on the charge "if for nothing more to establish a precedent for future guidance" of both management and employe representatives.

Is Fifth Try

Recently, the RIU charged the National Mediation Board with violating the Railway Labor Act in not providing 10 days for an RIU statement of its case against a union representation election on the railway.

Davis said he was informed last week that the B. of L. F. and E. has petitioned the board for an election to determine the bargaining agent for the workers.

Davis said this makes the sixth time that the brotherhood has tried to unseat the RIU as bargaining agent for Western Maryland engine crews.

Overcast Skies, Rain Prevail In District

Overcast skies and rain added up to the weather situation last night in the general area and the weatherman promises more cloudy skies today with moderate temperatures.

Highways of the area were wet and slippery in spots. Route 40 west of Frostburg in Garrett County was icy in spots as a result of rain which was falling last night.

East of here toward Hagerstown the roads were wet but passable. Cindering crews remedied the highway hazard in the mountains.

State Police at Romney, W. Va., said the highways in that sector of the state were wet and icy in spots, especially in the mountains. However no fog was reported along the highways.

Yesterday morning highways in Garrett County were in a slushy state and heavy fog prevailed. The occasional rain and above freezing temperatures in that county was making all the roads slushy.

The official high temperature here yesterday was 41 degrees and the official low 30 degrees. At 8 p. m. the temperature was 41 degrees and some .38 inches of rain fell in the city.

To Send Cookies To Vets

Members of the Gold Star Mothers Club are to bring cookies to the meeting to be held at 7:30 p. m. today at the Legion Home. The cookies will be sent to the VA Center, Martinsburg. A jingle party will also be held.

Mud Hens To Meet

The Queen City Mud Hens will be guests of Mrs. Richard Trevaskis Sr., Baltimore Avenue, for a jingle party at 8 p. m. today. Mrs. Thomas Matlick is co-hostess.

Suppers Cancelled

District 16 Firemen's Auxiliary will not hold the regular supper this month because of the holidays.

SHOPPING DAYS TO CHRISTMAS

Toys For Deserving Children

Part of the 10,000 toys collected in the recent Toys for Tots drive sponsored by the local Marine Corps Reserve unit are shown here as they were readied for distribution to deserving children this week at the drive headquarters, 75 North Centre Street. Several civic organizations and hundreds of individuals pitched in to make the drive an "outstanding success," said Capt. Henry W. Tubbs, inspector-instructor of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, local Marine unit.

Over 10,000 Toys Collected In Drive Conducted Here

Full cooperation of local organizations and individuals during the recent "Toys For Tots" drive conducted here by the Marine Corps Reserve resulted in the collection of over 10,000 toys which will be distributed to deserving children this Christmas.

Capt. Henry W. Tubbs, inspector-instructor of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, USMCR, last night termed this year's campaign an "outstanding success," and pointed out that the "Whole-Hearted cooperation of the people of Cumberland" resulted in collection of the large number of toys.

The toys were repaired by various organizations and placed on display at the workshop, 75 North Centre Street.

This week the playthings are being distributed to parents of underprivileged children, assuring them a happier Christmas.

Capt. Tubbs remarked that each child will receive at least three large toys including bicycles, tricycles and sleds, as well as a number of smaller toys.

The 1954 drive was conducted by the Marine Reserve Company and the Associated Charities along with the following organizations that made major contributions:

Boy Scouts of America; United States Naval Reserve; Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion and Auxiliary; Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW and Auxiliary; Ali Ghan Shrine Wrecking Crew; city firemen; Navy Mothers; City Lay Health Workers; Junior Women's Civic Club; Women's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church.

Six Will Judge Yule Lighting Contest Entries

Six judges have been named for the annual Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce Christmas Home Lighting Contest, Gilbert Bohn, contest committee chairman, announced yesterday.

They are Robert M. King, director of community relations for Celanese; S. Russ Minter, local architect; Mrs. Lucile Roeder, former street commissioner; Robert L. Davis, local business man; Mrs. Samuel Wertheimer, an active amateur artist, and James Weber, representing the South Cumberland Business Men's Club.

Because the contest this year is divided into seven different divisions, no judge will be required to check the entries in more than three divisions. There are four divisions within the city limits, East Side, West Side, South End and North End, another embracing Locust Grove, Narrows Park, LaVale and Allegany Grove, and others for Bowling Green and Potomac Park.

A $25 grand prize is being offered. In addition there will be three prizes in each of the seven divisions.

Entry blanks are available at four stores. They are the LaVale Drug Store, the Sterling Electric Company, the Potomac Edison Company store on Liberty Street and Keech's Drug Store at 43 Virginia Avenue.

Residents of the seven areas included in the contest may enter simply by mailing their names and addresses on post cards to the Jaycee office, Room 514, Liberty Trust Building.

Contract Group To Be Elected

Local 26, Rubber Workers Union of America (CIO), will nominate and elect members of the contract negotiating committee at a membership meeting Saturday at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall.

William G. Rice, president, said the polls will be reopened Monday from noon until 3 p. m. to give workers on other shifts a chance to vote.

To be elected are two members from mechanical and two from production departments at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant. Rice will become the fifth member of the committee.

He said the local will begin contract negotiations on or before January 15. The present pact is due to expire March 1, 1955.

The union's executive board will meet Thursday at 7 p. m.

Woman Seeks Data On Relatives Here

A Sun Valley, Calif., woman has asked the City Health Department for information concerning the death of her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Sampson Arnold, here between 1900 and 1909.

Alberta Arnold, 10437 Lanark Street, Sun Valley, said Mrs. Arnold was the wife of John Arnold and related to the Bowen and Cahill families, and attended the Catholic Church.

She said they had one son, Harry Albert Arnold, who was 13 when his mother died.

Miss Arnold said she would appreciate the names and addresses of any persons who have any records of Elizabeth and John Arnold and her father, Harry Arnold.

Fireman Hurt, Blaze Damages West Side Home

Pipeman William T. Shuck, of West Side, was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital for treatment after he suffered a nail puncture in his right foot.

West Side firemen got a call at 8:05 p. m. and Central's pumper reported to the blaze about five minutes later. The blaze in the two-story frame house was reported to have been started by an overheated stove and chimney in the middle room downstairs.

Firemen ran into difficulty as the fire ate its way into the joists between the first and second floors. Considerable water damage was also caused.

Upole Is Honored For Overcoming Severe Handicap

Amcelle Worker Was Wounded At Anzio

Carl D. Upole, employed by the Amcelle Plant of Celanese Corporation of America, was presented a special certificate of award yesterday by Governor Theodore R. McKeldin for the most outstanding accomplishment in overcoming a physical handicap in Western Maryland.

The award was made at a luncheon at the Lord Baltimore Hotel on the recommendation of the Governor's Committee for the Promotion of the Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

Early in November of this year Upole was the selection of the local committee for this purpose in Allegany County, of which David Kauffman is chairman. The committee's decision was based on recommendations of a job study of handicapped persons made by Francis E. KeKnney, manager of the Department of Employment Security office here.

Upole was then selected for Western Maryland by the Governor's Committee over contestants from Garrett, Washington, Frederick and Carroll counties, thereby becoming one of four Maryland regional winners to be honored.

Upole has been an Amcelle employe since August 1935. He is married and has three children. During World War II, he went on military service leave in April, 1943. As a private with the Third Division, 15th Infantry on Anzio Beach February 3, 1944, he was wounded in the right leg by artillery fire. Several days later it was removed to save his life.

Wears Artificial Limb

At the same time his left foot and ankle had sustained five fractures. These gave Upole trouble for some time, but they have long since knitted "as good as new." He now wears an artificial limb

Post Offices To Be Open On Weekend

The Cumberland Post Office and Station A on Virginia Avenue will be open over the weekend for the convenience of residents who wish to get Christmas packages and letters in the mail.

Thomas F. Conlon, postmaster, yesterday said the two Post Offices will be open from 8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. on Saturday and from noon until 5 p. m. Sunday.

However on Sunday only the parcel post and stamp windows will be open. The money order and register service will not be available.

Parcel post business at the local Post Offices is good, Conlon pointed out, although the mailing of Christmas cards as yet is not up to expectation.

Christmas packages for out-of-state destinations should be mailed immediately. Christmas cards to go out-of-state also should be sent as soon as possible and those with local addresses at least a week before Christmas, Conlon added, in order to insure early delivery.

Residents who are mailing packages are urged to use more care in wrapping them. Poorly wrapped packages complicate the work of postal employes.

County Workers Get Holidays

Two extra holidays were given to all Allegany County workers as a result of yesterday's action by the Board of County Commissioners.

Because both Christmas and New Year's Day fall on Saturdays, when county employes generally work only half a day, the commissioners decided unanimously that they should have both Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve off as well.

Schedules Clinics

The Health Department has scheduled several clinics this week. They include a prenatal clinic today from 9 a. m. to noon in City Hall, child hygiene clinics Thursday at 10 a. m. in Eckhart and Friday at 9 a. m. in Lonaconing, and a chest clinic Friday from 9 a. m. to noon in City Hall.

West Side Flood Wall Inspection Scheduled Today

Next Contract Will Be Advertised Soon

Representatives of the Corps of Army Engineers and the City of Cumberland will inspect the recently completed West Side Flood Wall this afternoon.

Making the tour, which is a preliminary to final inspection, will be Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Army Engineers, with members of his staff, and C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, for the City of Cumberland.

The latest contract let in connection with the $18,000,000 Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection Program, the West Side flood wall was built by the Wright Contracting Company, of Columbus, Ga., at a cost of about $207,000.

Field work on the job, which included the construction of some 780 feet of concrete flood wall extending upstream from the Moose Home was completed on November 20.

When the project is accepted by the government, it will be turned over to the City of Cumberland, as was done with the conduit system designed to carry off surface water work done to date on the swift channel plan for Wills Creek and the Industrial Dam at Riverside Park.

Due Next Month

Officials could provide no information on the date for advertising for the next contract on the flood control project, but it is reliably reported that the work will be advertised sometime in January.

It is also understood that this upcoming contract will call for work to begin at the same time on both the Cumberland and Ridgeley side of the Potomac River.

The delay in advertising for bids will affect the schedule under which the city is acquiring property which must be moved to make way for the levees on the West Side.

City officials said the Corps of Engineers has indicated it will not have to acquire certain Water Street properties until after February 15, and then only to Lehigh Street.

Decisions Asked

Meanwhile, the city has been asked to make decisions in connection with the replacement of the Market and Baltimore Street bridges.

Both bridges are being designed by the J. E. Greiner Company, Baltimore, as single span structures to meet clearances set up by the Corps of Engineers.

The firm advised that if the city proceeds with the construction of the bridge, the work must be done by June, 1956. An alternative method would be to include the construction in the channel contract there, with a delay in construction but a saving of about $4,000 to the city.

The city was also asked to consider several possibilities in connection with the Baltimore Street Bridge. Possibilities are to have the government build abutments—as was done on the Industrial Dam for the Blue Bridge—and for the city to let a contract for the superstructure, to try to get the government to build both abutments and bridge, or to let separate contracts, timed with channel improvements at that point.

Westernport Constable Named Forest Warden

Constable Leonard M. Murphy of Westernport has received additional duties as a forest warden.

A commission signed by Governor Theodore R. McKeldin appointing him a forest warden for two years starting December 10 was received this week in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

S-D Day Observed In Nation Today

Motorists, Pedestrians Being Urged To Eliminate Unnecessary Fatalities

Today, throughout the nation, "S-D Day,"—Safe Driving Day—is being observed in conjunction with an appeal by President Eisenhower to prove that motorists and pedestrians can eliminate traffic accidents by their own actions.

By asking everyone in every state and community to join in a 24-hour demonstration, dramatic and convincing results can be achieved. And it is up to each individual, whether behind the wheel, or a pedestrian, to guarantee a successful endeavor to halt unnecessary fatalities.

Adherence to these basic safety principles should result in an accident or death-free 24 hours:

Observe the letter and the spirit of all traffic regulations.

Be courteous to every driver and pedestrian — practice sportsmanship.

Give full attention to driving and walking. In short: Drive and walk as you would have everyone else drive and walk.

Safe driving and walking pledges were distributed to 450,000 school children throughout Maryland to take home for members of their families to sign.

Armed services, veterans, civic, fraternal, patriots, and similar organizations, as well as fire departments, transit companies, automobile associations and the Maryland Motor Truck Association will be participating in today's campaign in one way or another.

Col. Elmer F. Munshower, superintendent of the Maryland State Police voiced this appeal:

"I am asking every man, woman and child who uses our streets and highways to make an extraordinary effort to walk or drive safely on S-D Day. We want to demonstrate that traffic accidents can be reduced materially if everyone complies voluntarily with the traffic regulations. We hope that we may go entirely free of such accidents."

In commenting on S-D Day, Russell McCain, chairman of the Maryland State Roads Commission pointed out that all must agree with the purpose of Safe Driving Day and that is to save lives and to prevent injuries. No endeavor could be more worthy of our universal cooperation, he added, and none is more urgent.

National Safety Council figures show that more than 1,000 pedestrians literally walked themselves to death during December last year. This month is always the peak month of the year for pedestrian fatalities.

With a little more care, caution and common sense, this fatality list could be lowered or even stamped out.

Lost Blind Dog Finds His Way To Infirmary

A very old brown and white male dog, both deaf and blind, got lost from his North End home for a couple of nights last week but finally managed to make his way to the County Infirmary.

The dog, an ancient 15½ years old, belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Doyle, 718 Shriver Avenue. They have owned him ever since he was a pup and have grown quite fond of him.

When he got away from his usual haunt on the Doyles' back porch last week they inserted a classified advertisement and notified the city's dog catcher of their loss.

A couple of days later the dog catcher got word from the County Infirmary that the blind and deaf dog, still alert despite infirmities, had arrived there. He took the happy old dog back home, still in reasonably good shape despite his ordeal.

Judge Reverses State Board In Benefits Case

Furloughed Worker May Haul Pulp Wood

A furloughed Celanese worker who hauls pulp wood to the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company during his furlough does not lose his rights to unemployment benefits, Chief Judge George Henderson ruled in a 10-page opinion filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

In his opinion and court order Judge Henderson reversed the decision of the Maryland Employment Security Board in the case of William H. Steel of Rawlings.

Steel had worked for the Celanese Corporation for 20 years as a sheet metal helper. He was furloughed January 6, 1954. His last rate of pay was $1.54 an hour.

The furloughed worker owns a truck which he has used the past 14 years in his spare time to haul pulp wood to the Luke mill. He said the job never interfered with his work at Amcelle. During the first three months of 1954 he sold the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company 25½ cords of wood for which he received $336.19. However, the timber was located on the land of James O'Haver so that Steel's share was $102 and O'Haver the rest, $234.19.

"Display Of Initiative"

The claim examiner had denied Steel benefits on the ground he was in the timber hauling business. An appeal was taken and the assistant referee affirmed the claim examiner's ruling. The Maryland Employment Security Board then upheld the assistant referee and then the case was appealed to Circuit Court.

"The claimant contends that since he averaged only $35 monthly from the trucking activities he is entitled to receive from unemployment benefits at least such amount as would make his total receipts equal to the amount he would have received as benefits had he not done any trucking," Judge Henderson wrote.

"It is argued that a display of initiative and an effort to assist himself should not be penalized by a loss of benefits," he added.

The Employment Security Board contends Steel was self-employed and engaged in a business of his own and therefore he was not "unemployed" within the meaning of the statute.

Judge Henderson's opinion discusses one of the ironic points of the act. The act does not specifically cover instances in which a furloughed worker works independently. It does if the same person works for someone else and receives in "wages" less than would have been received as unemployment benefits.

As an example, if O'Haver had hired Steel at so much an hour to cut and deliver O'Haver's timber to the pulp mill and Steel had earned $35 per month, his right to unemployment benefits apparently would not have been questioned by the board.

Three Cases Cited

Attorneys in this case cited three cases for Judge Henderson's study before he decided this question. They were in California, Michigan and New York.

Judge Henderson quotes a statement from the California case which he said seems on the whole to uphold the contention of Steel, the claimant.

" . . . While it was the intention of the legislature to protect the fund created under the act from chiselers, it was not its intention to put a premium on idleness, nor to discourage citizens out of work from making early and earnest attempts to re-establish themselves economically to avoid becoming or continuing to be charges on society."

Judge Henderson states that it is not easy to determine the intent of the Legislature. He says that it does seem to him to be more consistent with the expressed purposes of the law to hold that Steel is not altogether barred by his hauling activities, but that his net receipts from this source should be compared with the benefits otherwise payable, just as in the case of wages, and he should receive the difference.

He concludes his opinion with an observation that the Legislature is about to meet and if his construction seems unfair or too difficult to administer, the act can be clarified by "proper language."

Steel's attorney in the case was Leslie J. Clark.

Labor Unity Group Will Meet Friday

The Labor Unity Conference will meet Friday at 8 p. m. in the Rubber Workers Hall, according to William G. Rice, president.

Plans will be made, he said, to set up a committee to fight attempts to pass a "right to work" bill in the coming General Assembly.

Handicapped?

Carl . pole, a chemical operator at Amcelle Plant of the Celanese Corporation of America, shown here at his regular work of hefting 55-gallon barrels around, was presented an award yesterday by Governor McKeldin for having made the best comeback of any physically handicapped person in Western Maryland to come to the attention of the Governor's Committee to promote Employment of the Physically Handicapped. He lost a leg in World War II.

RIU Asks Action Against Carrier And Brotherhood

Charges Violation Of Bargaining Rights

The Railroad Industrial Union yesterday asked the U. S. District Attorney in Baltimore to institute action against the Western Maryland Railway and the Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen for alleged interference with the rights of the RIU, according to Elmer E. Davis, this city, RIU president.

He said the charges and supporting exhibits were filed by registered mail with U. S. District Attorney George Cochran Doub.

The RIU pointed out that it was designated by the National Mediation Board in 1947, 1949 and 1951 as the bargaining representative for engineers, hostlers and firemen employed by the Western Maryland Railway.

The RIU said that since it was designated as representative of the employes, the carrier has dealt with committees set up by the brotherhood to handle disputes, and has paid penalty claims for additional pay on alleged violation of the RIU-Western Maryland contract.

Charges Coercion

Davis said the RIU position on payment of penalty claims through bargaining with Brotherhood committees is that the carrier " is donating this cash to employes to encourage them to become members of the B. of L. F. and E."

The B. of L. F. and E., the RIU continued, is not trying to organize employes represented by the RIU, as provided in the U. S. Code, but is acting "as Certified Representative in cooperation with management for a minority group of employes."

Davis said the government should authorize proceedings on the charge "if for nothing more to establish a precedent for future guidance" of both management and employe representatives.

Is Fifth Try

Recently, the RIU charged the National Mediation Board with violating the Railway Labor Act in not providing 10 days for an RIU statement of its case against a union representation election on the railway.

Davis said he was informed last week that the B. of L. F. and E. has petitioned the board for an election to determine the bargaining agent for the workers.

Davis said this makes the sixth time that the brotherhood has tried to unseat the RIU as bargaining agent for Western Maryland engine crews.

Overcast Skies, Rain Prevail In District

Overcast skies and rain added up to the weather situation last night in the general area and the weatherman promises more cloudy skies today with moderate temperatures.

Highways of the area were wet and slippery in spots. Route 40 west of Frostburg in Garrett County was icy in spots as a result of rain which was falling last night.

East of here toward Hagerstown the roads were wet but passable. Cindering crews remedied the highway hazard in the mountains.

State Police at Romney, W. Va., said the highways in that sector of the state were wet and icy in spots, especially in the mountains. However no fog was reported along the highways.

Yesterday morning highways in Garrett County were in a slushy state and heavy fog prevailed. The occasional rain and above freezing temperatures in that county was making all the roads slushy.

Here in Cumberland last night the mercury stood at 46 degrees and the mercury was expected to take a dip to the freezing point.

The official high temperature here yesterday was 41 degrees and the official low 30 degrees. At 8 p. m. the temperature was 41 degrees and some .38 inches of rain fell in the city.

Mud Hens To Meet

The Queen City Mud Hens will be guests of Mrs. Richard Trevaskis Sr., Baltimore Avenue, for a jingle party at 8 p. m. today. Mrs. Thomas Matlick is co-hostess.

Suppers Cancelled

District 16 Firemen's Auxiliary will not hold the regular supper this month because of the holidays.

SHOPPING DAYS TO CHRISTMAS

Toys For Deserving Children

Part of the 10,000 toys collected in the recent Toys for Tots drive sponsored by the local Marine Corps Reserve unit are shown here as they were readied for distribution to deserving children this week at the drive headquarters, 75 North Centre Street. Several civic organizations and hundreds of individuals pitched in to make the drive an "outstanding success," said Capt. Henry W. Tubbs, inspector-instructor of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, local Marine unit.

Over 10,000 Toys Collected In Drive Conducted Here

Full cooperation of local organizations and individuals during the recent "Toys For Tots" drive conducted here by the Marine Corps Reserve resulted in the collection of over 10,000 toys which will be distributed to deserving children this Christmas.

Capt. Henry W. Tubbs, inspector-instructor of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, USMCR, last night termed this year's campaign an "outstanding success," and pointed out that the "Whole-Hearted cooperation of the people of Cumberland" resulted in collection of the large number of toys.

The toys were repaired by various organizations and placed on display at the workshop, 75 North Centre Street.

This week the playthings are being distributed to parents of underprivileged children, assuring them a happier Christmas.

Capt. Tubbs remarked that each child will receive at least three large toys including bicycles, tricycles and sleds, as well as a number of smaller toys.

The 1954 drive was conducted by the Marine Reserve Company and the Associated Charities along with the following organizations that made major contributions:

Boy Scouts of America; United States Naval Reserve; Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion and Auxiliary; Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW and Auxiliary; Ali Ghan Shrine Wrecking Crew; city firemen; Navy Mothers; City Lay Health Workers; Junior Women's Civic Club; Women's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church.

Six Will Judge Yule Lighting Contest Entries

Six judges have been named for the annual Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce Christmas Home Lighting Contest, Gilbert Bohn, contest committee chairman, announced yesterday.

They are Robert M. King, director of community relations for Celanese; S. Russ Minter, local architect; Mrs. Lucile Roeder, former street commissioner; Robert L. Davis, local business man; Mrs. Samuel Wertheimer, an active amateur artist, and James Weber, representing the South Cumberland Business Men's Club.

Because the contest this year is divided into seven different divisions, no judge will be required to check the entries in more than three divisions. There are four divisions within the city limits, East Side, West Side, South End and North End, another embracing Locust Grove, Narrows Park, LaVale and Allegany Grove, and others for Bowling Green and Potomac Park.

A $25 grand prize is being offered. In addition there will be three prizes in each of the seven divisions.

Entry blanks are available at four stores. They are the LaVale Drug Store, the Sterling Electric Company, the Potomac Edison Company store on Liberty Street and Keech's Drug Store at 43 Virginia Avenue.

Residents of the seven areas included in the contest may enter simply by mailing their names and addresses on post cards to the Jaycee office, Room 514, Liberty Trust Building.

Contract Group To Be Elected

Local 26, Rubber Workers Union of America (CIO), will nominate and elect members of the contract negotiating committee at a membership meeting Saturday at 7:30 p. m. in the union hall.

William G. Rice, president, said the polls will be reopened Monday from noon until 3 p. m. to give workers on other shifts a chance to vote.

To be elected are two members from mechanical and two from production departments at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant. Rice will become the fifth member of the committee.

He said the local will begin contract negotiations on or before January 15. The present pact is due to expire March 1, 1955.

The union's executive board will meet Thursday at 7 p. m.

Woman Seeks Data On Relatives Here

A Sun Valley, Calif., woman has asked the City Health Department for information concerning the death of her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Sampson Arnold, here between 1900 and 1909.

Alberta Arnold, 10437 Lanark Street, Sun Valley, said Mrs. Arnold was the wife of John Arnold and related to the Bowen and Cahill families, and attended the Catholic Church.

She said they had one son, Harry Albert Arnold, who was 13 when his mother died.

Miss Arnold said she would appreciate the names and addresses of any persons who have any records of Elizabeth and John Arnold and her father, Harry Arnold.

Fireman Hurt, Blaze Damages West Side Home

A city fireman sustained a foot injury last night in a two-alarm blaze which did considerable damage to the residence occupied by John Balles, 118 South Lee Street.

Pipeman William T. Shuck, of West Side, was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital for treatment after he suffered a nail puncture in his right foot.

West Side firemen got a call at 8:05 p. m. and Central's pumper reported to the blaze about five minutes later. The blaze in the two-story frame house was reported to have been started by an overheated stove and chimney in the middle room downstairs.

Firemen ran into difficulty as the fire ate its way into the joists between the first and second floors. Considerable water damage was also caused.

The owner of the double house, Jack Griffin, 516 Louisiana Avenue, told firemen the building was covered by insurance.

Upole Is Honored For Overcoming Severe Handicap

Amcelle Worker Was Wounded At Anzio

Carl D. Upole, employed by the Amcelle Plant of Celanese Corporation of America, was presented a special certificate of award yesterday by Governor Theodore R. McKeldin for the most outstanding accomplishment in overcoming a physical handicap in Western Maryland.

The award was made at a luncheon at the Lord Baltimore Hotel on the recommendation of the Governor's Committee for the Promotion of the Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

Early in November of this year Upole was the selection of the local committee for this purpose in Allegany County, of which David Kauffman is chairman. The committee's decision was based on recommendations of a job study of handicapped persons made by Francis E. KeKnney, manager of the Department of Employment Security office here.

Upole was then selected for Western Maryland by the Governor's Committee over contestants from Garrett, Washington, Frederick and Carroll counties, thereby becoming one of four Maryland regional winners to be honored.

Upole has been an Amcelle employe since August 1935. He is married and has three children. During World War II, he went on military service leave in April, 1943. As a private with the Third Division, 15th Infantry on Anzio Beach February 3, 1944, he was wounded in the right leg by artillery fire. Several days later it was removed to save his life.

Wears Artificial Limb

At the same time his left foot and ankle had sustained five fractures. These gave Upole trouble for some time, but they have long since knitted "as good as new." He now wears an artificial limb

In commenting on S-D Day, Russell McCain, chairman of the Maryland State Roads Commission pointed out that all must agree with the purpose of Safe Driving Day and that is to save lives and to prevent injuries. No endeavor could be more worthy of our universal cooperation, he added, and none is more urgent.

National Safety Council figures show that more than 1,000 pedestrians literally walked themselves to death during December last year. This month is always the peak month of the year for pedestrian fatalities.

With a little more care, caution and common sense, this fatality list could be lowered or even stamped out.

Judge Reverses State Board In Benefits Case

Furloughed Worker May Haul Pulp Wood

A furloughed Celanese worker who hauls pulp wood to the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company during his furlough does not lose his rights to unemployment benefits, Chief Judge George Henderson ruled in a 10-page opinion filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

In his opinion and court order Judge Henderson reversed the decision of the Maryland Employment Security Board in the case of William H. Steel of Rawlings.

Steel had worked for the Celanese Corporation for 20 years as a sheet metal helper. He was furloughed January 6, 1954. His last rate of pay was $1.54 an hour.

The furloughed worker owns a truck which he has used the past 14 years in his spare time to haul pulp wood to the Luke mill. He said the job never interfered with his work at Amcelle. During the first three months of 1954 he sold the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company 25½ cords of wood for which he received $336.19. However, the timber was located on the land of James O'Haver so that Steel's share was $102 and O'Haver the rest, $234.19.

"Display Of Initiative"

The claim examiner had denied Steel benefits on the ground he was in the timber hauling business. An appeal was taken and the assistant referee affirmed the claim examiner's ruling. The Maryland Employment Security Board then upheld the assistant referee and then the case was appealed to Circuit Court.

"The claimant contends that since he averaged only $35 monthly from the trucking activities he is entitled to receive from unemployment benefits at least such amount as would make his total receipts equal to the amount he would have received as benefits had he not done any trucking," Judge Henderson wrote.

"It is argued that a display of initiative and an effort to assist himself should not be penalized by a loss of benefits," he added.

The Employment Security Board contends Steel was self-employed and engaged in a business of his own and therefore he was not "unemployed" within the meaning of the statute.

Judge Henderson's opinion discusses one of the ironic points of the act. The act does not specifically cover instances in which a furloughed worker works independently. It does if the same person works for someone else and receives in "wages" less than would have been received as unemployment benefits.

As an example, if O'Haver had hired Steel at so much an hour to cut and deliver O'Haver's timber to the pulp mill and Steel had earned $35 per month, his right to unemployment benefits apparently would not have been questioned by the board.

Three Cases Cited

Attorneys in this case cited three cases for Judge Henderson's study before he decided this question. They were in California, Michigan and New York.

Judge Henderson quotes a statement from the California case which he said seems on the whole to uphold the contention of Steel, the claimant.

" . . . While it was the intention of the legislature to protect the fund created under the act from chiselers, it was not its intention to put a premium on idleness, nor to discourage citizens out of work from making early and earnest attempts to re-establish themselves economically to avoid becoming or continuing to be charges on society."

Judge Henderson states that it is not easy to determine the intent of the Legislature. He says that it does seem to him to be more consistent with the expressed purposes of the law to hold that Steel is not altogether barred by his hauling activities, but that his net receipts from this source should be compared with the benefits otherwise payable, just as in the case of wages, and he should receive the difference.

He concludes his opinion with an observation that the Legislature is about to meet and if his construction seems unfair or too difficult to administer, the act can be clarified by "proper language."

Steel's attorney in the case was Leslie J. Clark.

Labor Unity Group Will Meet Friday

The Labor Unity Conference will meet Friday at 8 p. m. in the Rubber Workers Hall, according to William G. Rice, president.

Plans will be made, he said, to set up a committee to fight attempts to pass a "right to work" bill in the coming General Assembly.
